FACE OF THE CAMPUS

Vibrantly awakening to greet a throng of 2850 students, our campus began to pulse with activity at extremely early hours. Arrival was achieved by private cars, buses, hondas, bicycles, and on foot. Last minute study, zero-hour classes, club meetings, re-admits, or pondering the agenda for the day occupied time before the first bell rang.

And again we came

Immediately the ceaseless activity began

FACE OF ACTIVITY

Superbly maneuvering in and out of locker rooms, through doors, over puddles and dripping roofs, past vice-principal offices and into rest rooms, the majority of students managed to arrive on time at 7 classes during the day, while teachers tried to follow a somewhat strict class schedule.

Library and quad provide a change of pace

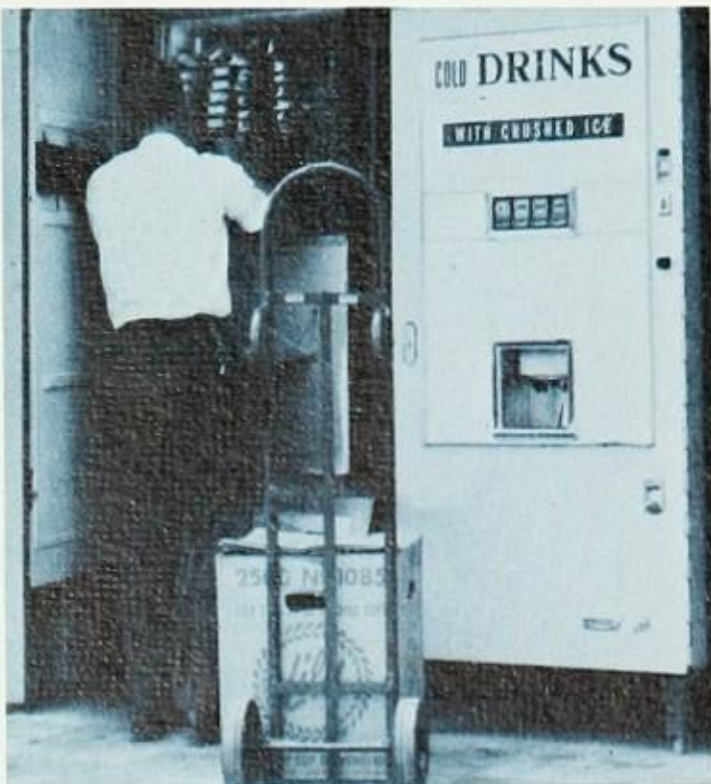

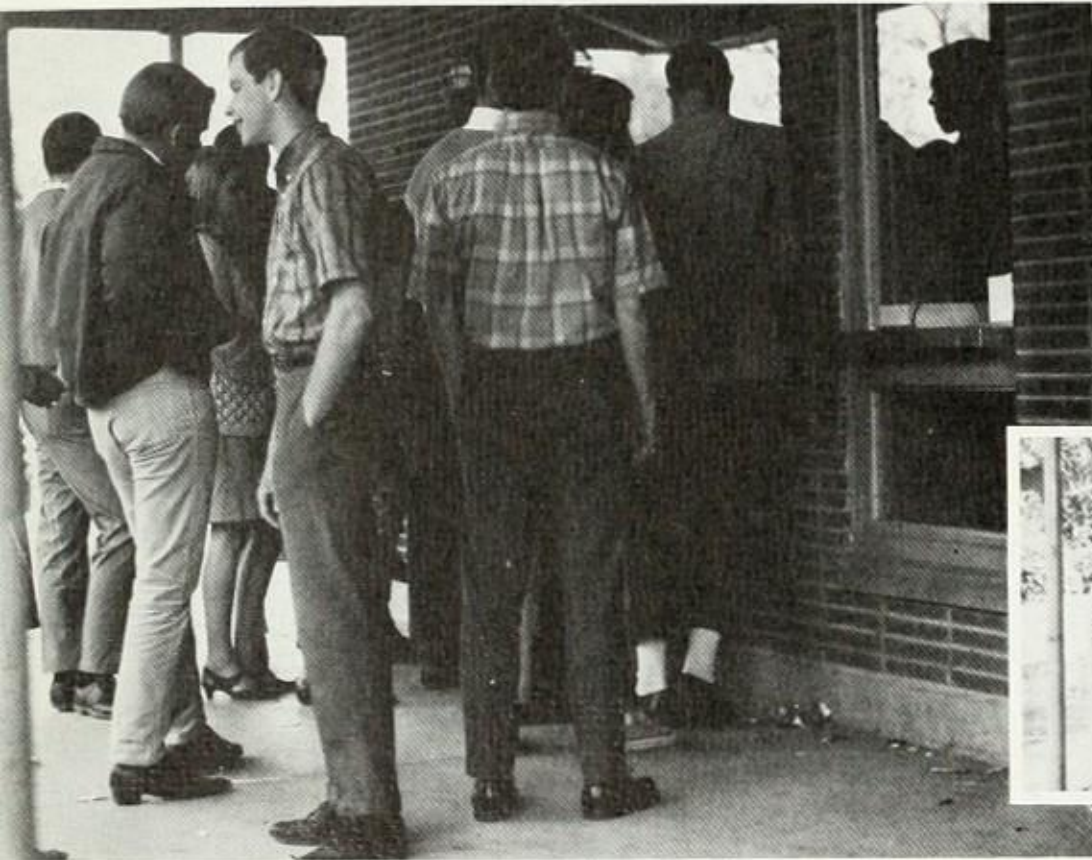

FACE OF RESPITE

Providing an interruption in the pace, lunch hour brought relaxation for some, while others never noticed the pause. As food lines lengthened, movies began to roll, car engines hummed, rehearsals dragged, homework was begun, club meetings convened, and counselors were seen.

FACE OF REPOSE

Pulsing still with intensity, the activity of Pacific managed to slow down at 3:00 to a quiet earnestness of relaxation, thought or additional study. The atmosphere ranged from quiet discussions, private meditation, and empty hallways to cheers, drill commands, and horns, signifying release.

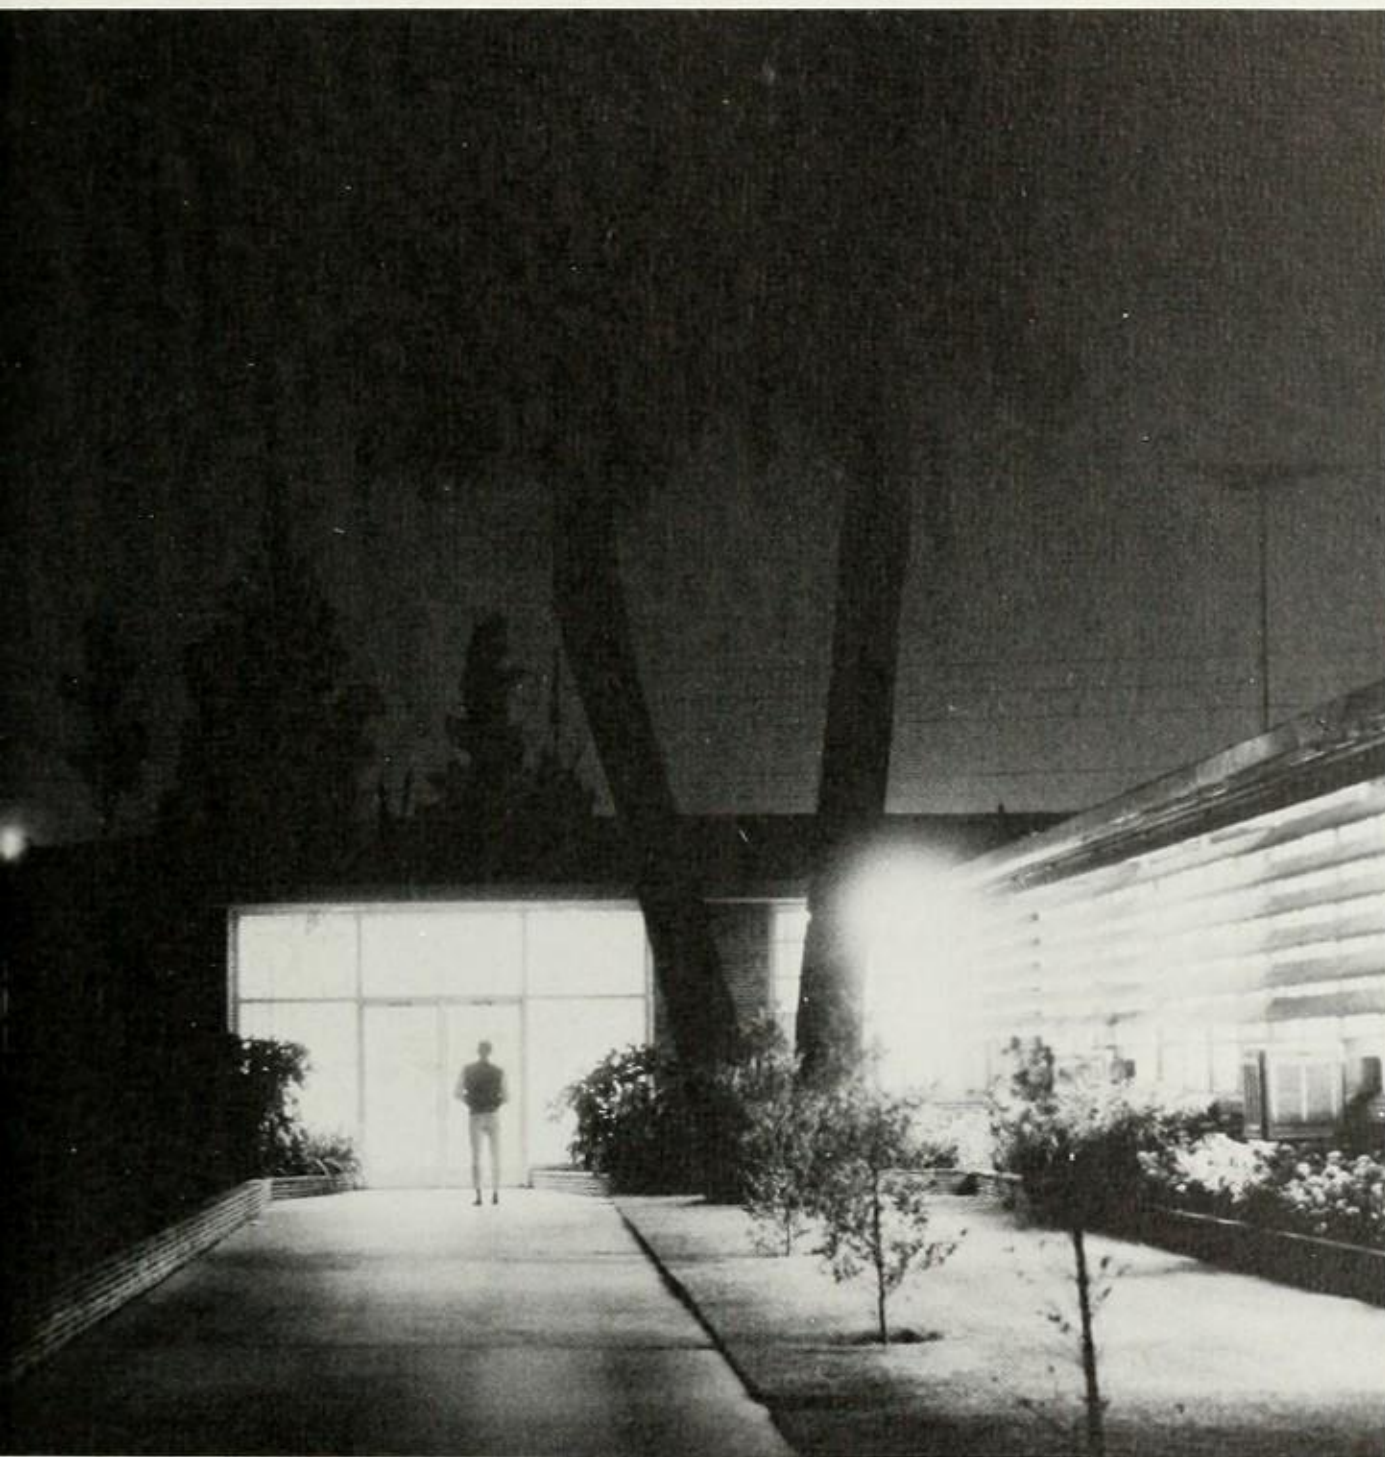

THE FACE OF TWILIGHT

As dusk settled over Pacific each night, the vista of the campus acquired an aura of solemnity and peaceful grandeur. Lengthening shadows depicted quietly the simplicity of the buildings, which provided framework for the complex action of the next day and future.

Dr. Kenneth P. Bailey

Principal

Leading Pacific for its thirteenth year, Dr. Bailey upheld his familiar words, "Get on the stick!" During his school years Dr. Bailey set an excellent example for all students as the recipient of the first Ph.D. from U.C.L.A. He received the Best American History Novel Award in 1949 for The Ohio Company of Virginia and the Westward Movement and had six other books published, including one of Pacific's textbooks. During his twenty-eight years in education he has been a member of the State Curriculum Commission, past president of Kiwanis, General Chairman of the Arrowhead United Fund, a History Panel member for the Office of Education in Washington, D.C., and a member of the Uptown Y.M.C.A. Dr. Bailey also succeeded in athletics, lettering in football, baseball, boxing, wrestling, and rugby.

"Pacific offers something special for each and every student if he or she will aim for a full life."

Kenneth P. Bailey

James Brickley

Vice-Principal

Directing student activities, including student council, assemblies, rallies, and promotional activities, filled every minute of the '65-'66 school year for the first vice-principal, Jim Brickley, who has held that position for six years.

"For scholarship, athletics, citizenship, and enthusiasm this has been a year that will long be remembered at Pacific."

James L. Brickley

George Stancer

Vice-Principal

Guiding the students as Director of Athletics by organizing all aspects of intramural sports was the job of George Stancer, second vice-principal and an instructor for thirty-two years.

"The outstanding caliber of our athletes this year has won wide-spread recognition for Pacific High School — Congratulations to our teams and coaches for a successful year!"

FACULTY FOOLIES

Entertainment was the essence of last year's Faculty Foolies. Produced by Jack McCullough, the acts spanned the time from the Round Table to the present. Dr. Bailey played the duke in the main act the "Fatal Quest" in which Miss Zanders portrayed the lovely princess with whom Dr. Bailey fell in love. The Princess' parents were King Havemann and Queen Wiles. Other acts included "A Day in Court", "Who's on First", and "Radio Jumble" which is what you hear when you push a button on your radio. The Pacific Dancers presented folk dances while the Faculty Quartet sang to the accompaniment of the dance band for a great show.

Who said vaudeville was dead?

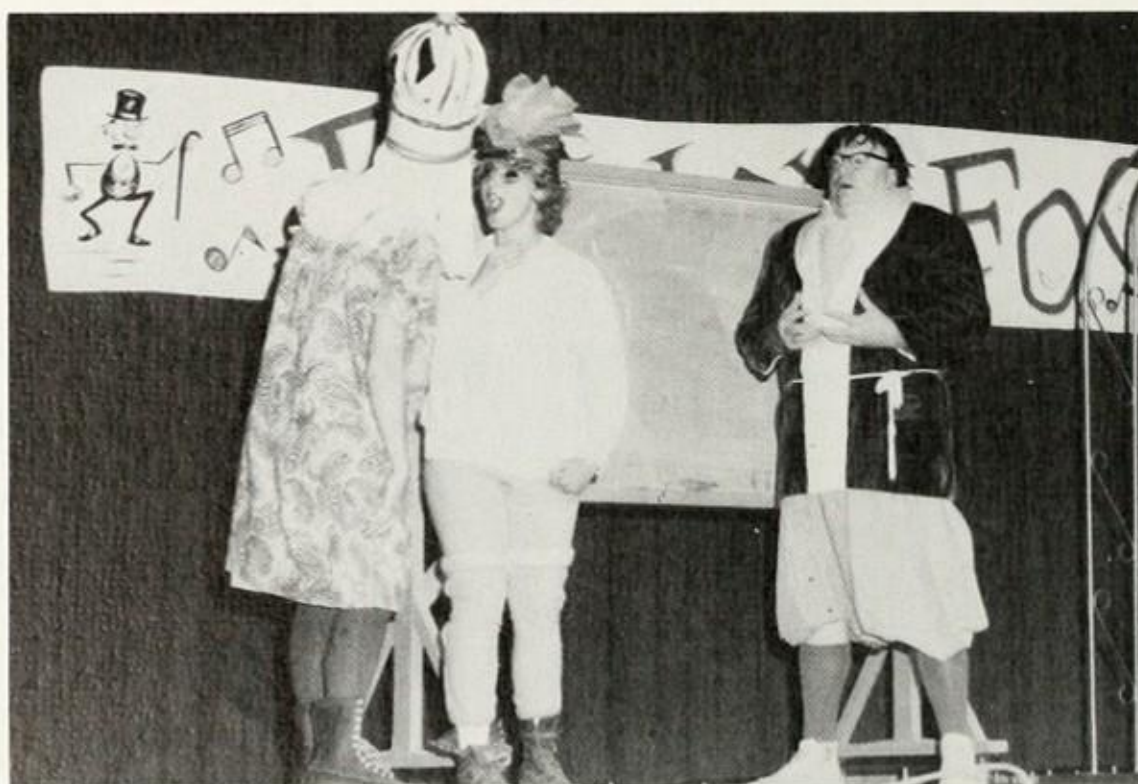

(1) Mrs. Peterson was soaked by mistake, while her hubby Mr. Morrison escaped wrath of Judge Tesla.

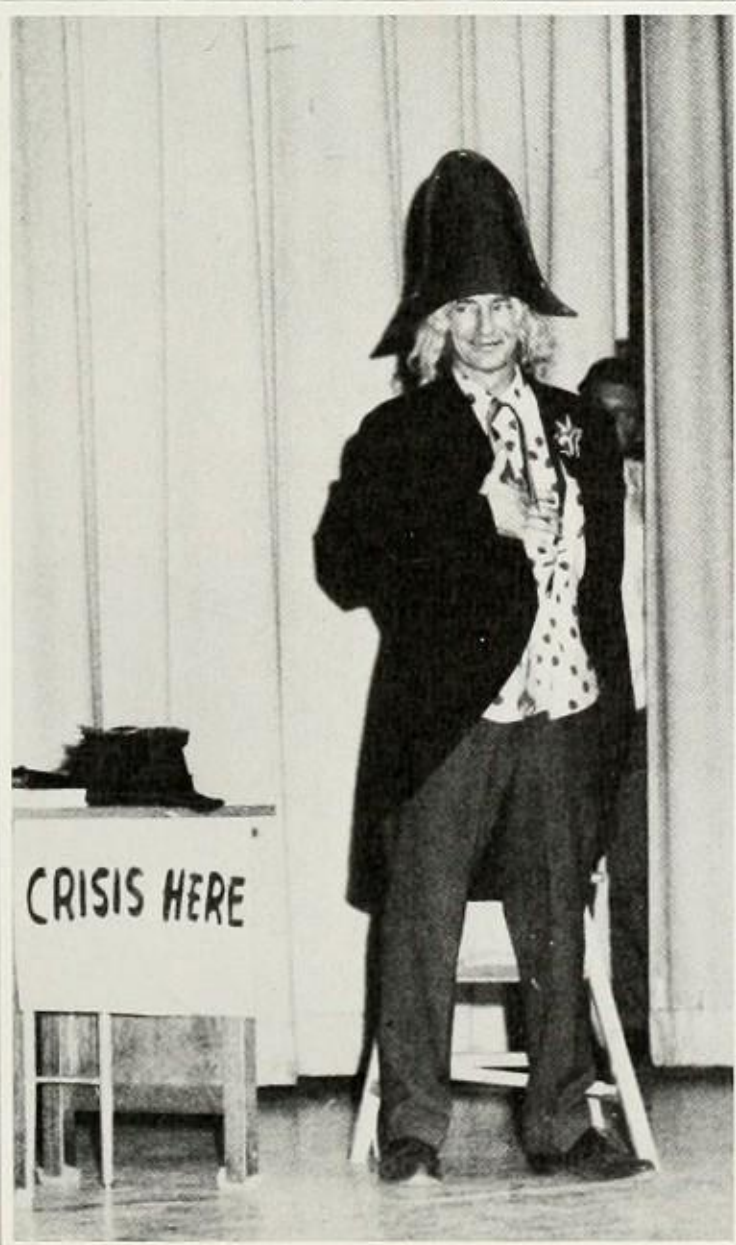

(2) Cowpoke Fotia censored discouraging word that Lone Stranger Green whispered behind the cactus.

(3) Duke Bailey anxiously awaited the answer to his proposal from Queen Wiles and Princess Zanders.

(Right 1) Mr. Robert Havemann jumped for joy when he found out he was elected "King for a Day."

Basketball?

Playing overtime, the teachers finally made the extra basket needed to win the second annual donkey basketball game on February 9. "B" cheerleaders and poms, the official pep squad, received competition from Miss Hempstead, who led the bench in pro-faculty chants. The faculty team, comprised of Mr. Beck, Mr. Jones, Mr. Page, Mr. Wheeler, Mr. Taylor, Dr. Bailey, Mr. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Roberts, and Mrs. Reynolds, was led to victory by the scoring ability of Mr. Page and Mr. Beck. Contrary to popular student opinion, the teachers won "fair and square," proving to the students that it takes more than a college degree to make a Pacific teacher.

FACULTY HABITATS

Throughout the regular routine of the day, checking in was the first faculty procedure. The information boxes, centers of communication for the teachers, were visited each morning by all faculty members. The workroom proved to be the most enjoyable and relaxing area on the campus due to its isolation from the students. To prevent invasion on the "inner sanctum", great security measures were taken. Ravenous appetites kept the teachers' cafeteria a well-populated room during the lunch hours. Always enjoyed by the staff were the extra-curricular activities such as the annual Christmas party held in the library. The faculty parties were always successful after a hectic school day. Another faculty privilege was the private parking lot which alleviated getting caught in the student traffic jams and brought a speedy departure after an industrious day.

FACULTY FEED

Teachers spend an enjoyable evening with Sobobans

Confronting her favorite teacher Mrs. Eisenhart with a gaily decorated invitation was the task of Beverly Van Auken, as she prepared for the annual Faculty Feed. Converting the Tomahawk Room at Valley College into a brilliantly colored carousel in accordance with the theme of the evening, "Carnival of Activities", Sobobans honored Mr. Fotia as their guest. Contributing their talents to the play and the presentation to Mr. Fotia were Jill Samuels and Karen Britt.

APPLIED ARTS

Arts stressed creative imagination

Highlighting individual talents, the Applied Arts Department provided classes for students whose interests ranged from sewing and photography to painting and beginning instruments. The art classes encouraged students to develop their abilities in all phases of design and illustration. Art Production, a vital course, performed many worthwhile services for the school clubs and functions. Stage craft designed and constructed the stage props and scenery for the plays presented by the drama department. In Homemaking, the girls practiced and perfected their cooking and sewing skills. Pacific's music department participated in many assemblies and rallies, stimulating vigor and enthusiasm from the student body. The band and orchestra received high recognition while performing at city and state competitions.

R.: Scheming against the master designers, Karen Stewart, Patti Peck, and Linda Bass carefully coalesced their dresses.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Sounds of talent echoed at many music festivals

Grueling hours of preparation by the students and faculty of Pacific's music department paid off as many high honors were bestowed upon them. Throughout the year, the musically inclined were active in numerous programs performed here and at other functions in the surrounding area. Among their presentations was the annual Christmas assembly, which featured the orchestra, choir, and the chorus, under the direction of Mr. Harbaugh and Mr. McCollough. The marching band, representing Pacific at band festivals, vocal ensemble and dance band, playing for various charity organizations, and the wind and string ensembles composed a vital part of this division.

SOCIAL SCIENCES

Displaying his varied coin collection, Mr. B. Berk expounded on aspects of numismatics to the Saturday History Class.

Challenged, the girls strove to prove their superiority over the boys in a cooking contest sponsored by Mr. Robert Letro.

Diversified courses trained students to meet their future goals.

Offering chances for a more varied schedule, the auditorium allowed history classes to view films, and have guest speakers and combined class lectures. Top students desiring to broaden their knowledge of the present day attended Saturday sessions. Seniors had their choice of Latin American history, psychology, sociology, and geography as their electives. Latin American history students studied the ancient and current events of our ever changing neighbors. Through lectures, psychology students endeavored to understand human behavior, while sociology students delved into man's attitude toward himself and others.

Brain surgery methods were explained to psychology class by Miss Lawrence with the aid of Bob Haberkorn and Rick Minamyer.

ECONOMICS

With his jokes as sick as the world economic situation of last year, Mr. Roberts gave his class a bird's eye view of the problems which beset many nations. Using various everyday classroom articles such as the wastebasket, he was able to illustrate his basic points of lecture.

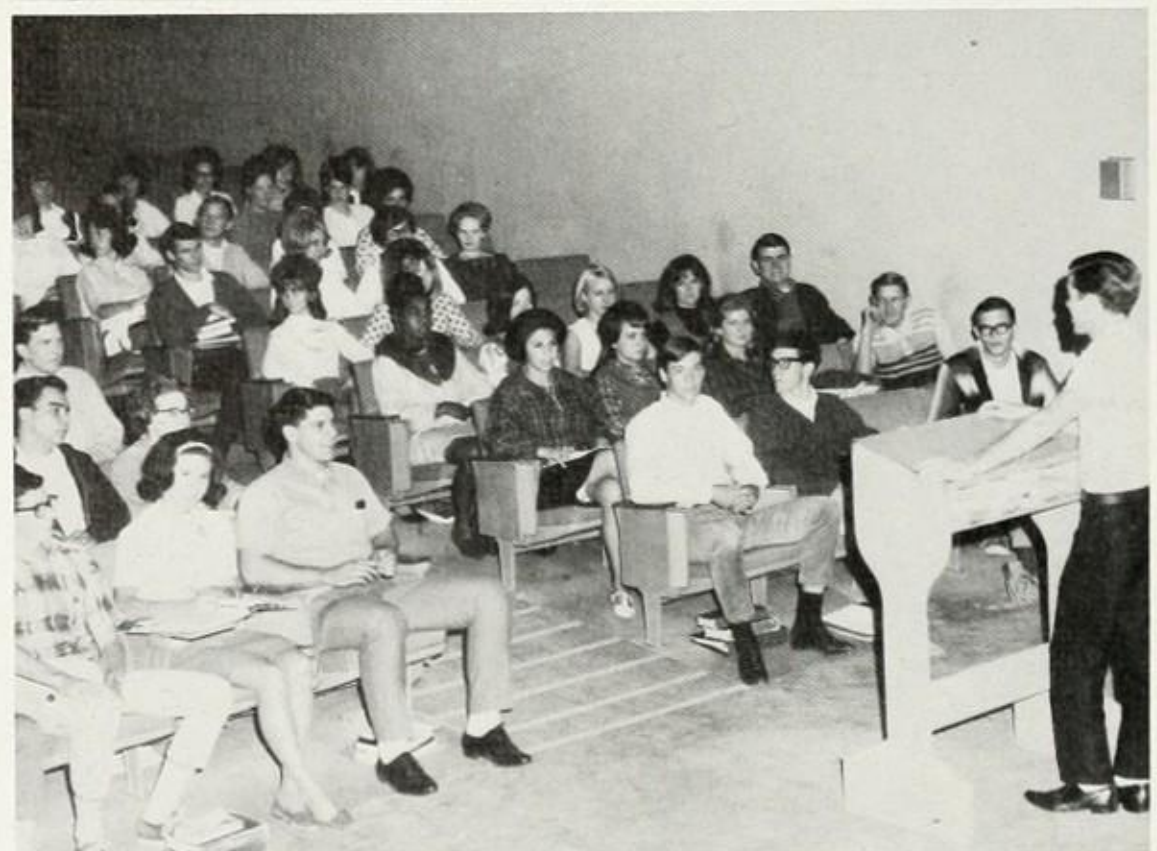

DRIVER ED.

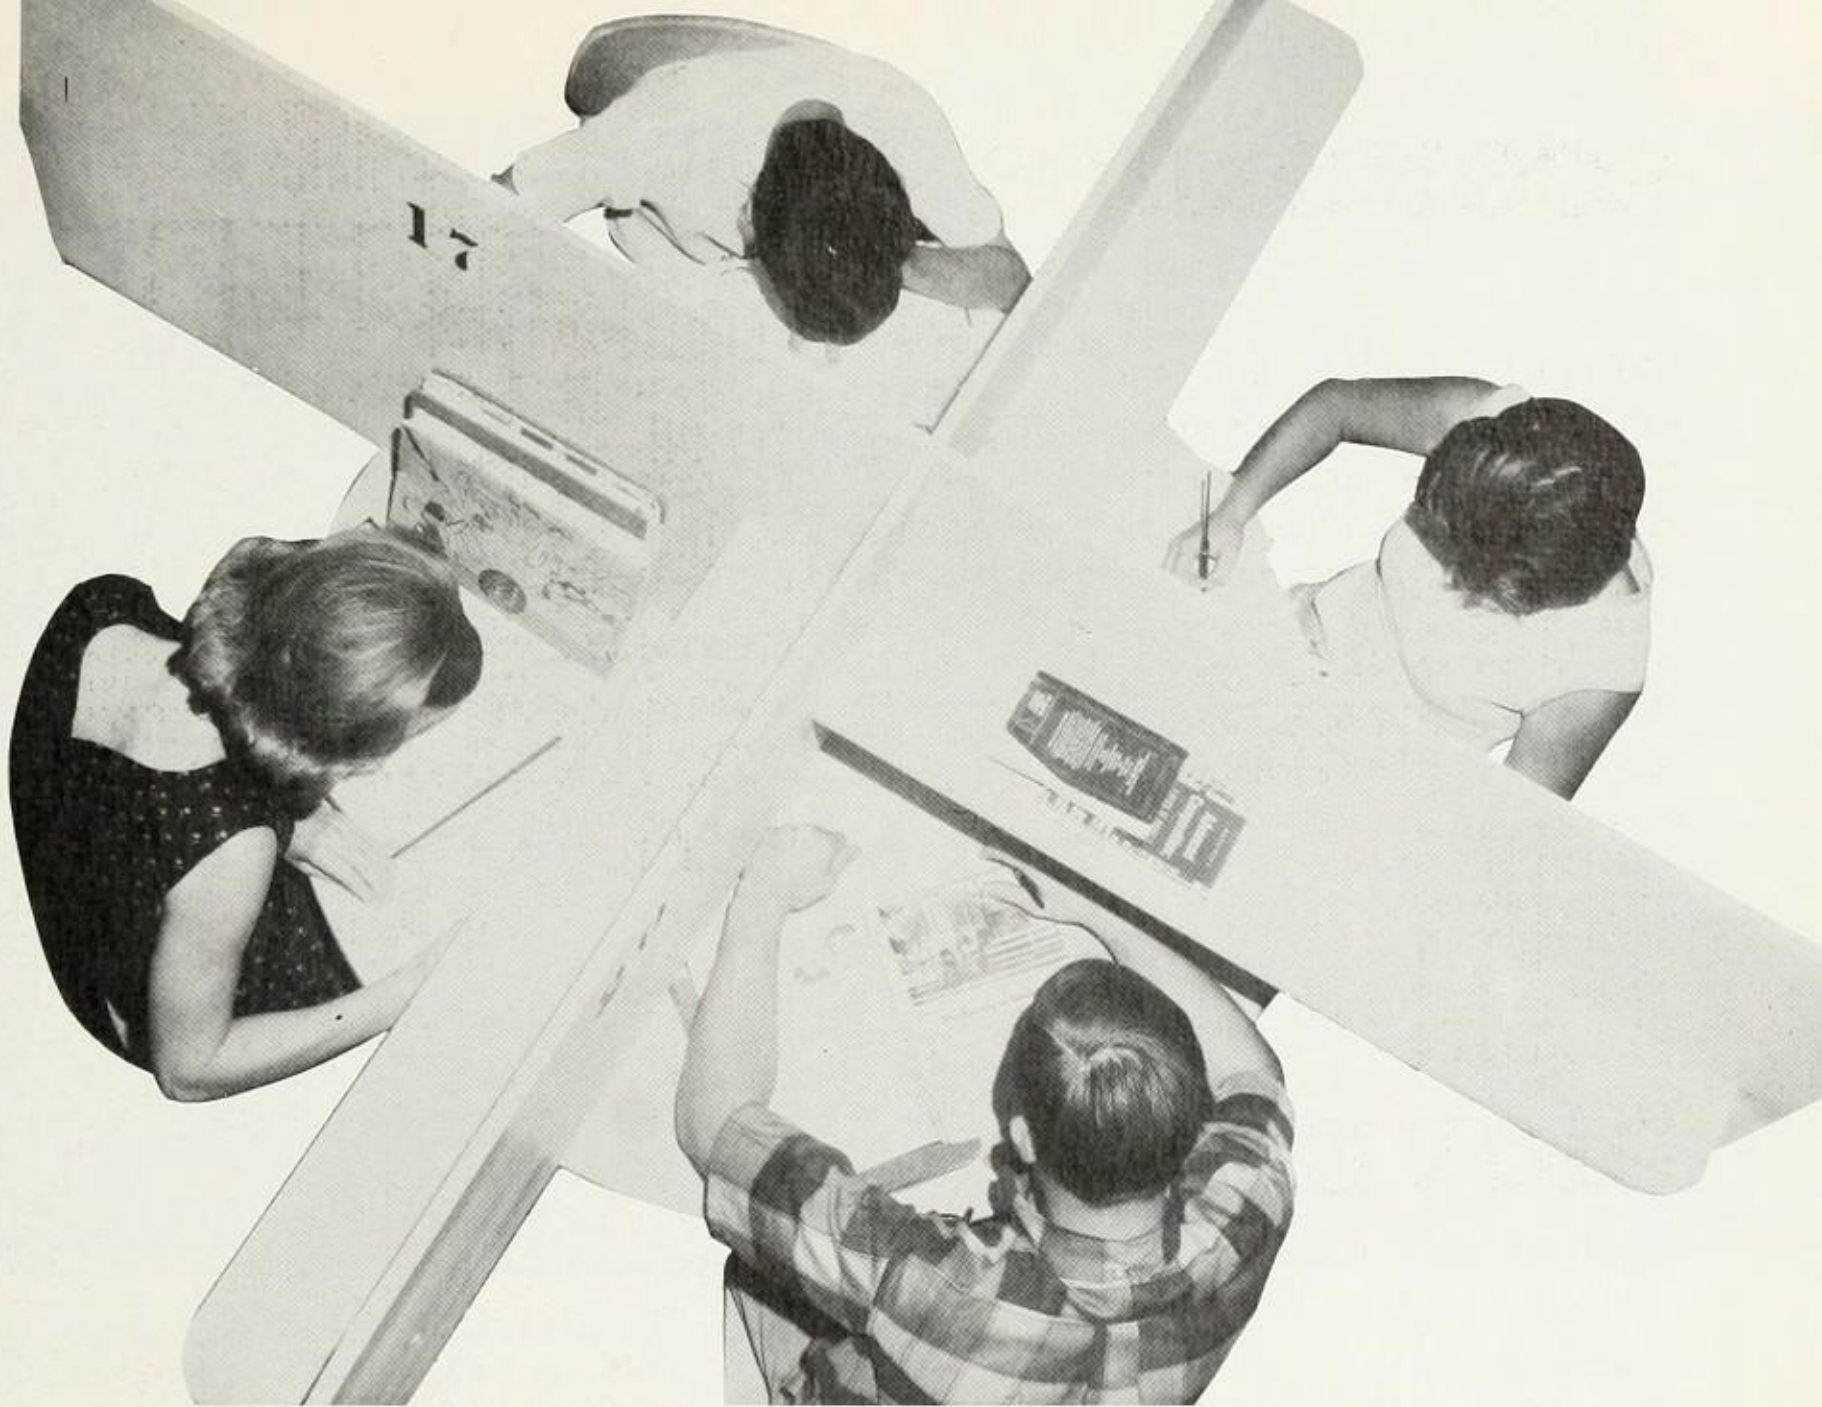

Counting cars became a favorite pastime of Driver's Ed. students when they began their hourly vigils at traffic intersections.

PROBLEMS

Presiding over the mock House of Representatives, Speaker of the House Dennis Hamel supervised the bills presented before the assembly and referred them to committees for further investigations. Elected to aid him were majority and minority leaders Bob Haberkorn and Glenn Switzer.

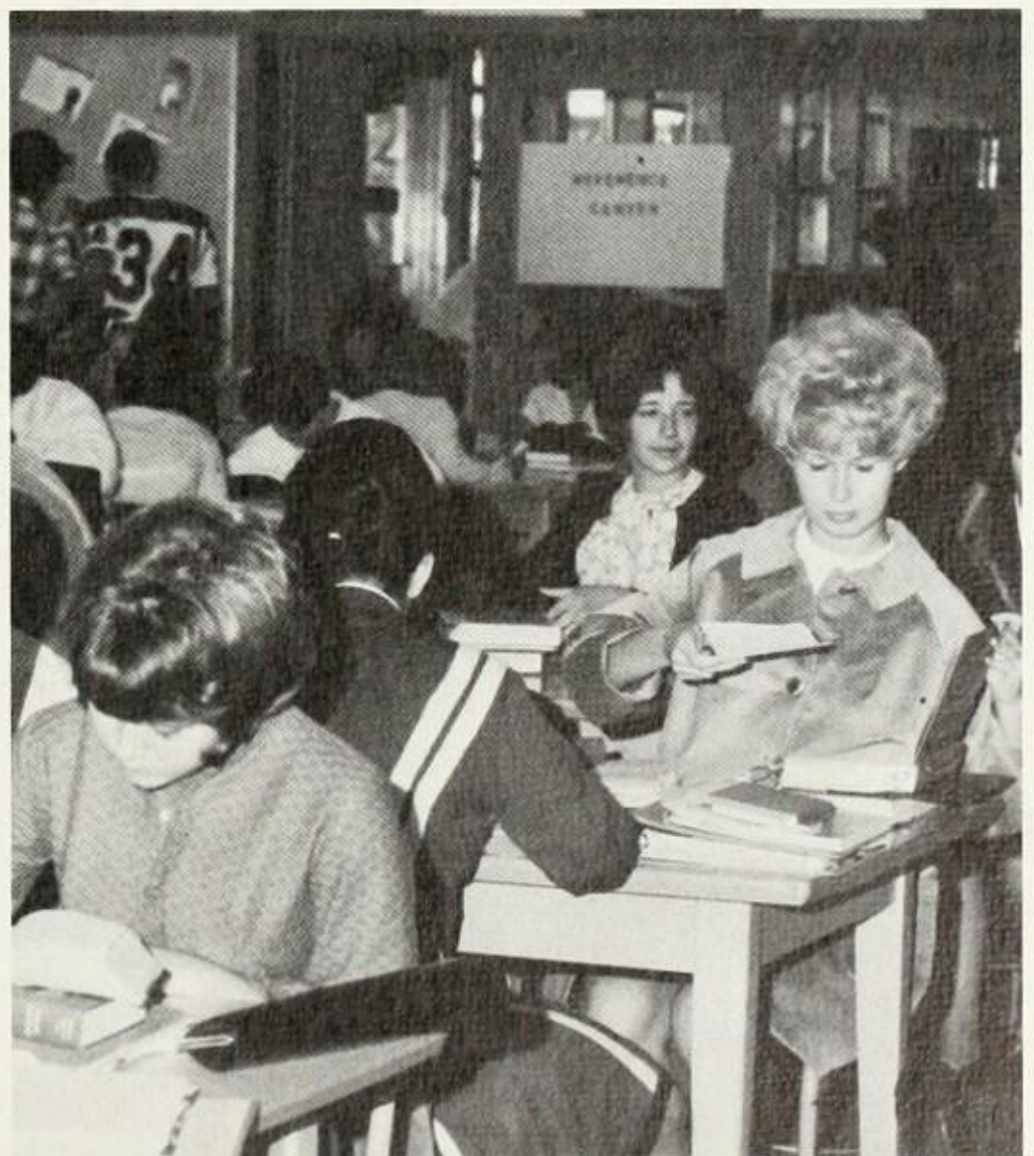

LIBRARY

The busiest corner of the Pirates' campus

Expanding their facilities to meet the demands of the students, Pacific's Library proudly opened the doors of the new reference room. Here careful study could be undertaken away from the hustle and bustle of the boisterous students before and after school. With the addition of 1,000 new books, the library now gives Pirates an access to approximately 38,000 books and 3,000 periodicals. Along with the new reference center, microfilm and dated magazines allowed researchers to delve deeply into their selected topics and themes. Paperbacks were also sold to those wishing to enlarge their home libraries.

RUSSIA

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

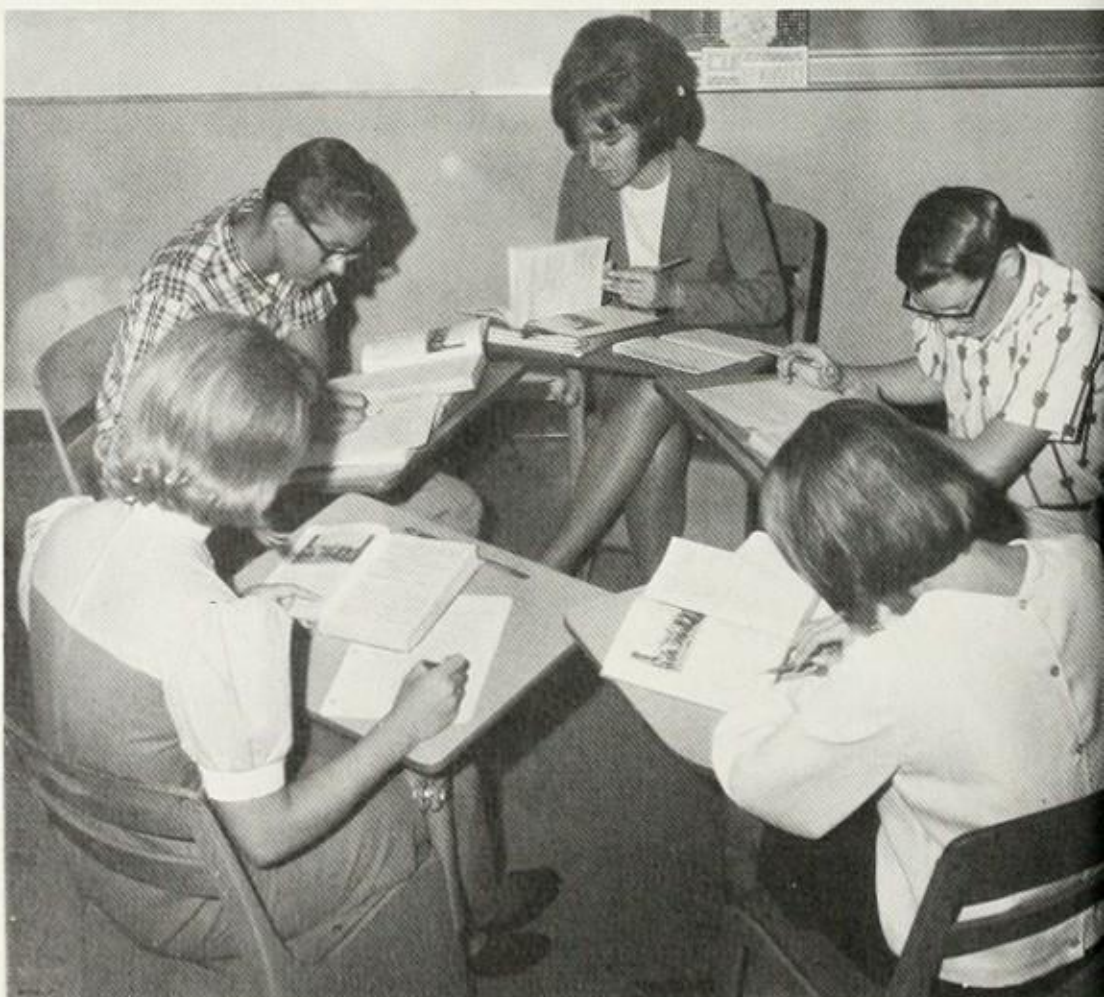

Scenes of traditional villainy were portrayed by the French students as they presented their annual play at the forum.

Foreign flair integrated campus life and its curriculum.

Ardent foreign language students were introduced to many exciting methods of education. Testing everyone's vocal talents, Senor Gonzales led the Spanish classes in bi-monthly singing sessions, teaching classical and humorous songs. Use of the flannel board, dialogues, and culture studies aided French and German enthusiasts in ensuing their linguistic abilities, while Latin scholars enjoyed small discussion groups in which they communally completed their assignments. Diligently studying, Russian students attempted to learn more of the Iron Curtain dialect and manner of living.

Students of Latin are shown in one of many buzz groups in which they worked throughout the year on their assignments.

Coming to the aid of Hedi Richter, Ron Gilliland, Pat Imsand, Terri Ransdell, Vicki Stripling, and Pat

Landon selected language books which would be used for further study in their respective languages.

German classes used travel books to study daily.

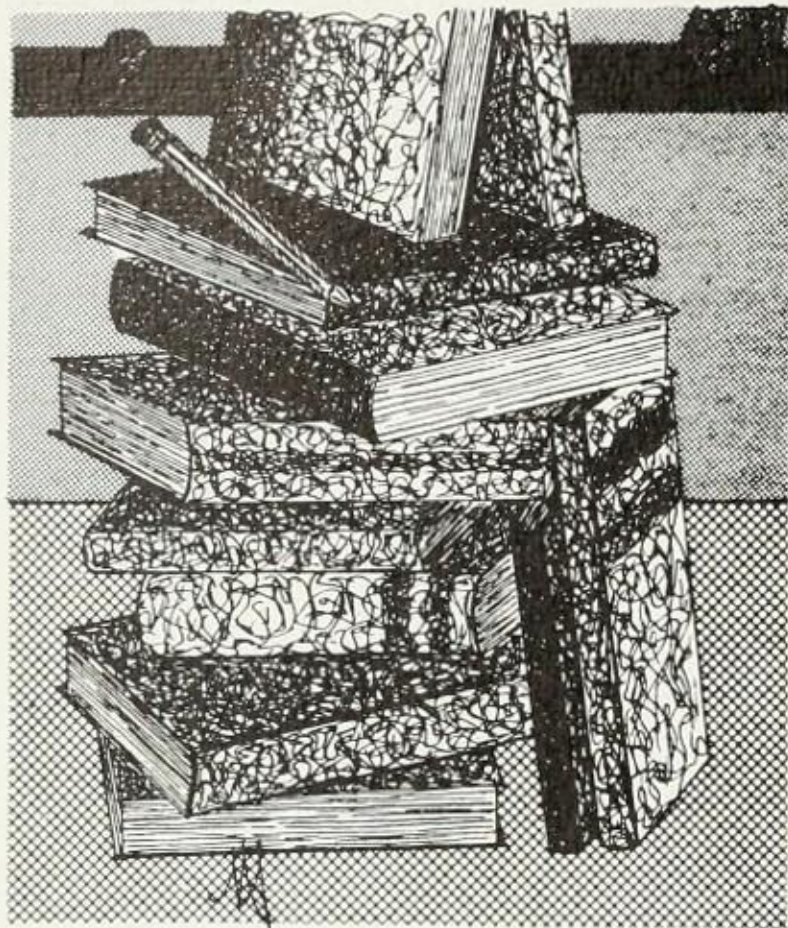

Learning two languages proved perplexing to student Lonnie Mathews.

Singing popular ballads became an important part of the Spanish curriculum.

ENGLISH

“and gladly would he learn and gladly teach”
Chaucer

Emphasizing the art of writing and literature, the English Department modernized their courses last year. Sophomores studied word spelling and pronunciation with the aid of tape recorders, while the Juniors mixed American Literature and vocabulary with the new concept of Linguistics. Seniors prepared for college entrance exams by using overhead projectors. Numerous English classes toured the surrounding area on field trips. In the Los Angeles area, the ‘C’ students visited such places as U.C.L.A., Forest Lawn, and the Huntington Library. Helping to promote the intellectual minds, teachers specified accepted works on collective reading lists. These sheets saved many wasted hours of reading unnecessary materials.

Lower left: Under the ever watchful eye of Mr. Taylor many Sophomores used the Pacers to improve their reading speed and comprehension.

Lower right: Uninformed Juniors preparing for their annual trip to Forest Lawn brushed up on their nebulous knowledge of the finer arts.

Mystified Seniors viewed the wall where an English essay without punctuation was being projected so they could supply the necessary missing symbols.

Portraying a heartbroken soul, Bob Davis plays the role of Cyrano.

DRAMA

Talent and time created hit presentations

Brilliantly portraying numerous fictitious characters, Pacific's future thespians entertained the Student Body with their play presentations of: "Death of a Salesman," a play depicting the deterioration of a man's character; "Harvey," a portrayal of a man who saw a rabbit that no else could; and "Cyrano de Bergerac," the story of a ridiculously ugly man who failed to win the heart of his true love. Directed by Mr. Miller, the talented performers were able to perfect acting skills.

Ceda put finished touch on Paul for "Harvey" role.

Helping hand is offered by Bob Davis' leading lady.

Writers Honored at Prolific Poets and Annual Christmas Tea

Exposing the inspired literary achievements of creative students, Pacific Originals once again achieved a notable level of distinction. Assisting Mrs. Serfass and Flori Frish as co-editors were two outstanding juniors, Nancy Abrahamson and Rick Nolan who irrefutably proved themselves worthy of this honor. Illustrations were provided by selected art students to enhance the stories, poems, and essays contained in the issue. In honor of the publication, a tea was held in the festively decorated library at which the contributors, their parents, and the teachers who served as advisors were each given several complimentary copies.

High School Bowl Competed for Recognition With Rival Teams

Hoping to make the team, thirty-five students aspired towards Pacific's High School Bowl during the fall by taking a series of three tests. Measuring the educational background of eligible participants, these tests gave an indication of the amount and range of information each student could bring into use during competition. A team of evaluators, headed by Mr. Letro, compiled the results and then selected the outstanding. Attaining their aspirations of being chosen for this inter-scholastic test of intellect were Richard Bass, Terry Pringle, Bob Ruffin, Nickie Russler, Roger Teal, Richard Thompson, and Dave Wyatt who indicated confidence in future victories.

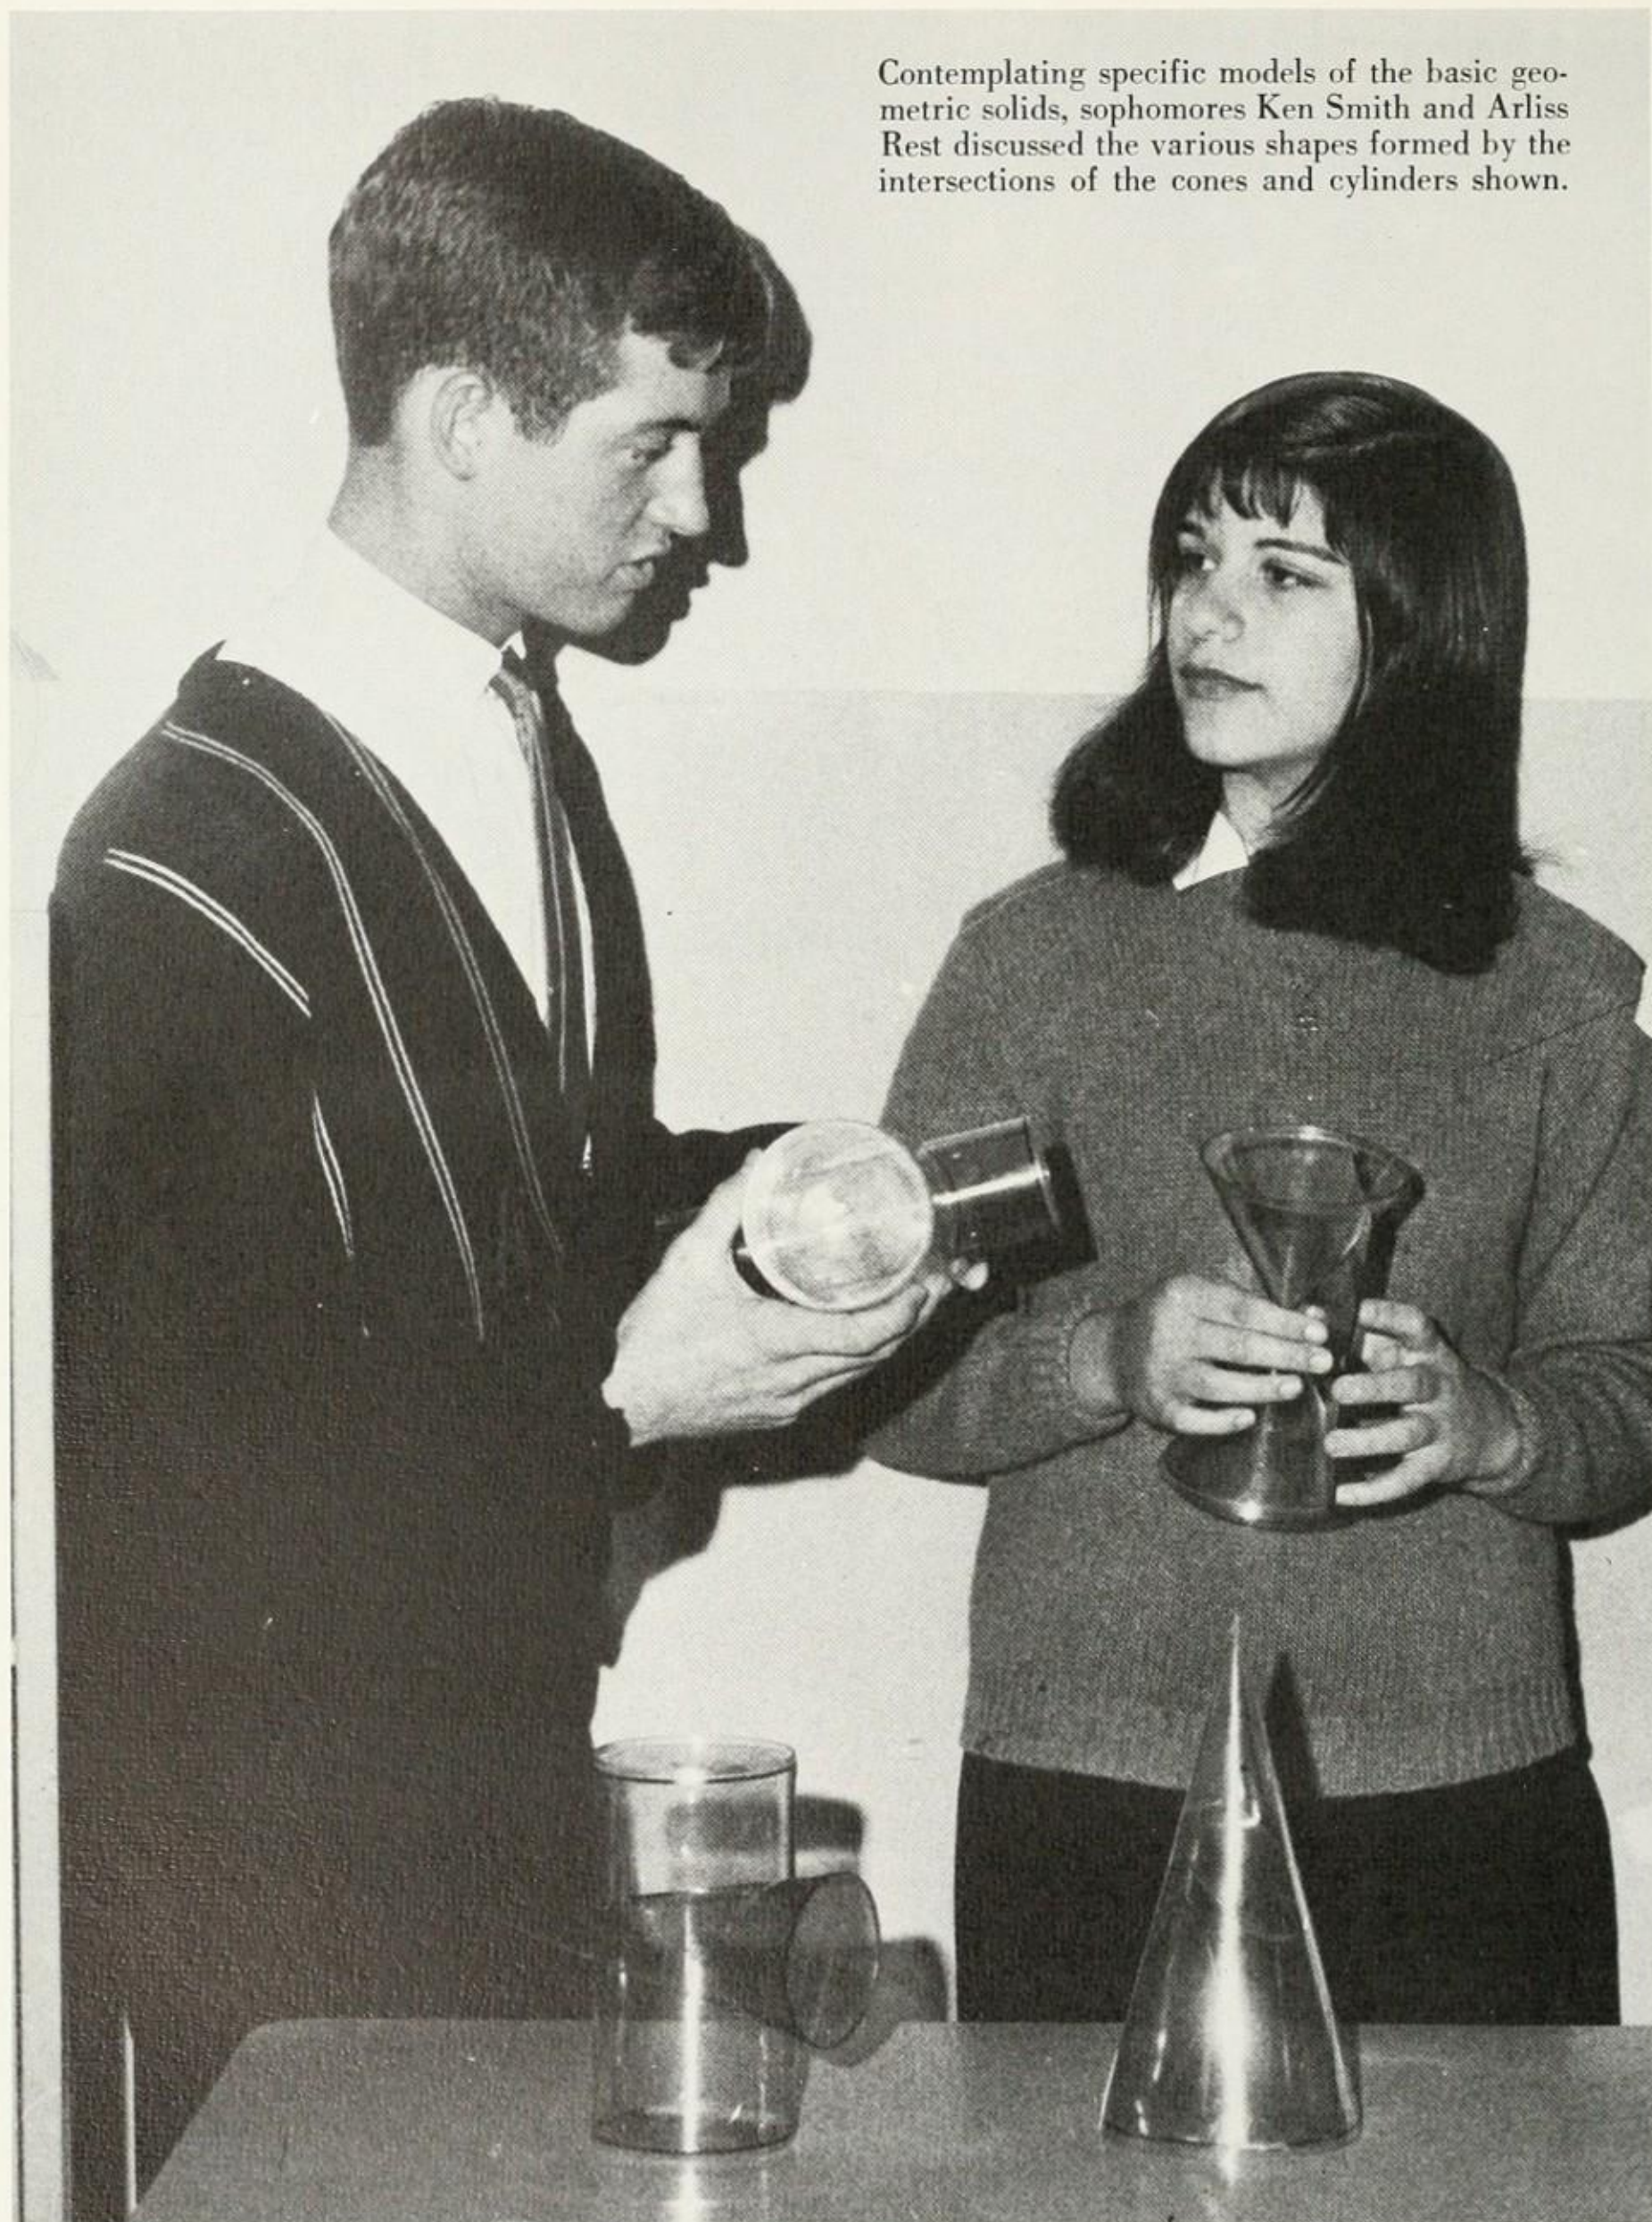

Junior-Senior debate climaxed year of argument and rebuttal.

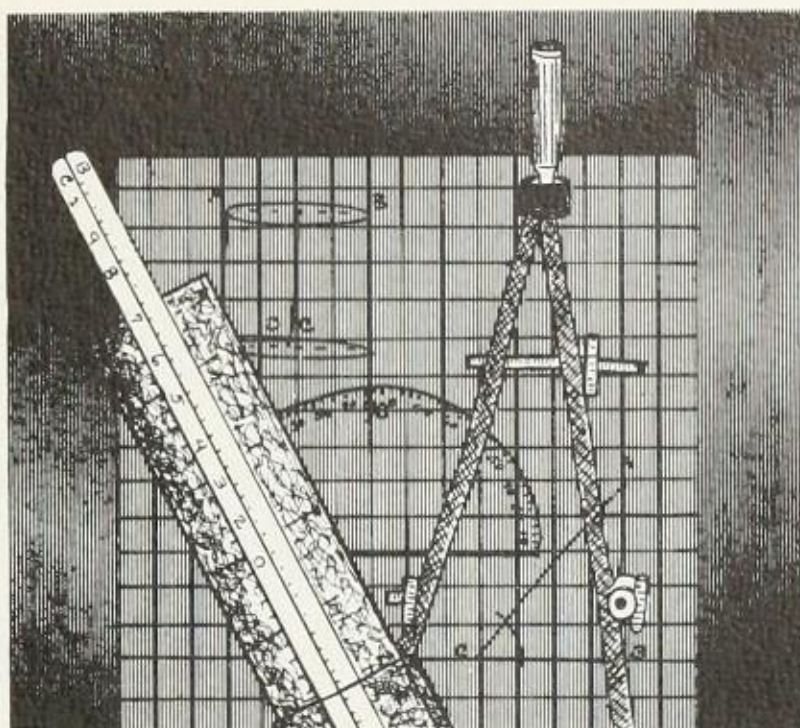

With the prompting help of Mr. White, Allan Thomason and fellow debaters strengthened their rebuttal techniques. Working to achieve their goal of speaking and thinking clearly, the debaters frequently participated in a series of practice competitions. After many preliminary sessions, serious preparation began for the highlight of the debating year, the Junior-Senior Debate. In this annual event of skill, a pair of outstanding juniors competed for the coveted recognition by defeating their upper classmen. Emerging victorious, seniors R. Davis and E. Sorkin graciously acknowledged the commendable merits shown by the opposing team members, B. Berk and S. Paulin.

Contemplating specific models of the basic geometric solids, sophomores Ken Smith and Arliss Rest discussed the various shapes formed by the intersections of the cones and cylinders shown.

Aptitude to rely on calculating abilities whenever needed was Math's goal.

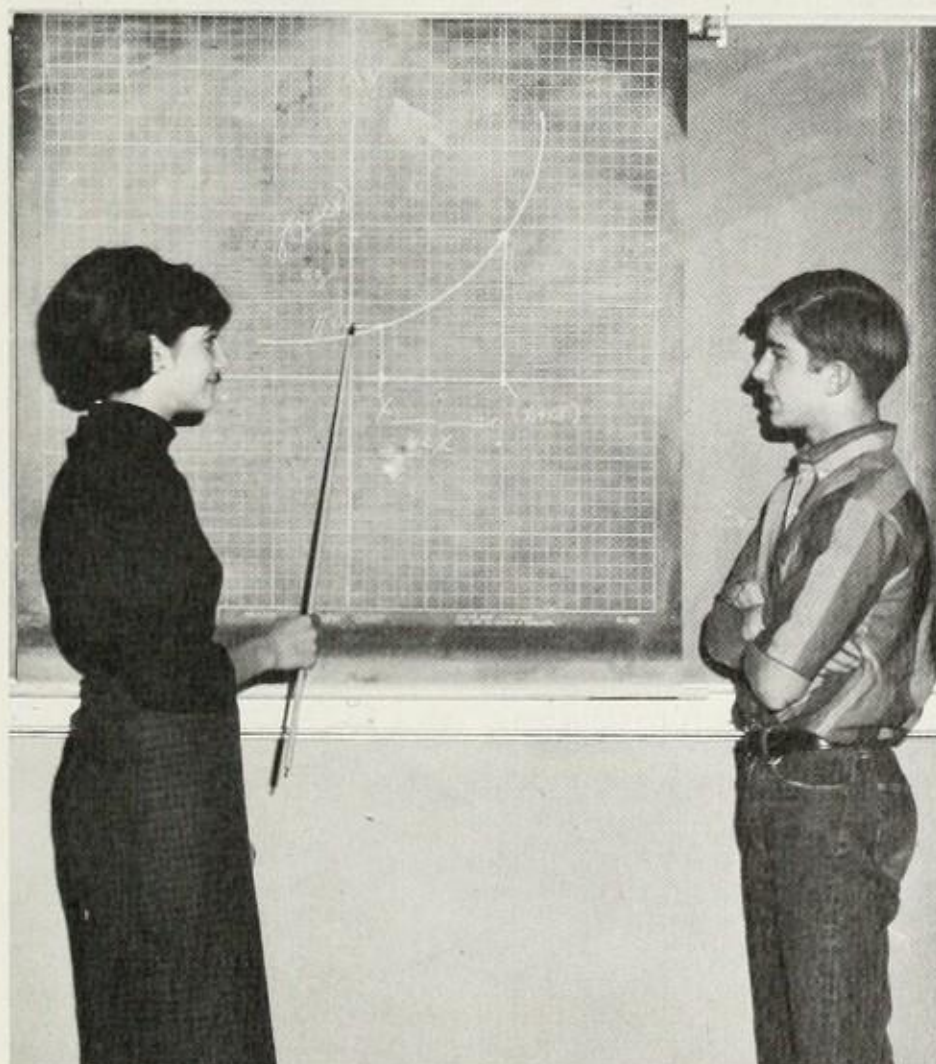

Interjecting the theories of both the old and the new, students of mathematics, using graphs, compasses, and slide rules, were able to illustrate various formulas. Geometry students, in preparation for their next year of Algebra during which they would improve their knowledge of the manipulation of equations, studied geometric shapes in relation to planes and space. Trigonometry, the study of the functions of equations, took a loss in enrollment last year with the addition of a completely new kind of course, Computer Math. Teaching the language and also the use of the machines Computer Math along with Industrial Math, which taught the business aspect of mathematics, was found to be very useful to the business majors.

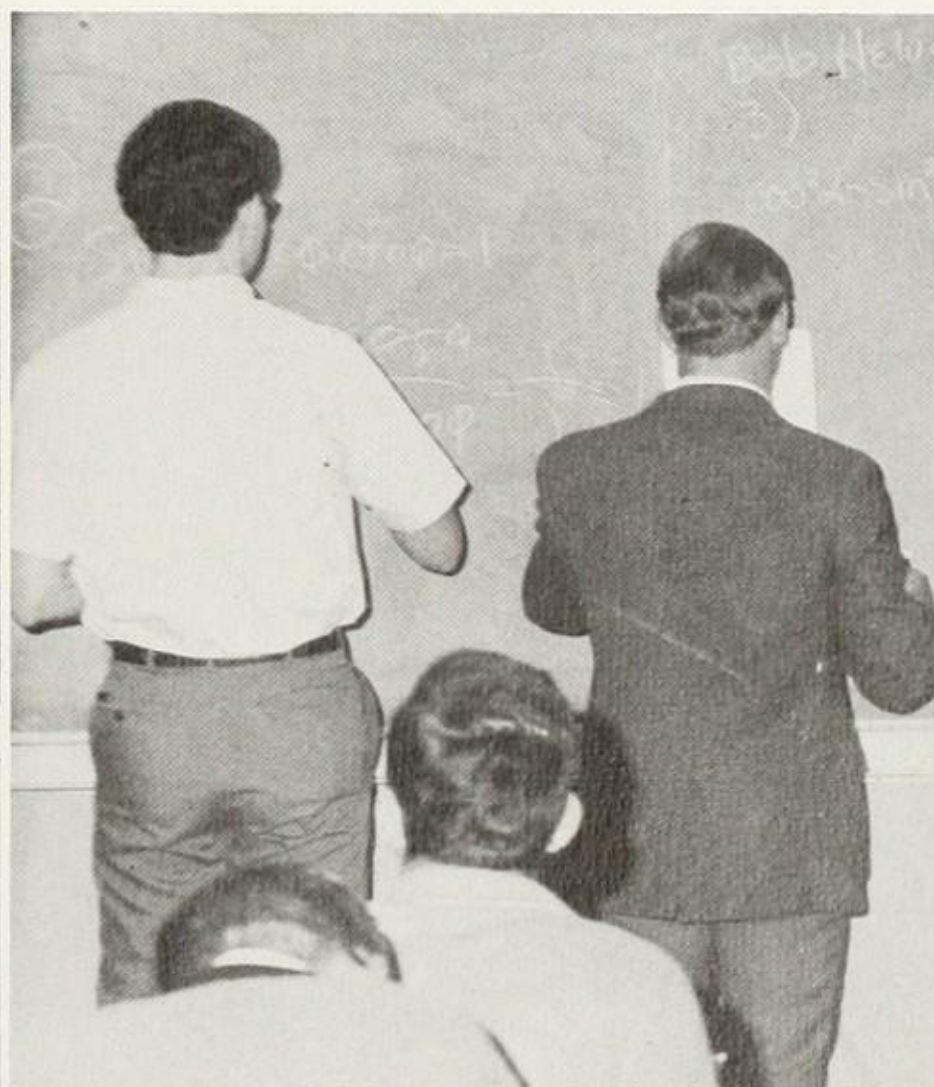

MATH

Enlightening the perplexed Curt Jure, Algebra II student Saussan Khoshdel demonstrated her ability to graph the fundamental equations and formulas.

Industriously placing their unquestionable trigonometry homework upon the board Jack Harvey and Bob Helvey worked with maximum caution, great vigor.

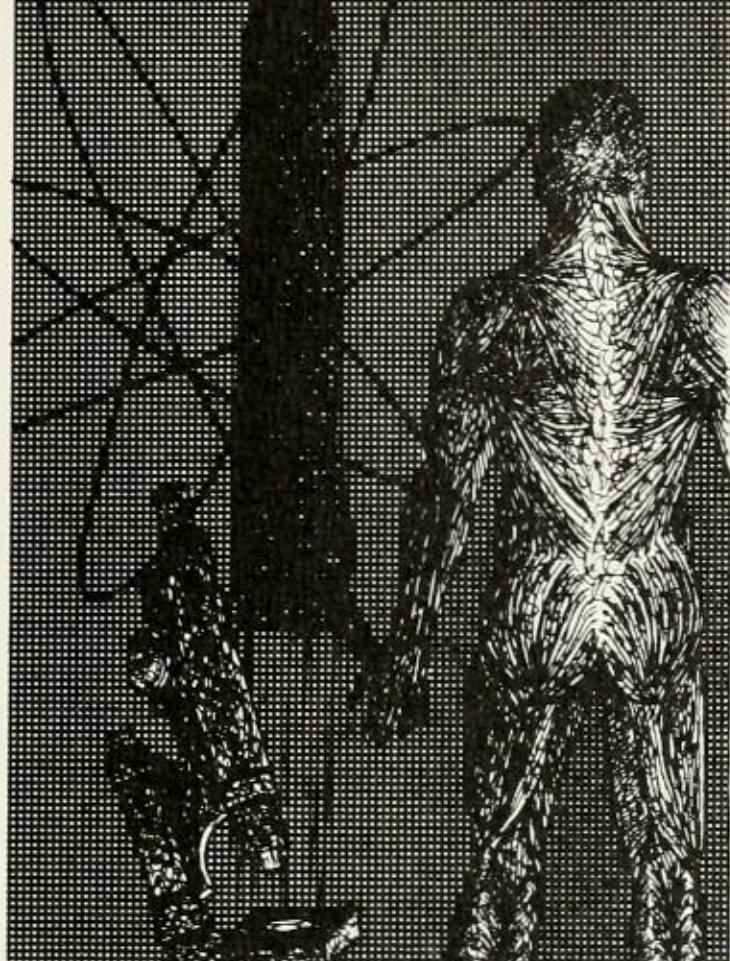

Biology observations

Analyzing and illustrating newly acquired aquatic nonvascular plant specimens, biology students Diane Hale, Greg Smith, Irene Murad, and Joanne Barbuto discussed minute bodies which they had found in various pond and seawater samples.

Class target practice

Providing moments of ecstasy, the bizarre monkey gun engrossed and amazed physics classes, as they aimed and fired at divers targets. Marksman Randy Bankert prepared to fire the deadly cork while his critical peers contemplated the results.

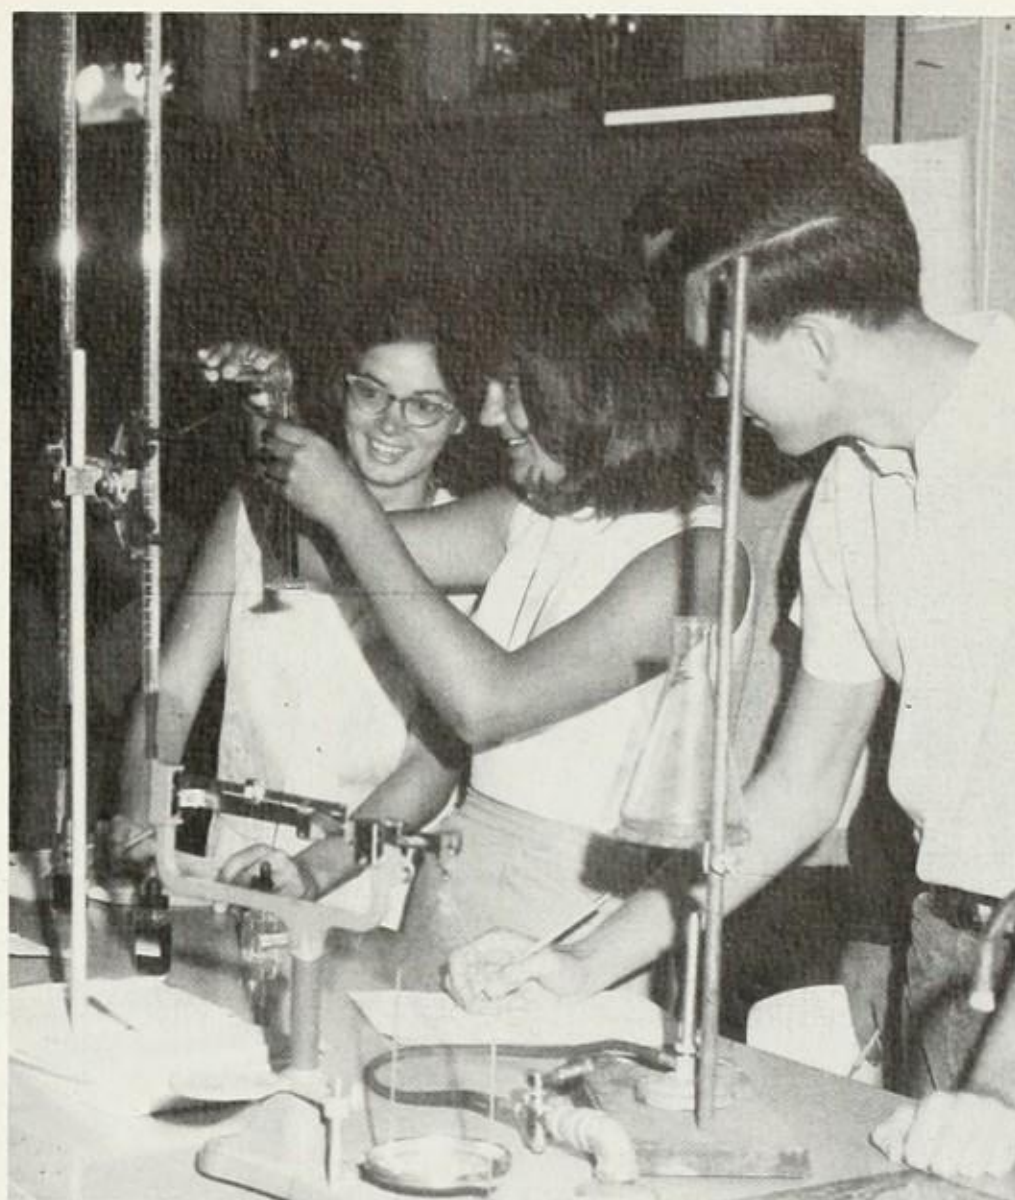

SCIENCE

Exploration of the unknown typified the science programs.

Fermenting fetal pigs, sizzling test tubes, and broken slide rules are memories which will not easily be forgotten by this year's science participants. Through the use of animal specimens, Biology classes were able to complete an intensive ten week course on the functions of the human body. Neophyte Curries worked long hours over their experiments in an effort to meet the rigid standards set by their peers. Proving to be an unusual but interesting class, Physics allowed students to use equipment ranging from their own slide rules to the complex and delicate monkey gun, to solve their many problems.

Cautiously mixing their elements into the test tubes, Chemists Jenni Johnson, Margie Widmeyer, and Steve McGrew anxiously awaited quiet prescribed results of the experiment.

With nary a quiver, Darlene Urlaub dissected and showed the many parts of the heart as a part of her Biology assignments.

BUSINESS

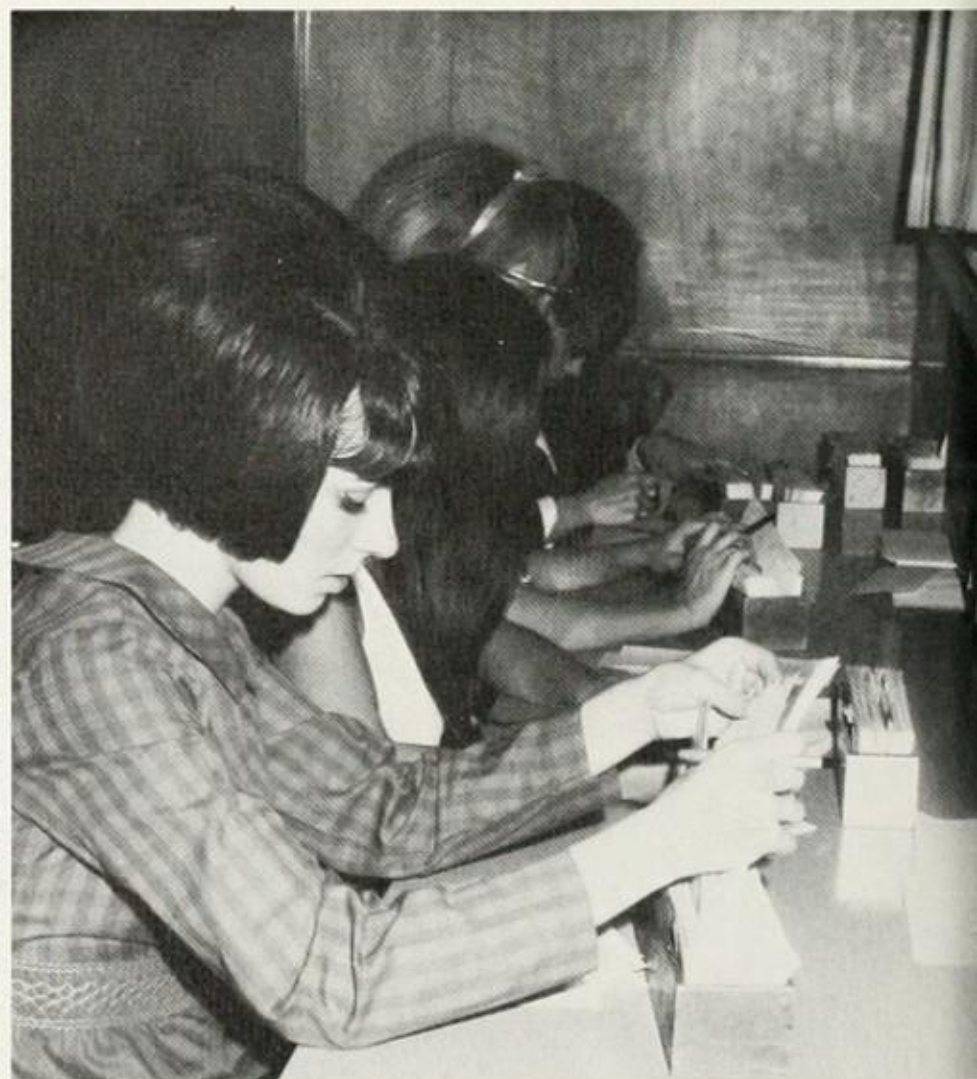

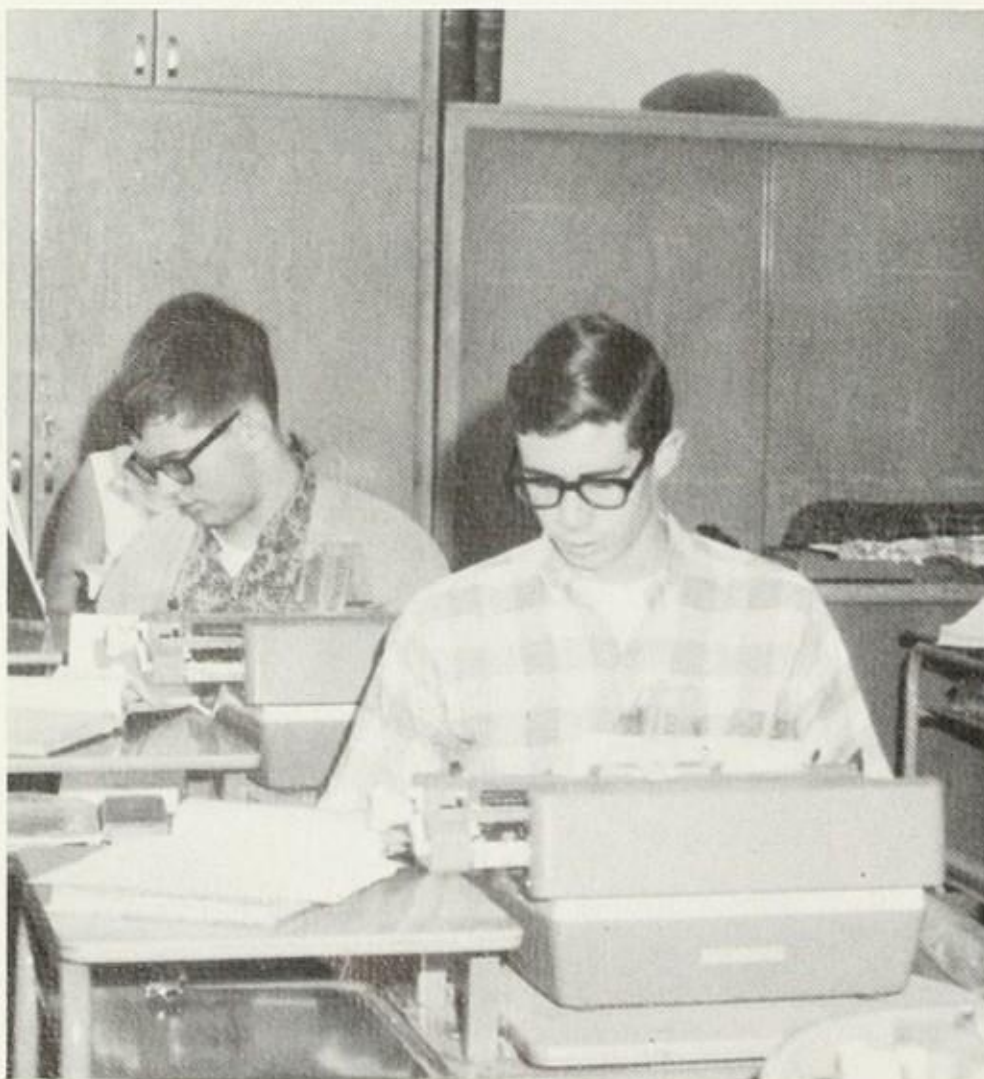

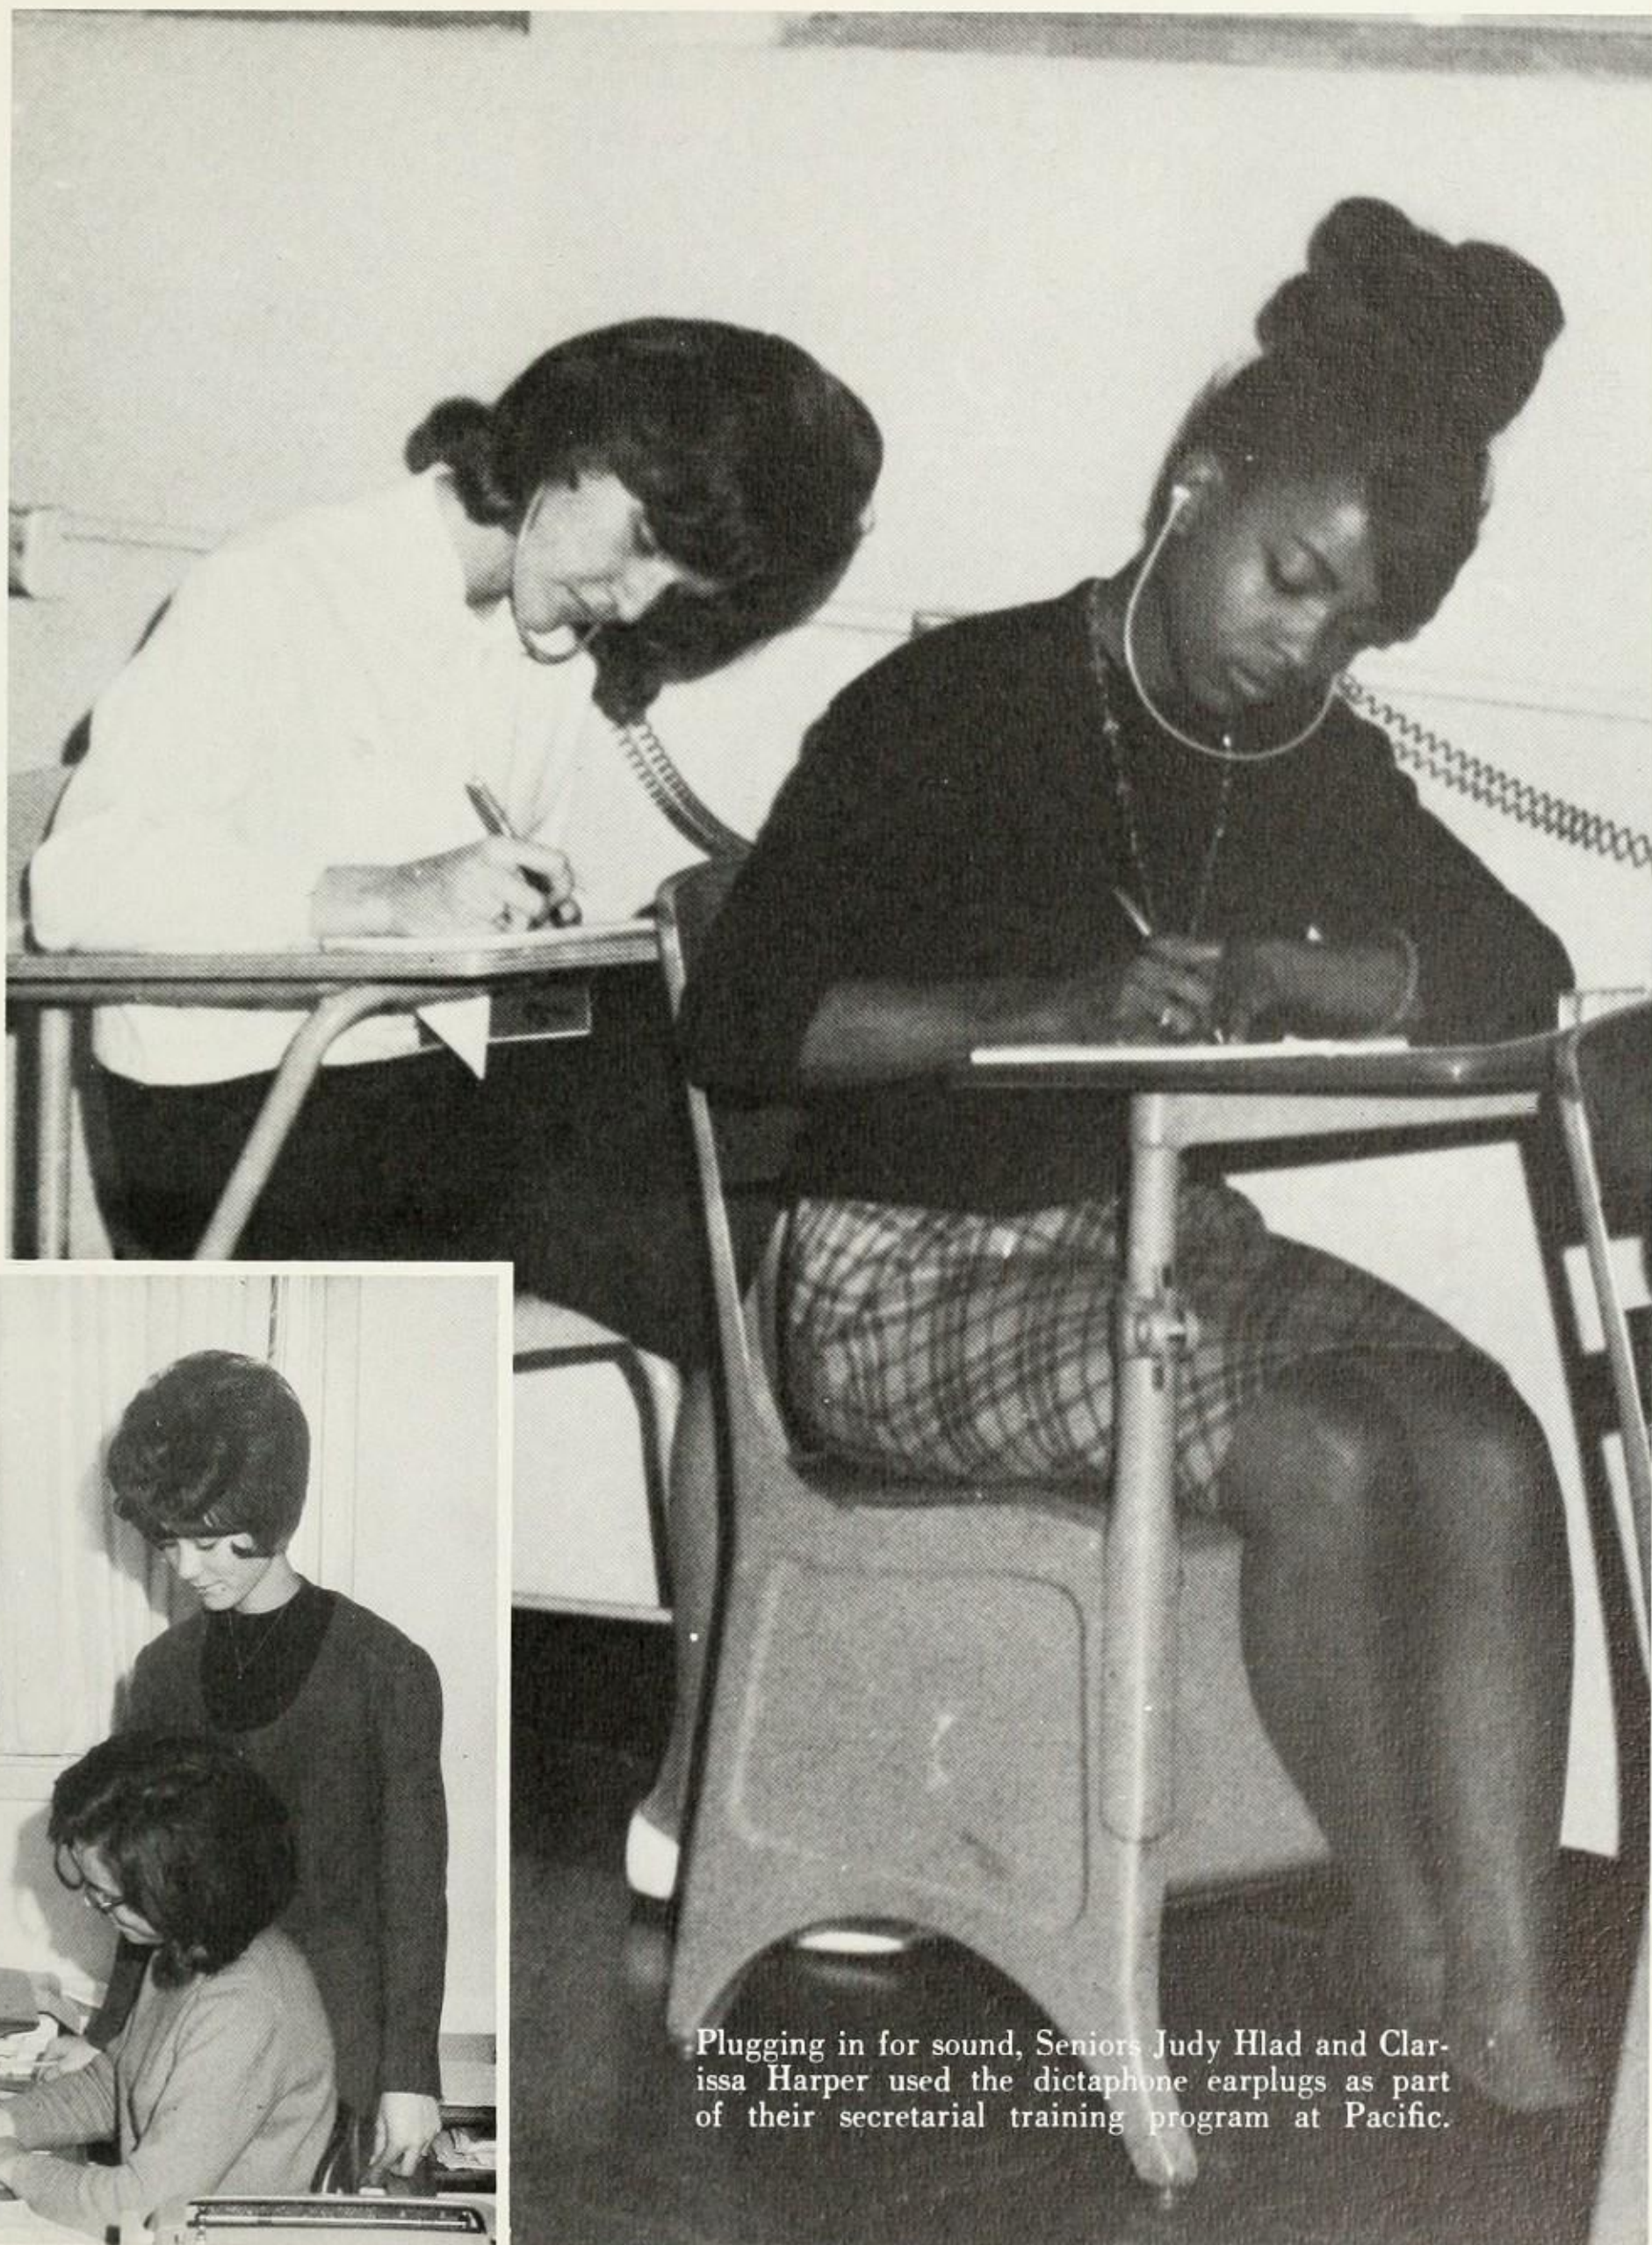

Busy hands filled many pages

Meeting the demands of not only the business majors but the students desiring classroom aids proved to be a stimulating problem for the business teachers. Using a variety of machines and work situations, girls hoping for a career in the secretarial field took dictation, typed, filed, and transposed for Pacific's administration heads. Transposing and dictation, taken in coordination with Business English, proved to be difficult courses. Switchboard operators and student store sales girls gained practical knowledge necessary for their ambitions. Yet, the boys again proved that it was not just a woman's world when they turned out in force to take typing and shorthand to help themselves in future college classes.

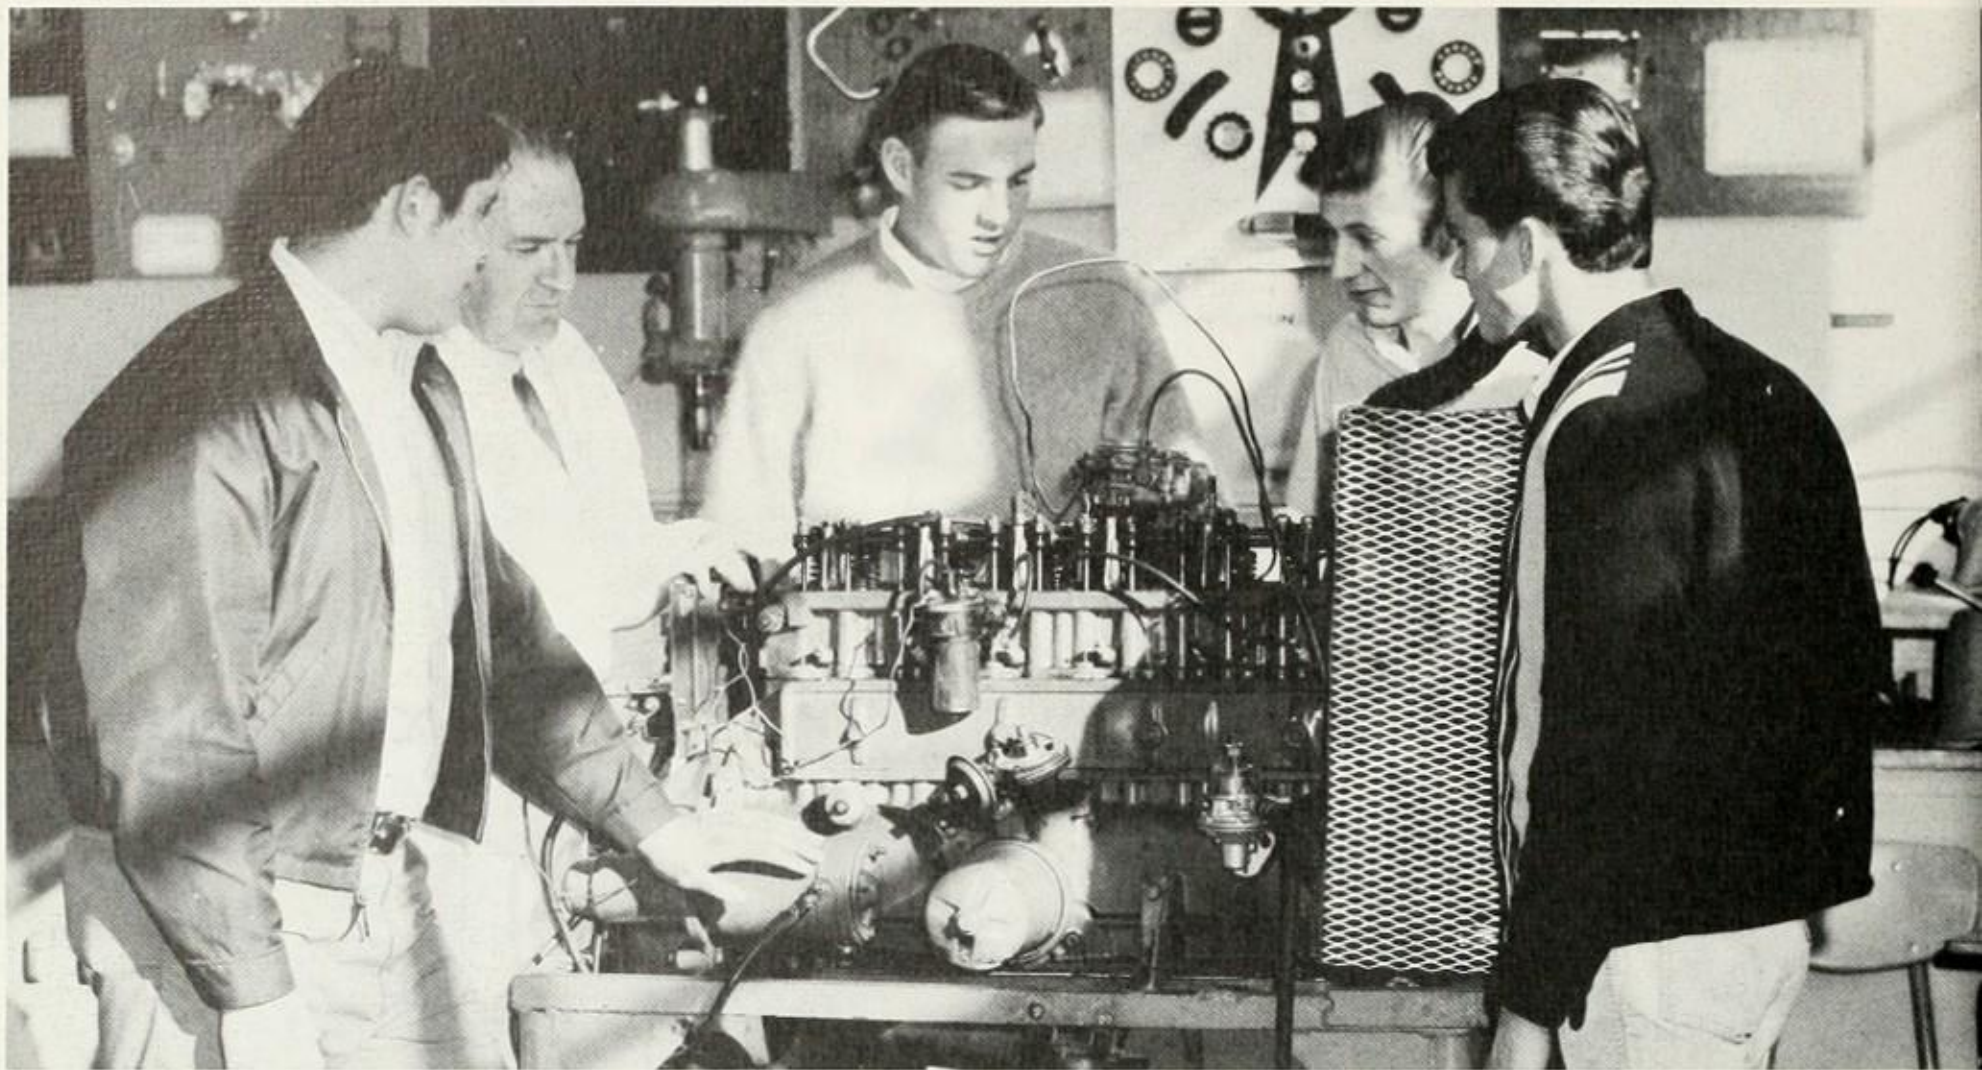

(1) Scents of masculinity were found in the typing classes as many boys boned up for their college courses. (2) Daily filing of absentee records kept the office clerks busy. (3) Seniors Terri McIntosh and Joan McCormick worked together in the record room sending transcripts for the new graduates.

Plugging in for sound, Seniors Judy Hlad and Clarissa Harper used the dictaphone earplugs as part of their secretarial training program at Pacific.

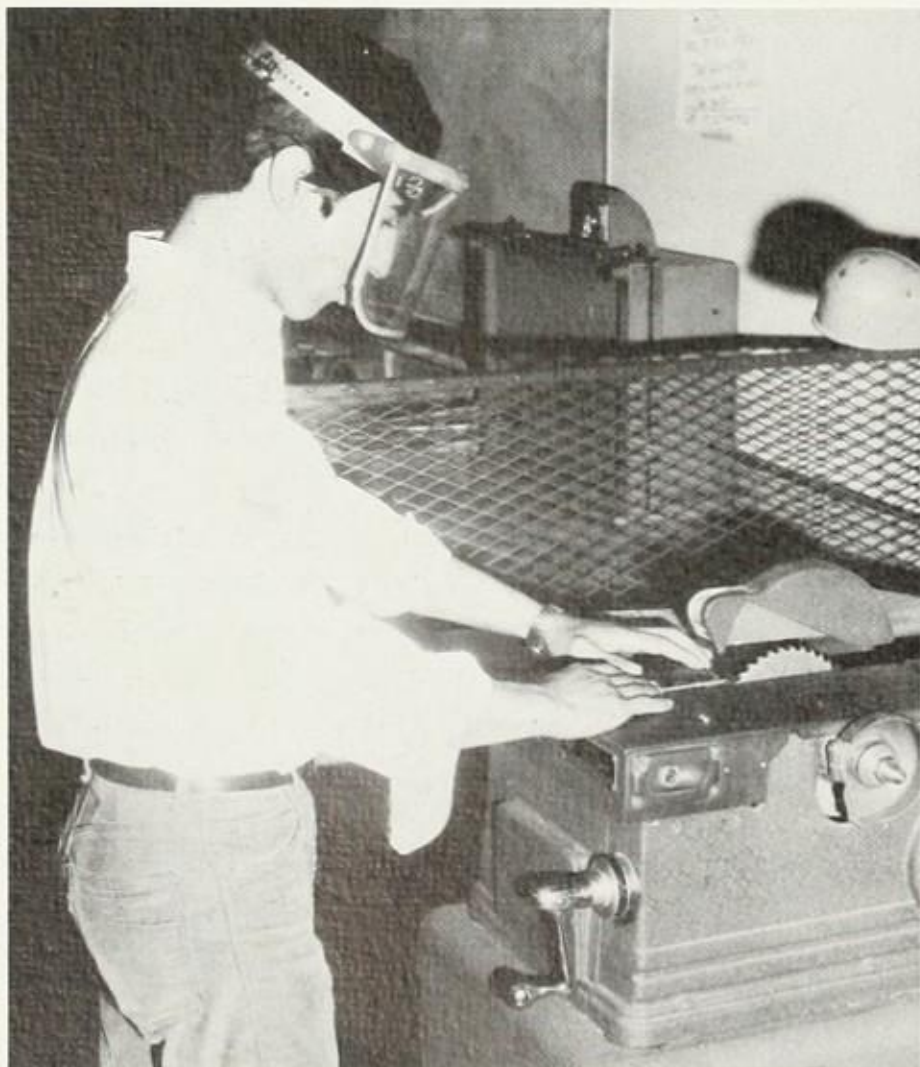

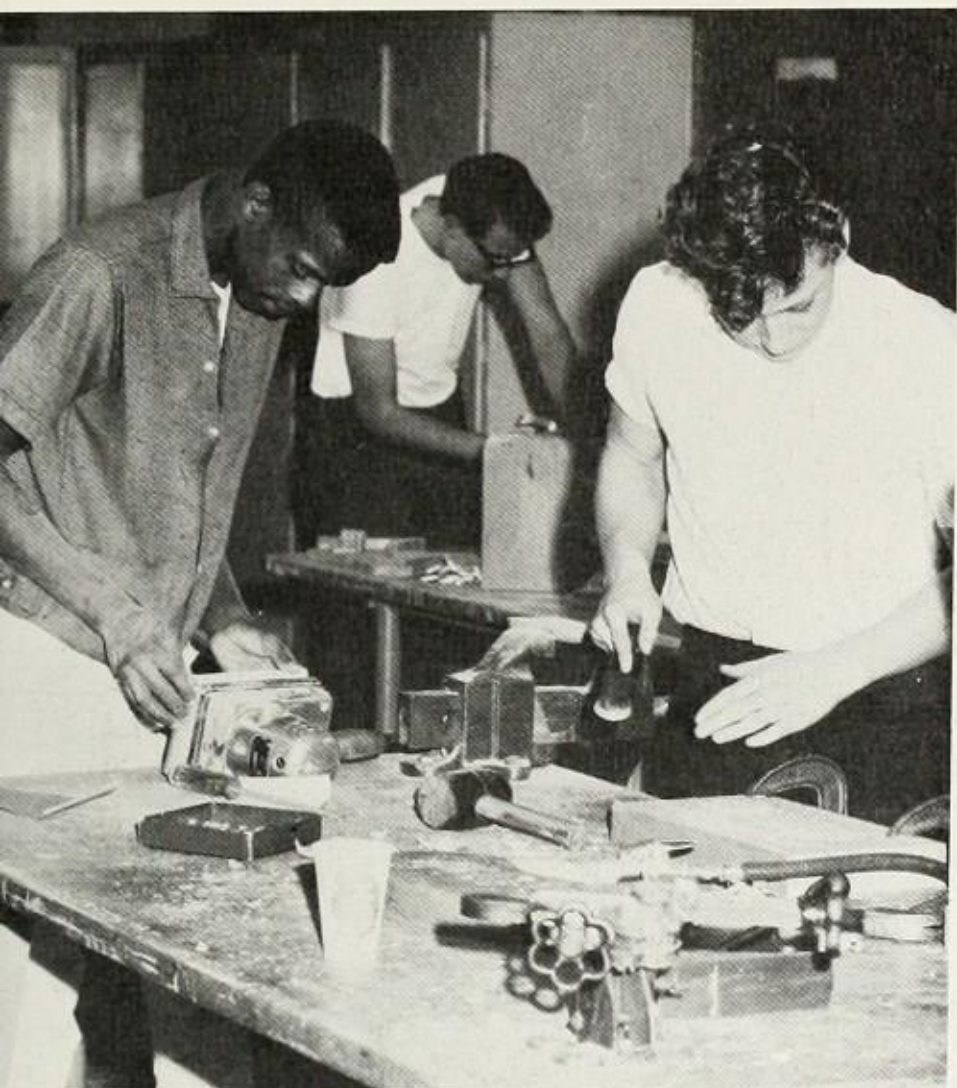

Mr. Taylor showed Pat McCoy, David Innis, Joe Smothers, and Allie Paggett the numerous and complex parts of an automobile engine while he explained the specific function and correct care of each part.

Wood shop student Joe Casas demonstrated that proper techniques and equipment equal more efficiency.

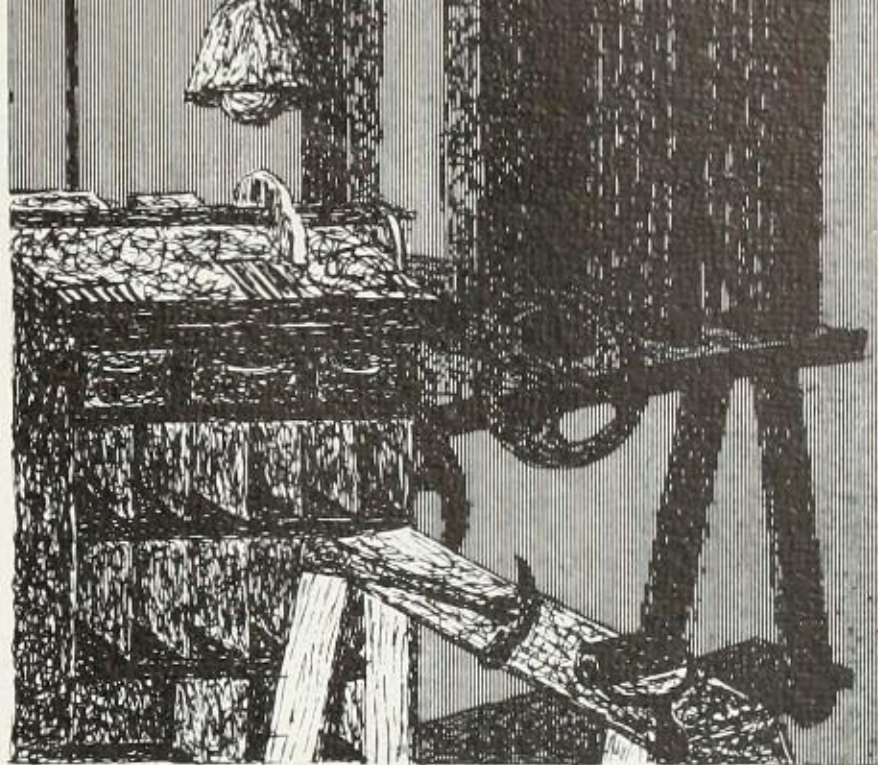

Bob Casas and Sam Macias enjoy some casual conversation while completing their sheet metal projects.

Jim Riley paused to inspect his work as Larry Jones and John Williams steadily improved final touches.

Print shop students Ben Chanler and Rick Hughes remembered to always use safe methods and caution.

INDUSTRIAL VOCATIONS

Manual skills developed through practical experience

Endeavoring to provide adequate opportunities for achievement and advancement, the vocational industries department acquired additional instructional facilities and equipment for its students. Courses offered included a variety of manual and mechanical vocations ranging from architectural drawing and landscape designing to welding construction and animal husbandry. Aiding in the publicity of school functions, the printshop skillfully printed tickets and posters. An attractively arranged display of individual and class projects were shown in the front office to show the result of their work. Assisting vocational majors in preparing a solid foundation for their future careers has been a vital function of this department since its first year, with the majority of students offered employment soon after their graduation.

Campus Confusion

After a busy day in the pursuit of academic fulfillment, students found enough time and energy left to congregate in the restful areas on campus to discuss the day's events. The lunch tables, lockers, library, benches, halls, and bus plaza were used consistently throughout the year for casual and often lively conversations, which involved the full spectrum of all topics.

Boys' and Girls' State

Facing odds of seven to one, Pat Imsand represented Pacific at Girls' State while seven members of the masculine gender served at Boys' State. Composing the male portion were Bill Holcomb, Barry Gold, and Ray Schmidt in the first row, with Richard Taliaferro, Ken Bailey, Greg Rich, and Jerry West in the second row. These eight superior students were chosen on the basis of academic merit and nonpragmatic endeavors at Pacific.

ICE PALACE

"Ice Palace" completed the theme for the annual Christmas Crystal Ball, held December 18, in the Pacific cafeteria. Among royal blue decorations, the cafeteria was exquisitely turned into an "ice palace". Chairman Dave Wyatt, and helpers, Peg Sacridier, Marsha Adams, Randy Hooper, Mike Scholler, and Graig Rich received high honors throughout the night on their marvelous theme and vivacious ideas. To all who attended, this special evening seemed worthwhile.

Crystal Ball

As the Crystal Ball committee decorated the cafeteria, members dreamed about the big night.

Promoting 1966 annual sales, Ellery Sorkin, Dave Wyatt, Al Green, Bob Davis, and Bill Becker paraded around the campus with a giant reproduction

SENIOR PRAYER

By Linda Baker

Our Dear Heavenly Father,

As we gather here tonight before You we humbly acknowledge You as the Giver of the Abundance that we have known in our short, yet meaningful lifetime. We stand before You with thoughts of the past. These bonds that held us in the past are being broken tonight as we cross the threshold to adulthood and maturity. Our thoughts also project into the future which seems clear to many of us, and, to others, seems obscure. For these, who need Thy guidance, we would ask You to make Thy way known.

Above all, we pray that in the future, as leaders of this great nation, we will be able to accomplish what those before us could not. Help us, Father, to forever dissolve the bonds of hate and prejudice and war and poverty that have plagued this nation for too long.

We thank You, Father, for the educational and moral enrichment that we have received from the faculty and administration of this school. We are eternally grateful to them for the education they have so patiently and efficiently given to us; for the opportunity they have given us to utilize what we have learned; and for the challenges they have presented to us. Continue to bless them and this school so that future graduates may know the same educational experiences.

We also thank You for our understanding parents and for the training and guidance so lovingly given. Lead us to a deeper appreciation of the wisdom of their example and make us more receptive to the advice they offer.

We are also grateful for the many other enriching experiences in our lives — our friendships with one another. Continue we pray, to bless our friends and classmates as we separate to pursue our individual goals. Fill us all with Thy love, mercy, forgiveness. Grant us wisdom to know what must be done.

The courage to begin it—

The strength to accomplish it—

And, make us ever mindful of Thy presence with us always.

In Thy Name we pray.

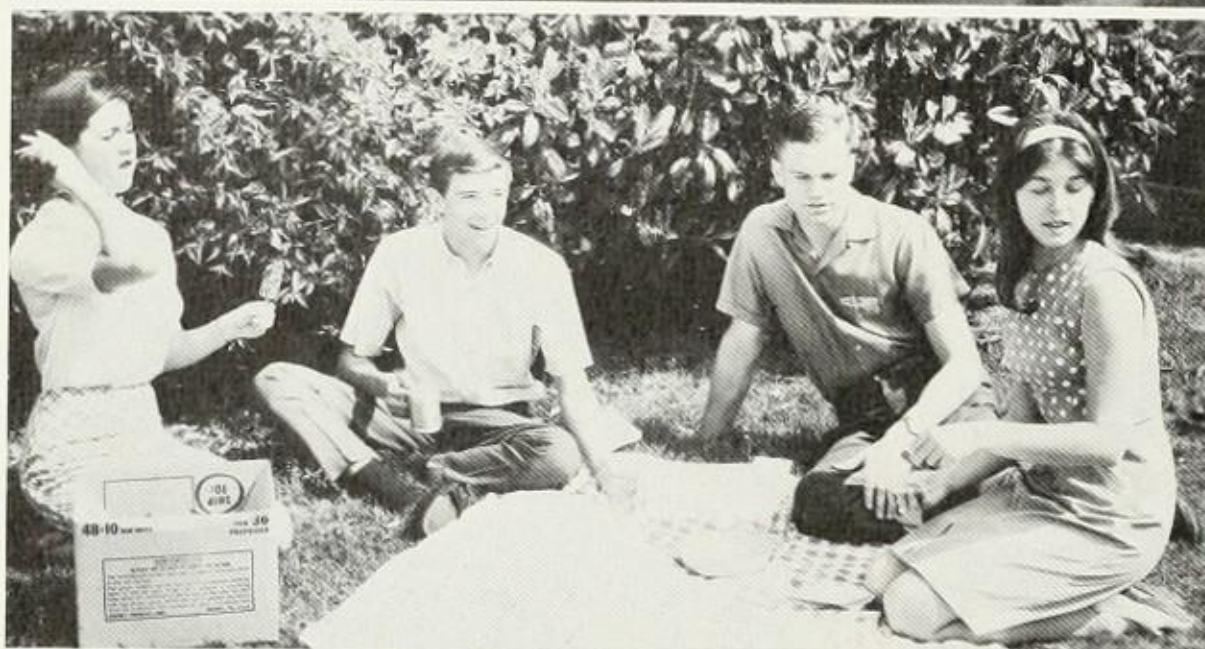

Amen.

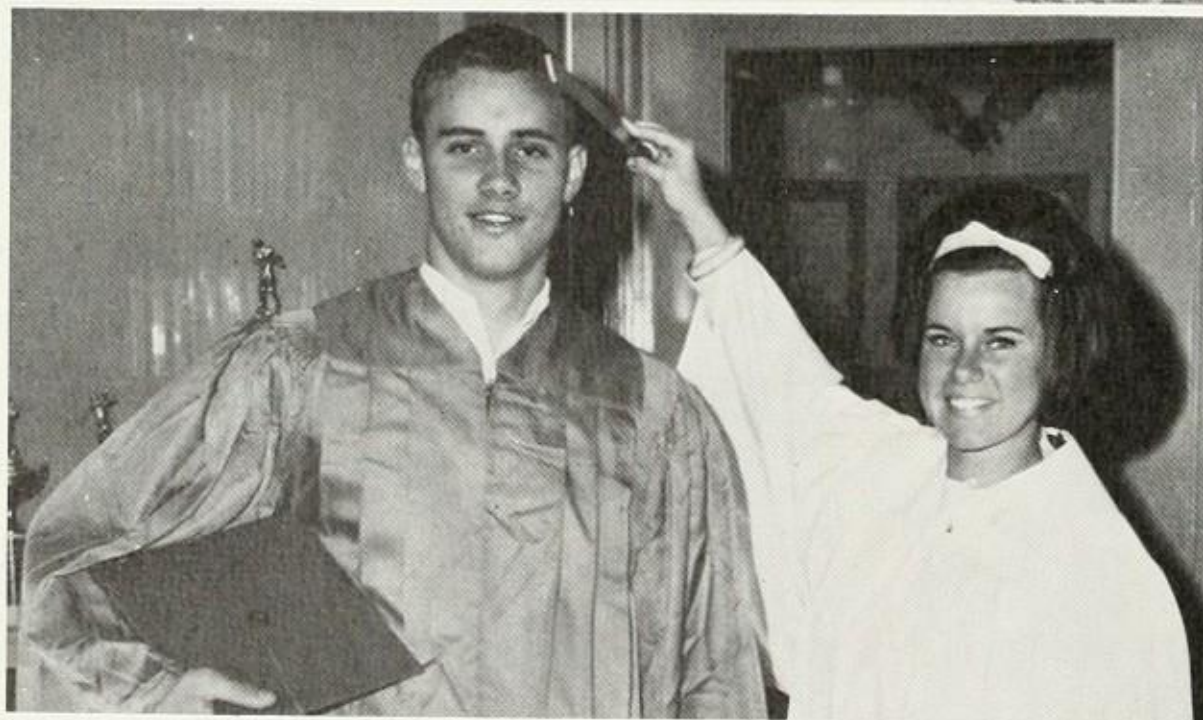

Trading Announcements

Exchanging announcements and name cards was one of preliminary events of senior week.

Senior Picnic

Signing annuals, saying good-bye to friends, eating and relaxing were a few of activities enjoyed by the seniors of Pacific at annual Senior Picnic.

Robes

Picking up caps and gowns was an important occasion for the seniors in preparation for graduation night. Nancy Pettingale and Bob Pfeiffer tried theirs to make sure of the fit.

Finals

Frantically rushing to turn in their finals, these students exemplified the look of the typical senior who was exhausted and relieved after these exams.

SENIOR WEEK

The baccalaureate ceremony on the evening of June 12 opened the exciting series of events that characterized Senior Week for the graduating class of Distinction of 1966. The most important events were the awards and scholarship assemblies, during which time the Bank of America Scholarships and the principal's awards to outstanding members of the student body were presented. Graduation practice, with its long lines of seniors rehearsing to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance", was interrupted by the senior picnic. This included swimming, eating, and getting signatures in annuals. Hectic students could be seen flying from finals in their problems classes, to the financial secretary's office for the payment of senior bills, to the lockers for a final cleaning, to the cafeteria for a last minute lunch, and impatiently waiting in line in the gym to receive their caps and gowns. After last minute farewells to favorite teachers, 1200 seniors went home Wednesday afternoon to count the minutes 'til 6:00 when they would reassemble for the last time, to graduate.

Seven splendid days we will long remember

Some of the final events of Senior Week included paying senior bills and receiving annuals. At right: Susan Mapes, Gordon Anderson, and Greg Rich paid their book fines, which thus enabled them to get their diplomas. At left: Barbara Veile was one of the first seniors to pick up her Pacificana.

GRAD NIGHT

Memorable night for seniors

Enjoying last moments of high school activities, Celia and Doug relax through an excitement-filled night at Disneyland. Grads boarded buses after graduation ceremonies and headed for gaiety until dawn.

June 15, 1966 became the realization of a dream for twelve hundred senior boys and girls when they marched into Bailey Bowl for the traditional graduation ceremonies. This year's Class of Distinction included four valedictorians and two salutatorians who spoke of past accomplishments and future plans. Concluding the ceremonies, the prospective adults of the world marched hurriedly out of the bowl. Thoughts of anticipated positions and new horizons clouded their eager minds with hopes, expectations, desires and promise.

SENIOR DEDICATION

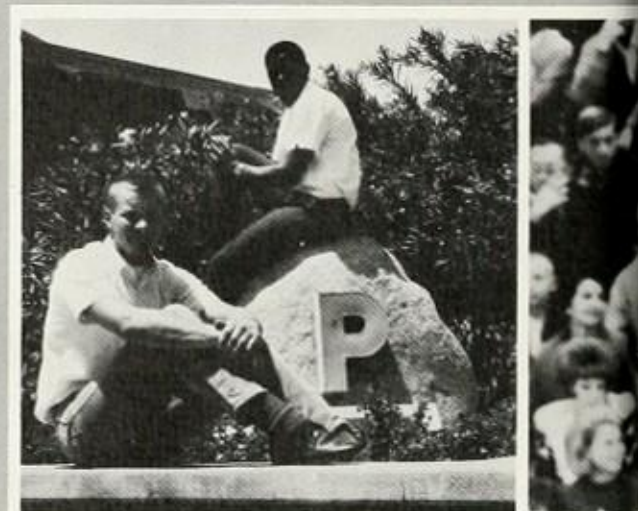

Sophomores are welcomed

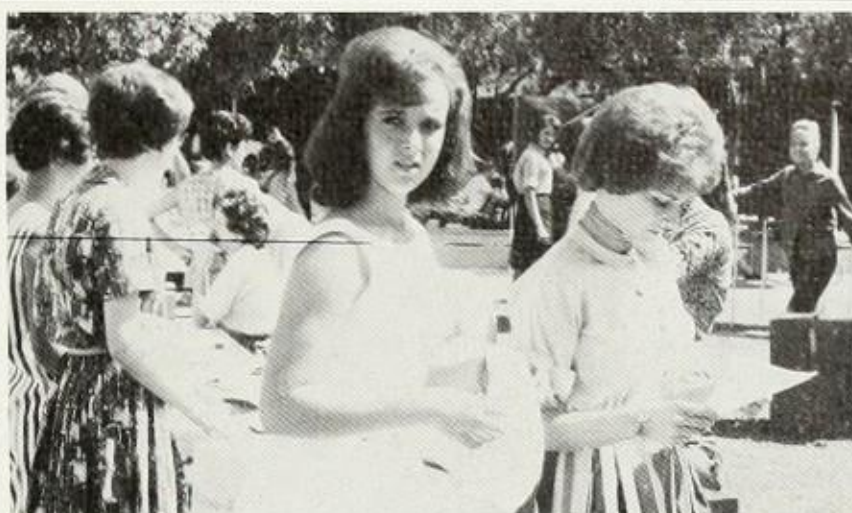

The annual sophomore camp-out and an orientation day began a three year stay at Pacific High School for a new crop of sophomores in the fall of 1963. Eager to make their place in the History of Pacific they easily acquainted themselves with the school. Activity plans began under the leadership of Denny Carlock and his cabinet. One of the important events for the sophomore class was the annual candy sale to raise profits. When the 1963-64 school term ended many proud sophomores looked back on a year of fun.

"Class of Distinction"

Dave Wyatt, the very capable Senior Class President, and his cabinet members, Vickie Estes, Gayle Dillion, Diane Parker, Randy Hooper, Irene Murad and Karen McCallon. One of the important activities of the year was the "Crystal Ball". A new project came into effect this year, headed by Dave was the Senior Boys Cheering Section. Friendship Parties came about after each football and basketball game at someones house, which many enjoyed. Graduation for nearly 1200 seniors was in focus after three exciting years.

Juniors Present Prom.

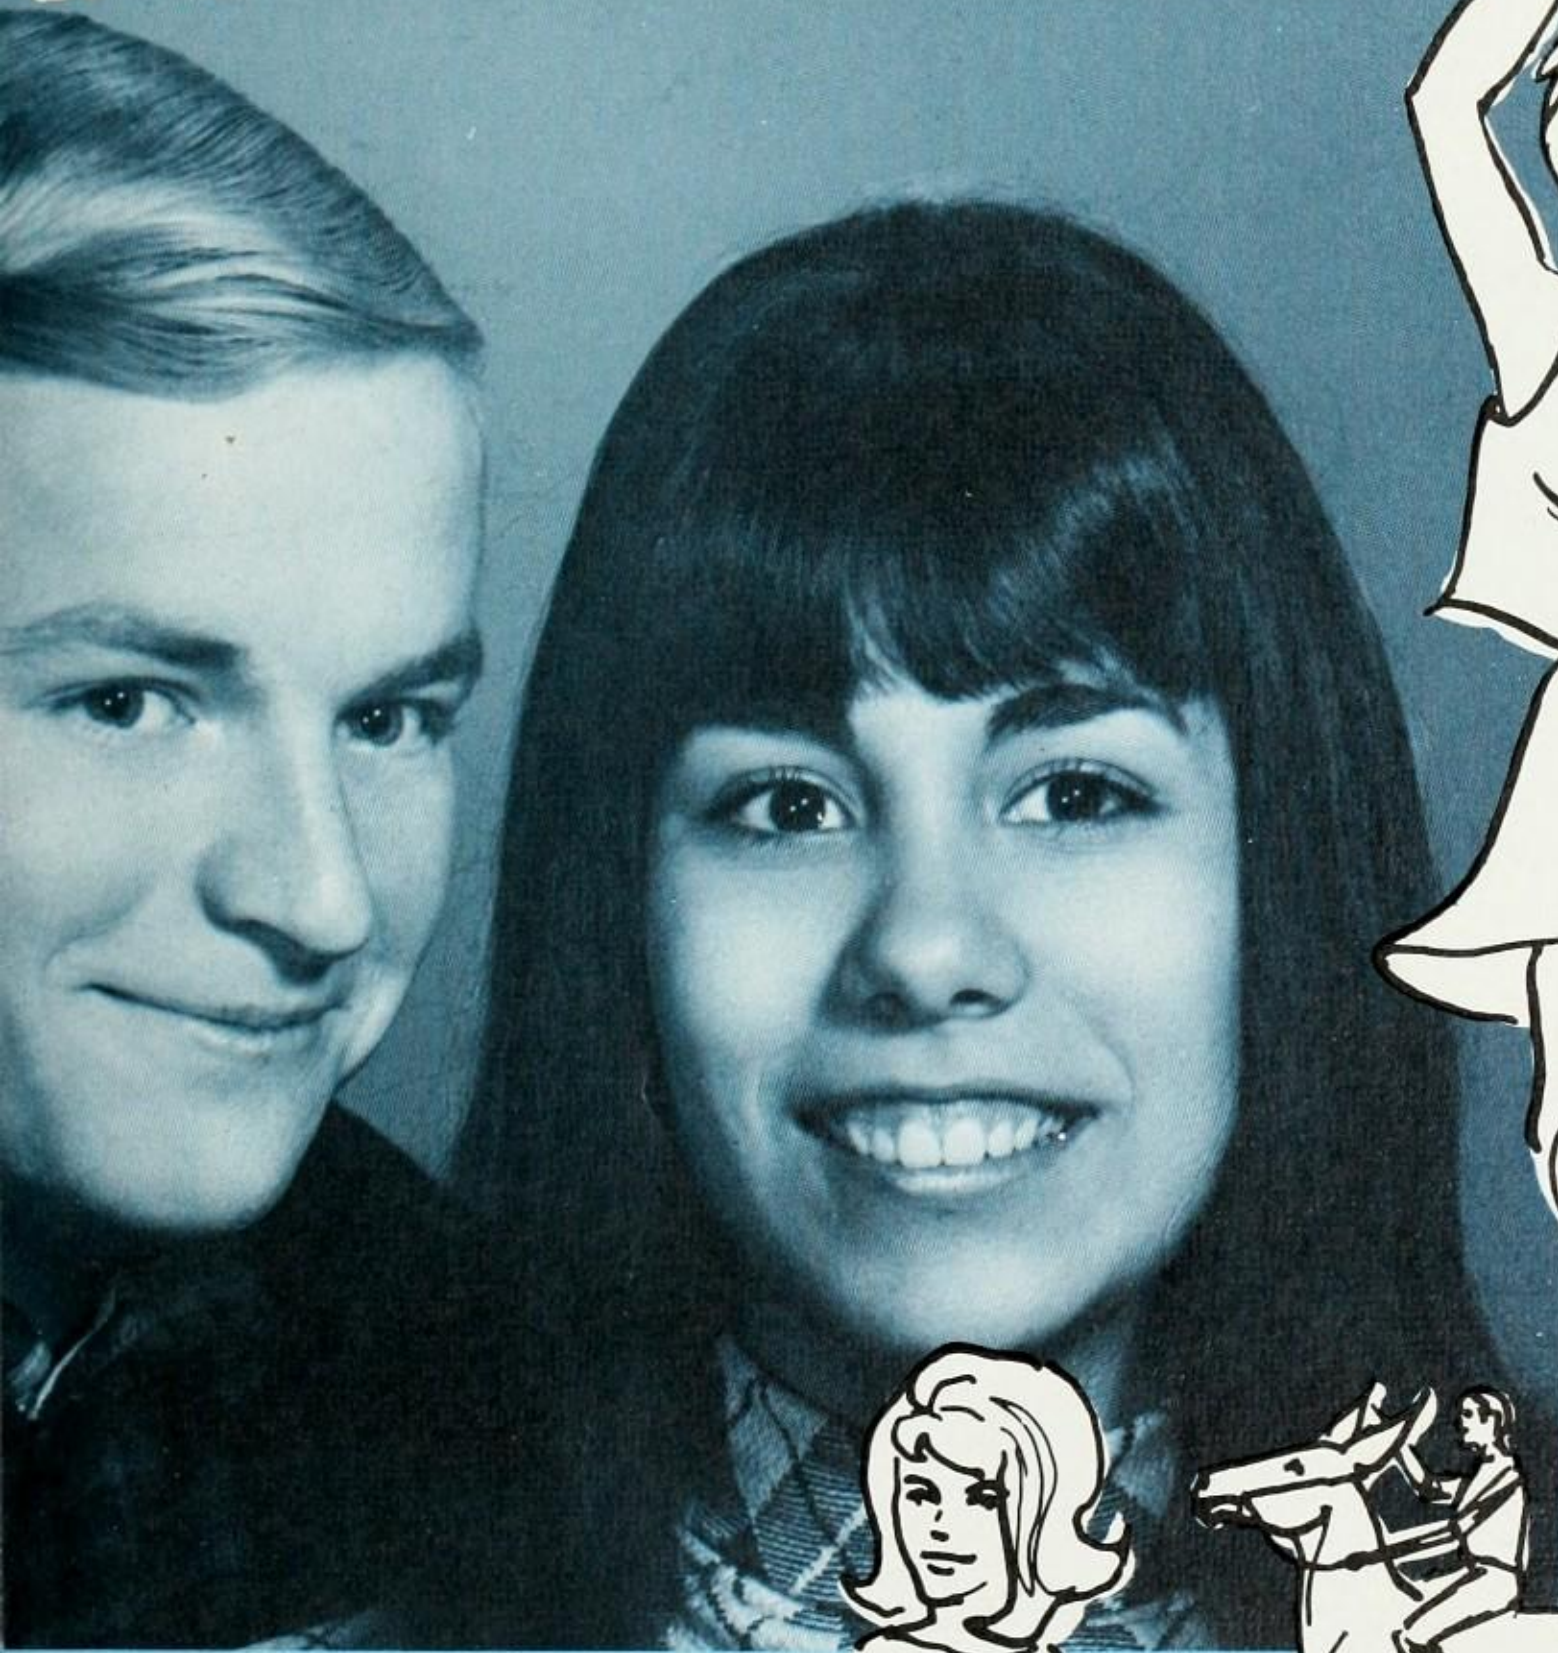

After a fun-filled summer the incoming juniors class was ready to start work with one main project in mind—the Junior-Senior Prom. Dave Wyatt, President, led the class with a very efficient cabinet of Vickie Estes, Cathy Brazier, Rita Cofrancesco, Bob Pfeiffer, George Tribble, and Bob Boyer. The first activity was the “Victory Dance” which received much response from the entire student body. The junior class bake sale, held “Back to School Night.” Climaxing the year was the Prom.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS

A.F.S. students departed with lasting memories.

Traveling to Pacific from the far corners of the earth, the 1965-1966 foreign exchange students Giacomo Carrai and Soussan Khoshdel enjoyed an eventful year here on our campus. Soussan arrived in August from Tehran, in Iran. Amazed by the fact that teen-agers in America go barefooted, she was also surprised at the dress styles. Hailing from Monticelli d'Ongina, a small village in Italy, Giacomo expressed a strong craving for the "All-American foods"—hamburgers and french fries, and he also agreed that American girls are prettier than Italians!

Visiting the art museum, engineering building, and Tommy Trojan was a fond memory of tour to USC campus taken by Giacomo and Soussan last year.

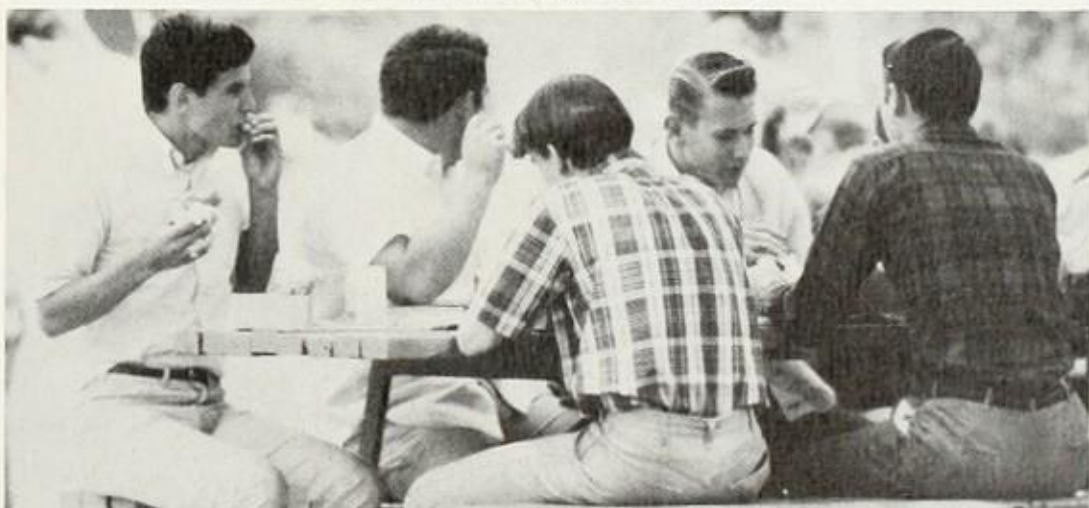

FROM 8:00 TO 3:00

For 182 days pirates attended school

Normal Pirate days began at approximately 8 a.m. either in the library or in the quad, where many frustrated students flocked to finish cramming for that big exam and scurried to complete one last assignment. The ringing of the bell signaled the beginning of another long day of English, History, Math, Science and other subjects with the only relaxing break coming at lunch, when the student body was allowed to feast at their own leisure. Through all the hectic hurry, a feeling of relief settled over Pacific's campus as 3:10 finally arrived, releasing harried students from bondage. Then they faced the mass confusion of a congested parking expanse.

(Top) Dawnita Hawley, Patty Forte, Pam Hazard, and Judy Paris entered the library to finish homework and catch up on the latest news. (Middle) A typical classroom atmosphere enveloped these students as they struggled to understand the lecture. Ravenously gorging themselves, Pirates consumed nutritious lunches every day. (Bottom) Swamped parking lot posed a labyrinthical problem for exhausted students.

“Our pirates are the best” claimed the cheerleaders!

Vivaciously leading the pirates in our school yells, the 1964-1965 varsity cheerleaders, Evi Yarnell, head, Priscilla Matlock, Mary Cowett, Jan Fulkerson, Peggy Sackrider, Connie Brunson, and Dee Dee DeRose strongly promoted the spirit of Pacific's student body during the assemblies and games and carried the new band banner at parades. Under Mrs. Ruth Olsen, who became the new leadership advisor last year, these yell leaders wholeheartedly trained through the summer and every day during sixth period gym. By enthusiastically furthering the school pep, these girls led cheers that helped varsity teams bring home more Pirate victories.

FOOD DRIVE

Thanksgiving was enjoyed by needy families

Sponsored by Girls' League, the Thanksgiving Basket Drive aided many needy families during the holidays. President, Tammie Littlefield, announced the winners of the contest held among the first period classes. Mr. Herran's pupils won an award for the most food by collecting over $200 worth of goods, while Miss Hemstead's students won the award for the most creative basket.

Constantly working for closer relations between the faculty and student's parents, the Parent-Teacher Association, which was under the leadership of Mrs. Naomi Keith, greatly contributed to the student welfare. Sponsoring the annual Clothes Closet Drive, this organization made a profit of over $400. During February, the P.T.A. presented their life membership awards.

Flawlessly the P.T.A. sponsored the clothes drive.

Supporting the athletes of Pacific High, the Booster Club held their annual Jitney Dinner to raise money for the three sports award banquets and presented the coaches, cheerleaders, and football players to the parents. Heading the Booster Club last year, Mr. McGowan, president, along with assistance from Mrs. McGowan, vice-president, planned the best banquets in the history of Pacific.

Backing our victorious football team, the Linebackers planned the annual pre-season campout for the players. Organized by the parents of the team, this group, under the directions of Mr. Swanson, introduced the players of the week at their meetings. Cheering the team on from the sidelines, the members were quite proud of the numerous trophies which were won by their sons.

HEAD

Kicks and splits were gracefully performed by the Poms.

Energetically performing their routines at varsity games and pep assemblies, the Pom Pons zealously supported the cheerleaders with their chants and yells. Patriotically attired in the traditional purple-and-white uniforms, these girls greatly enhanced our schoolspirit. The squad, consisting of seven seniors, Susie Wiles, head, Rosetta Cox, Sharon Haskett, Karen Johnson, Linda Millard, Karen Robinson, and Judy Shaeffer, also participated with Pacific's Marching Band and Drill Team at numerous city parades and at Chaffey Band Day, a formational competition between various high schools, held during the latter part of October.

SPANISH SPLENDOR

Climaxing last year's football season, the 1965 homecoming colorfully carried out the theme of Spanish Splendor. Royally reigning over the game and the festivities, queen Kathy Hunter and her court Jiffi Cline, first princess, Judy Shaeffer, second princess, Evi Shaffer, third princess, and Valerie Erdman, fourth princess, excitedly watched the Pirates win a victorious game over Pacific's greatest rival, San Bernardino High with the score 27-7. The couples danced to the enchanting music of Cris Davis and Men of Note in the Valley College Cafeteria which was transformed into a beautiful Spanish garden by members of the Rally Committee. Pre-game activities included a parade and car caravan to the Orange Show carrying the 15 queen candidates, and a competition between floats which were decorated by various clubs on campus.

VARSITY BATONS

Lighted batons added variations to assemblies.

Dextrously twirling their batons, the varsity majorettes added just the right touch of sparkle to the rallies, games, and numerous half-time shows and activities. The squad, headed by senior, Linda Bates and assisted by two other twirlers, Lorraine Minium, a senior, and Bonnie Puthoff, a junior, chose to wear white costumes accented by a collar, belt, and tights of purple sequins. These girls also used battery operated batons with pink and white lights during a few of the assemblies and at the Football Homecoming to add a new variation to their regular routines.

VARSITY FLAGS

Adorned in velvet outfits,

Executing their intricate routines in perfect unison, the Varsity Flags chose to wear purple velvet uniforms highlighted by white-satin V-necks and back pleats, and outlined with a braid of gold sequins. Twirling their purple and white satin flags, this squad of seven seniors included Jackie Wiles, head, Sharon Dingley, Kathy Hunter, Sandy McConnell, Carrie McDaniel, Diane Parker and Evi Shaffer. Hard work and steady practice during the summer and sixth period gym helped these flags to perform outstanding routines at games and pep rallies.

FOOTBALL HALF-TIMES

Goldfinger rated the favorite formation.

Representing Pacific High at numerous civic affairs, the Marching Band and Drill Team concluded a highly successful year. Numbering approximately one-hundred and twenty-eight, they marched at Chaffey Band Day, the Highland Avenue Parade, at which they won first place, and the Rialto Christmas Parade, at which they were rated as second. The group also received a special invitation to the University of California at Los Angeles Band Day. Elaborate formations carried out many striking themes such as Goldfinger, Spanish Splendor, which was presented at the Football Homecoming, Mousorski, Tribute to San Francisco, and Four by Four. The Band proudly sent G. Switzer, J. Harbaugh, J. Turner, and J. McKenzie to participate in the California Honor Band Conference at Long Beach.

Leading the Marching Band and Drill Team on to the many awards won last year were the proud trio of Jane Feston, Glenn Switzer and Virginia Dandridge.

BEE PEP SQUAD

Carrying “Card Coffin” Julie Cline and Linda Walz led the procession at Berdoo Day Rally.

Cleverly working together to make up new routines and cheers for all the Bee games, these cheerleaders, Julie Cline, head, Bonnie Banghart, Pam Brantley, Vana Showalter, and Emily Urata, and Poms, Pam Elkin, head, Ceda Jimenez, Linda Gill, Sharon Johnson and Linda Walz, and flags Bobbi Whiteside and Pam Kucera boosted the junior's and sophomore's spirit. They also participated in the football Homecoming game. All these junior girls beaming with enthusiasm made their first performance at the JV game last September with John Muir High School.

HEARTS AND HONEY

Glowing with a vivacious personality, Evi Yarnell radiantly reigned over the homecoming game and Basketball festivities. Evi and her court, Susie Wiles, first princess; Mary Ann Centofanti, second princess; Julie Cline, junior princess; and Jan Dixon, sophomore princess, were all crowned by Collette Davis, last year's first princess. Fulfilling the romantic theme of "Hearts and Honey," the halftime performance started with an interpretation by the Drill Team who used bright red pom pons for coloring. After the routine, the girls formed a huge heart surrounding all the candidates. Concluding the ceremony, Kristi Draxler, an alto, sang a salute to Queen Evi to the tune of "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi." The words were especially arranged by Mr. McCullough for the memorial occasion.

NOON TIME ACTIVITIES

Arranging for numerous exhibitions and entertainment during the two lunch periods, the chairman of Noon-Time Activities, Mark Henninger, along with Jan Baum, Bill Holcolm and Steve Carter worked to provide new and different programs which varied the usual Pacific pace. Honking horns or petrifying backfires signified to teachers' dismay and to their once attentive students that an automotive specimen was on display in the quad. Noon-time dances were also presented in the gym and the auditorium.

Honking horns, roaring engines, and thick crowds typified the exhibitions in the quad during fourth and fifth lunch periods. Dull moments were few and students enthusiastically responded to car shows, ticket sales, and movies shown as the Chairmen of the Noon-time Activities carried out their jobs.

DONKEY BASKETBALL

Cheering crowds tensely watched the faculty and student teams clash at the hilarious Donkey Basketball game. Constantly coaxing and tugging their stubborn donkeys, the players tried desperately to gain possession of the ball and sink more baskets. Amusing the spectators by accidentally performing several stunning spills, the team members raced from one end of the court to the other. Matching basket to basket the peppy faculty arose victorious over spirited students by a score of 48-46.

CADET CORPS

Cadet corps proudly raised and guarded the flag at football games.

Conscientiously preparing for future life in the armed forces, the Cadet Corps presented the "Stars and Stripes" at sports events. Under the direction of Captain Edward Harris they studied field tactics and artillery maintenance while replacing their gym class with this course.

SHIPMATES

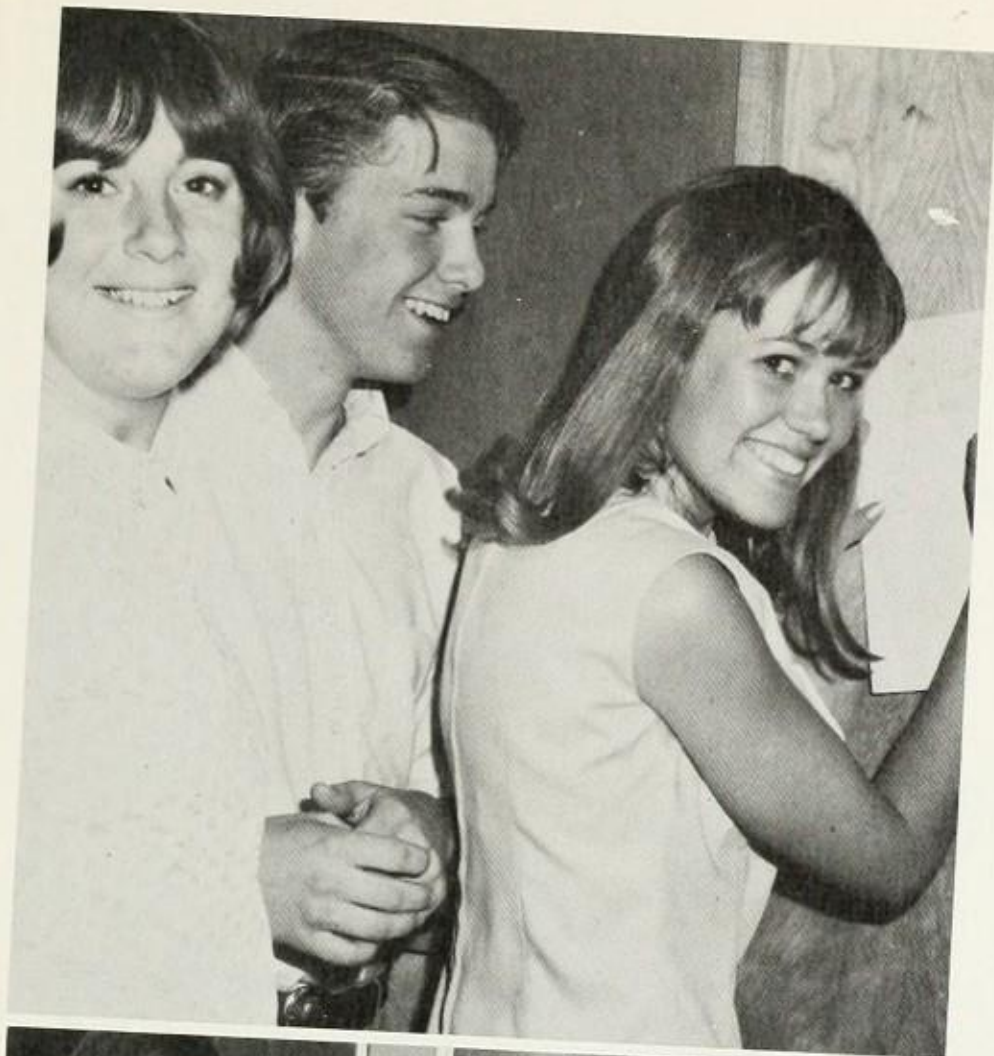

Shipmates served Pacific by making pep posters and by serving at dinners.

"Beat Berdoo" and other clever posters supporting Pacific's football and basketball teams were a few of the creative efforts of this club. Serving as president, Bill Adler, and the other members also performed school service by helping to serve at banquets and luncheons.

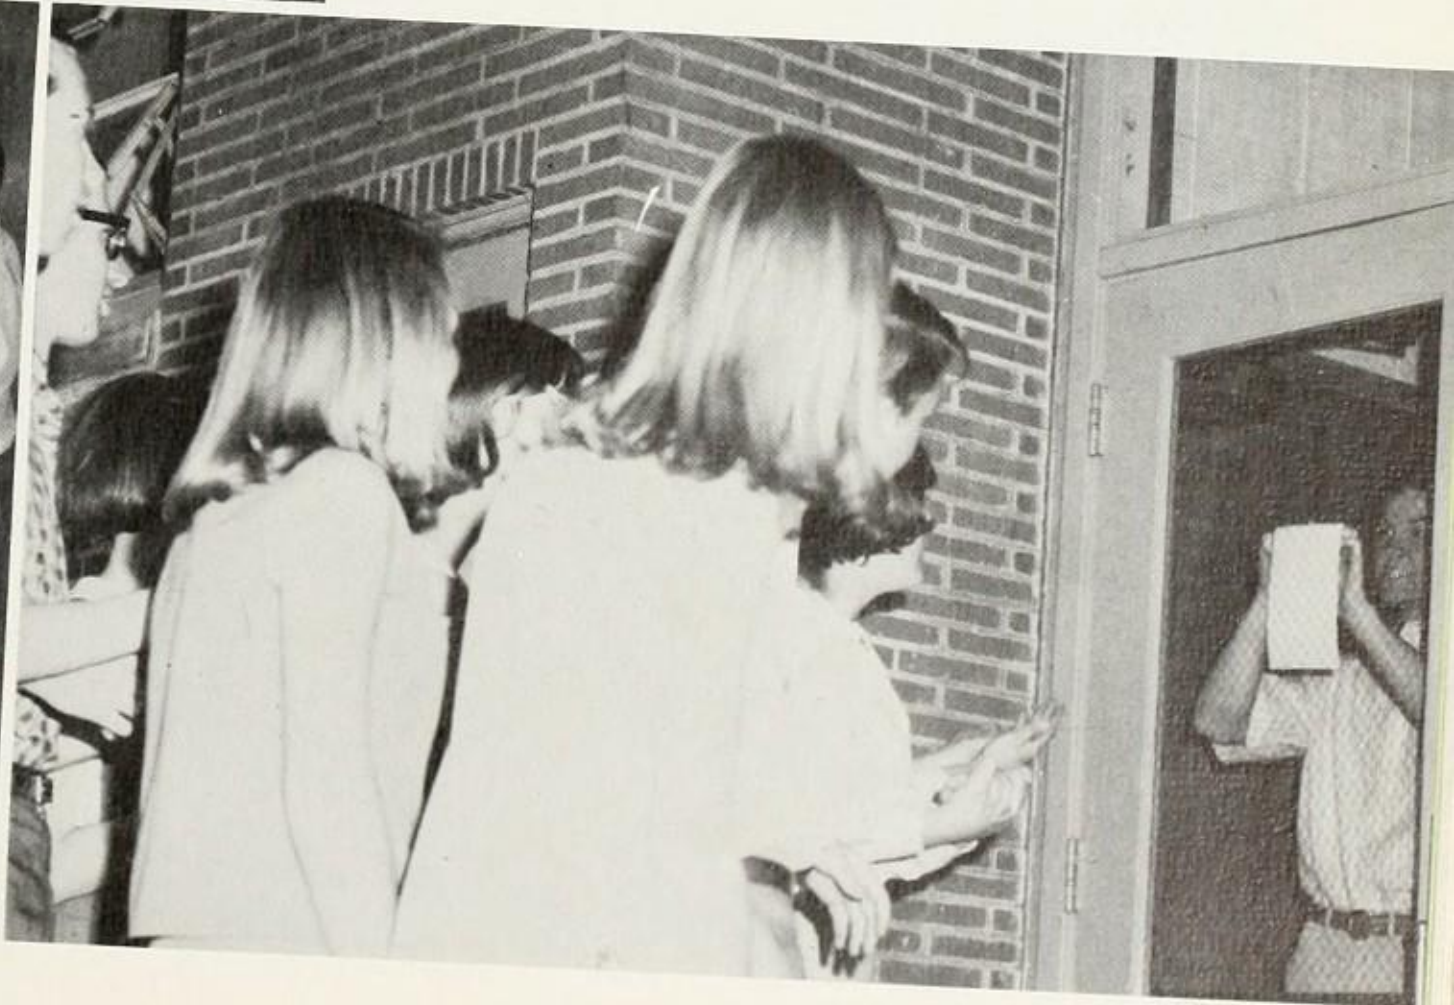

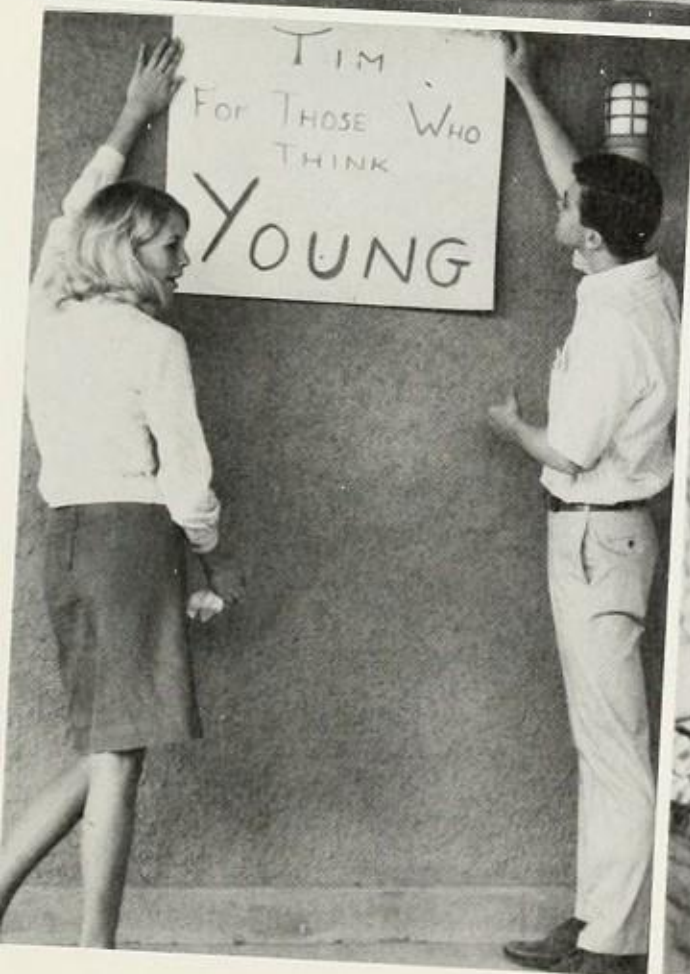

A.S.B. ELECTIONS

Hopeful juniors prepared for the coming A.S.B. elections with excited anticipation. Election Week, April 18-22, brought about a frantic rush to complete petitions and make and hang posters. The efforts of all the candidates reached a climax on Election Day when the list of 66-67 officers was posted.

HOLIDAY SPIRIT

Decorations such as colorful Pinatas and a Christmas Tree added to the school spirit. Pre-season programs were presented by the different choirs and orchestra.

Pirates Den presented lovely teas for both the Student Council and the faculty and the Vocal Ensemble harmoniously sang Christmas carols. Mr. Jones decorated the library with colorful pinatas bought in Tijuana.

After hours of work, Dave Wyatt and Peg Sackrider enjoyed the ball.

LINDA HARRINGTON

Sponsoring their own homecoming, the all CBL mat team proudly crowned Linda Harrington their Wrestling Sweetheart during the televised game and half-time festivities held at Valley College. Queen Linda was presented with beautiful long-stemmed roses, while all her princesses received nosegays.

WRESTLING SWEETHEART

Sparkling Eyes
Radiated Loveliness

Queen Linda and her court, Diane Parker, first princess; Kathy Cook, second princess; and Julie Cline, and Clarissa Harper, both tied for third princess, nervously watched the wrestlers win their match.

Below: Numerous stars were born on Pacific's stage. Well-known to all pirates were Granny Goose (Bob Davis), Natasha (Ellery Sorkin), the Golly Green Giant (Al Green), the Bad Fairy, (Craig Kamansky), and a special guest, Josh Wind.

ASSEMBLIES AND RALLIES

Providing an appropriate setting and ample facilities for the numerous assemblies and rallies, Elsie Gibbs Auditorium was frequently filled to capacity with cheering crowds who listened and laughed with glee at the mirth-filled skits of N.B.C. and Laughs Unlimited.

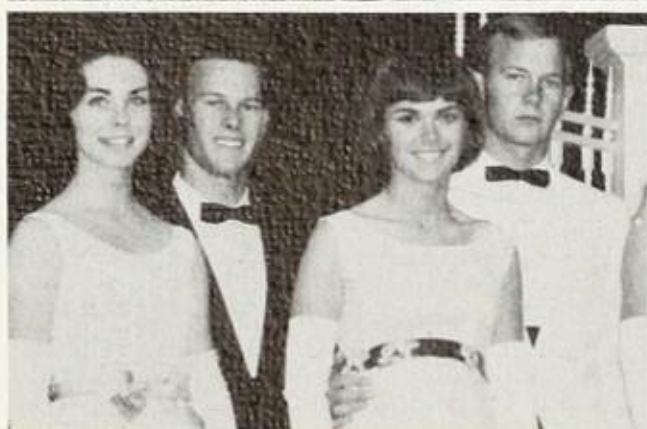

LEHIS PROM PREVIEW

Presenting their annual fashion show for the first time in the Elsie Gibbs auditorium, the senior members of Lehis modeled the latest in formal styles, especially the popular empire waistline. Their escorts wore the traditional black or white tuxedos. Sponsored by the San Bernardino Harris store, the show was coordinated by Pacific's two representatives on the Campus Deb Board, Carolyn Crowder, and Cherie Ginkins. Back stage, the junior and sophomore members worked to help the models into their gowns. The show was acclaimed by many pirates to have been one of the best ever presented.

"Happy as a bride," Katie Van Wie, modeling white wedding gown, escorted by Glenn Switzer.

While last minute checks were made on gowns by Carolyn and Cherie, Nancy Cotugna's appearance was approved by Vana Showalter. After much preparation, the show received approval of all pirates.

ORANGE SHOW

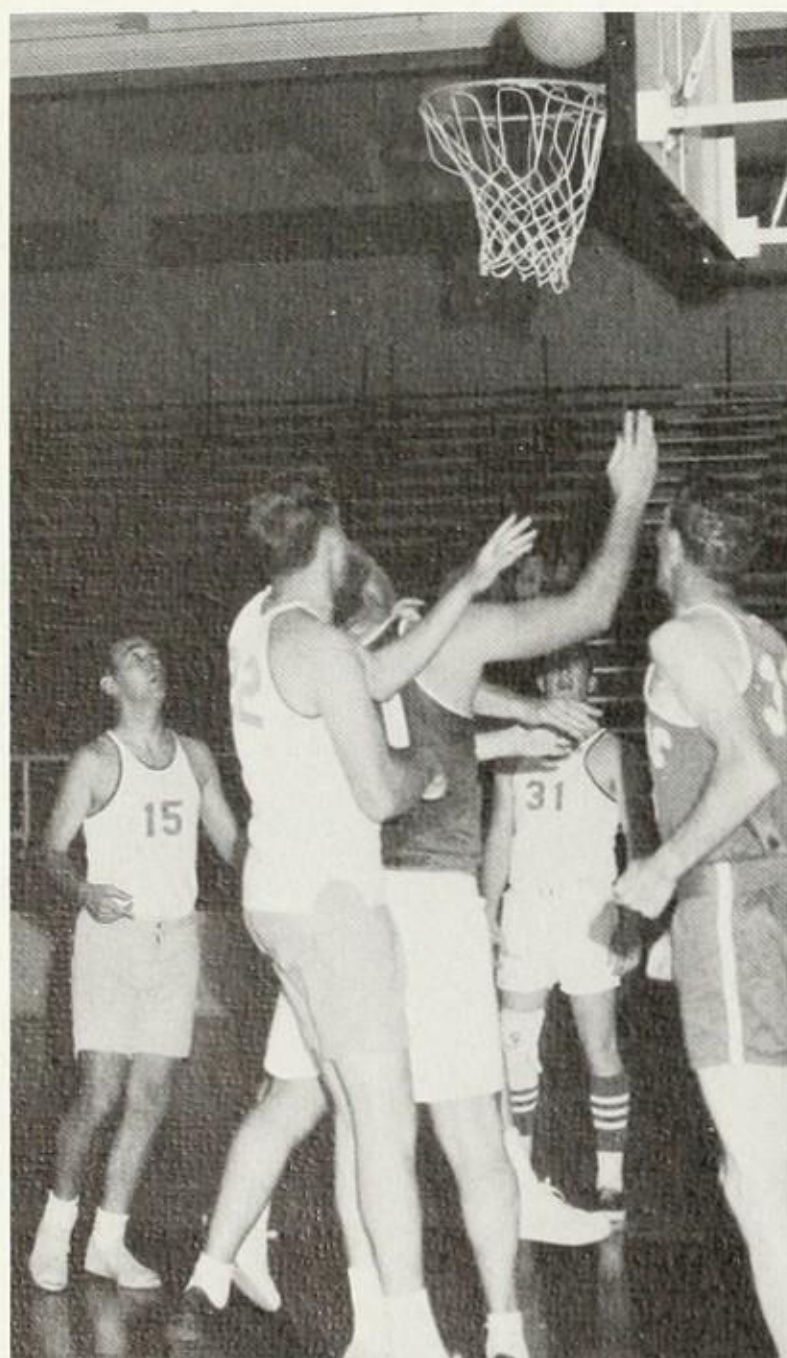

Breaking all previous records, the National Orange Show proved to be one of the major attractions of the year. The midway, exhibits, parades, rodeo, and others provided entertainment.

While Margie Widmeyer and Fred Tyson enjoyed the atmosphere of exotic and beautiful flower exhibit, Darlene Urlaub tried her hand at tossing dimes on dots with the hope of winning a big panda bear.

48 TO 40

Pacific's faculty topples San G.

Accepting a challenge to a faculty basketball game with San Geronimo High, our "leaders" arose triumphantly to maintain Pacific's tradition of being the best. Winning by a narrow margin of eight points, Coach Young dominated the boards and was supported by Coaches Hall and Page. Enthusiastic Pirates attended the game to cheer our faculty to victory.

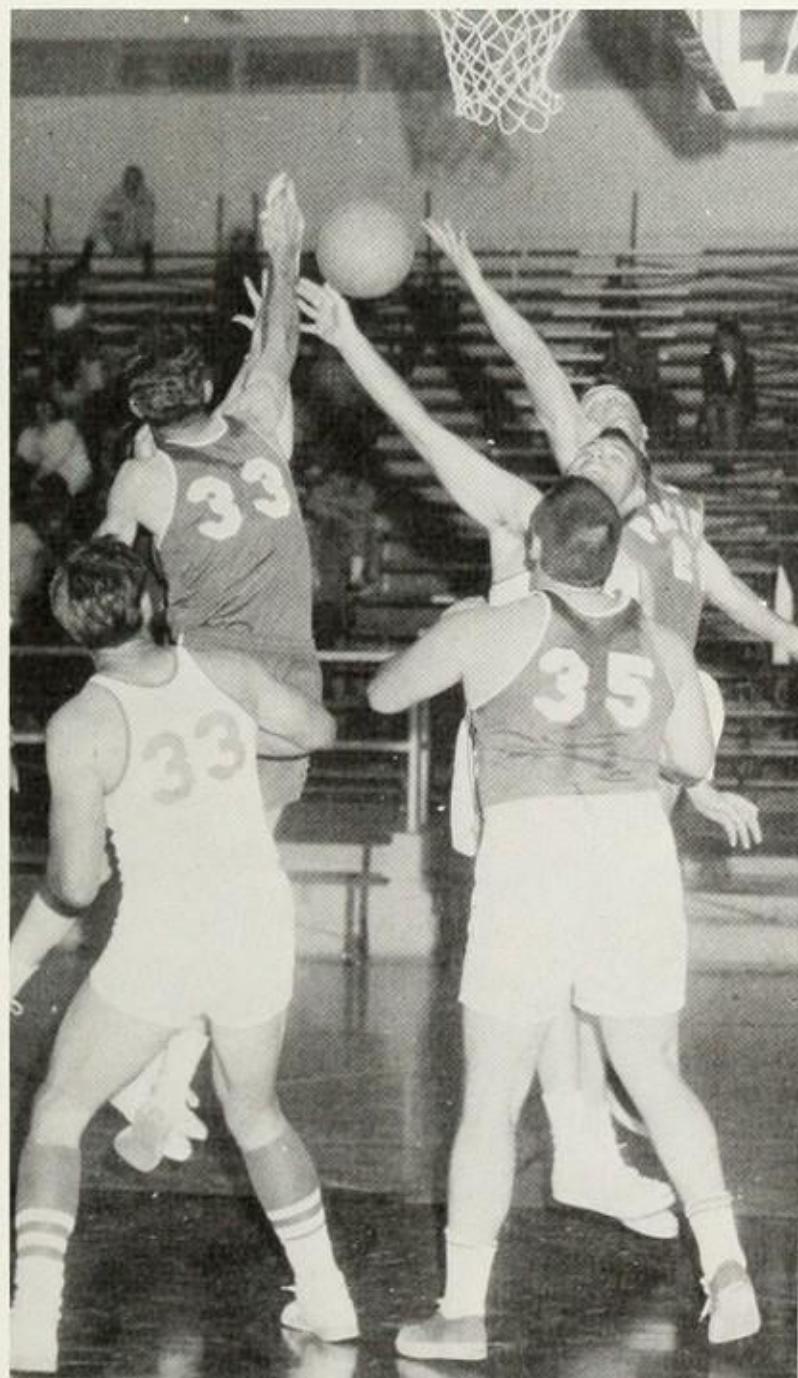

Left) Watching San G. score, Mr. Page (right) raced to the other side of court to help with the "four-hand grab" for the ball. Dr. Bailey also played in the exciting game.

RICH MAN POOR MAN BEGGAR...

No matter what a Pirate's future and chosen profession was going to be, Pacific's training greatly contributed to his preparations. Many varied courses were offered to further his knowledge in his special field.

JUNIORS

Class of '67

Emerson stated, "Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm." This year's enthusiastic Juniors worked to complete class projects in preparation for the Prom. In November, the class of 1967 sponsored both the Back-to-School Night Bake Sale and a magazine sale. A surfing film was shown in January as a Junior-Sophomore project. By February, members of the Junior Social Council carried out the Prom theme Chalet Enchanté. The Juniors climaxed a successful year on Prom night.

Organizing activities were Vicki Norberg, Secretary; Rick Foster, Representative; Jacki Erickson, Representative; Tim Young, President; Gary Baxter, V.P.; Jill Samuels, Representative; Bob Stelzer, Treasurer.

Supervising activities in which the Junior Class members participated during 1966 were sponsors Walt Enchanting dreams preluded the Prom.

PROM '66

Creating an atmosphere of enchantment, Chalet Enchanté fulfilled the dreams of many for the Junior-Senior Prom, 1966. Dinner, dancing, and fantasy were all part of an occasion that had followed many months of anxiety. Setting a romantic alpine mood, a melodic dance band played through the evening as enhanced couples danced until 1:00. Culminating months of planning, organizing, and developing an appropriate theme, the class of '67 honored the seniors with an unforgettable evening. Without the superior guidance of art teacher, Jim Fotia, and the never-ending zeal and determination of the ambitious Prom Committee, Chalet Enchanté would never have been possible. Tiresome hours of work were forgotten upon seeing the delightful results of sleepless nights and occupied afternoons in the midst and environment of an incomparable Junior-Senior Prom.

RAYMOND H. POSTEMA

Sometimes when it is least expected, tragedy comes into our lives. Such was the case on an ordinary Tuesday evening when Mr. Raymond H. Postema, while officiating a Rubidoux-Corona High basketball game, suffered an apparent heart attack and died soon after at a nearby hospital. We, the students of Pacific High, lost not just another teacher, but a truly fine friend who always worked hard to help individuals better themselves physically on the athletic field and mentally in the classroom. He possessed the quality of wanting to help the untrained, thinking of others before himself. In his ten years of service at Pacific he not only established a winning tennis team, but he worked as referee and Basketball coach in his spare time. Upon Dr. Bailey's request, Mr. Charles Kalnin has established a scholarship fund in memory of Mr. Postema. The scholarship will be awarded annually to any tennis player exhibiting outstanding sportsmanship, ability, and citizenship. To all who had the pleasure of knowing him, Mr. Postema was truly a "great guy."

1965 VARSITY FOOTBALL

Undaunted by pre-season defeats against top teams from John Muir, Santa Ana, and Westminster, Head Coach Ralph Caulo's Pirates retained their CBL title as co-champs as they downed four or five of their CBL adversaries. After a 28-6 setback from Ramona, the Bucs went on to play their most astonishing and exciting game with title-favorite, Redlands, in which our determined Pirates walked off the field with a 13-12 margin of victory. By upsetting the Terriers, Pacific knotted the CBL title race in a triple tie. This tie remained unbroken as Ramona, Redlands, and Pacific all went on to win their remaining two encounters with relatively "easy" foes. In our last two CBL games our Bucs annihilated the San Bernardino Cardinals with a second-half explosion, 28-7, before an enthusiastic homecoming crowd of 7,125, and smashed a fired-up Fontana team, 18-13. The Citrus Belt League Varsity football season ended with a three-way tie; however, since Redlands did not go into the CIF playoffs last year, and since we were trimmed by the Rams, the Terriers and Ramona were selected to represent the Citrus Belt League in further CIF competition. Our co-championship grid squad was piloted by Head Coach Ralph Caulo who was assisted by Coach John Marmen, George Tesla, and George Hall. Caulo's first year of head-coaching produced eleven Pirates who gained All-CBL honors. They were Ken Bailey at tackle, Lester Baker at halfback, Mike Swanson at center, Rich Taliaferro at end, George Tribble at fullback, Jerry Whitebrook at guard, and Mike Williams at tackle. Honorable mentions were awarded to Chris Cox at guard, Jim Hines at end and fullback, Jay McConnell at the quarterback spot, and Mike Sands at center and end.

Sweeping around left end, rough, tough, George Tribble streaks past surprised Santa Monica defense. Scoring all three of Pacific's touchdowns and gaining 162 yards in 15 packs, Tribble literally "ran away" with the game. As the outstanding player, he led our determined Buc squad to victory, 21-14.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

By following Pacific's All-CBL tackle, Mike Williams, photographers were able to illustrate the daily routine and schedule of a varsity gridder. Mike worked hard to excel in all his classes, including problems, as well as on the field. During practice, he plowed into a tackling dummy held by his teammate, Chris Cox. Mike Participated in a rigorous training program that required physical endurance, co-ordination and mental alertness. Pre-game warm-ups were very common as he prepared for a grueling encounter with SBHS.

Finding no free real estate, a hapless Chaffey tiger was subdued by a fierce pirate line. Pacific's defense was at its best, dominating the entire game.

Junior halfback, Les Baker, tallied two TD's for the Bucs, while senior fullback, Jim Hines, contributed another to tame the growling Chaffey tigers, 21-7.

Bursting through the paper hoop at Orange Show Stadium, Mike led the mighty Pirate squad onto the field of battle. Outstanding performances in games such as Pacific's annihilation of the San Bernardino Cardinals, 28-7, earned Mike the honor of being elected co-captain of the squad.

Turning in one of the greatest games in school history, Pacific toppled favored Redlands for the first time in five years on key touchdowns by junior stars, QB Jay McConnell and halfback, Lester Baker.

BUCS TOPPLE TERRIERS

Peering onto the field, Head Coach Ralph Caulo sizes up the situation to formulate a game-winning strategy for his determined pirate team.

Relaying valuable information from phones, Coach Tesla aids Caulo.

Decisive victories against all the Citrus Belt League teams except Redlands, gave Coach Bill Neel more than enough reason to be thankful for a "real enjoyable year." Coach Neel predicts that most of his boys will play again next year. Although mostly sophomores comprised the team roster, they worked hard and shaped up into real tough, hard-to-beat competitors and led the J.V. Pirates to victory.

Undaunted by a slow start, Coach Don Niemeyer's talented "Bee" gridgers powered their way on through a tough Citrus Belt League season. The game everybody in Fontana is still talking about is the last one of the season in which our Baby Bucs thoroughly thrashed the surprised Steelers, 46-7. Coach Niemeyer is certain that at least six of his "B" football players qualify as top varsity prospects for next year. Coach John Grenfell and Jim Fotia worked as his assistants.

Coach Tom Farr outlines racing rules for SBHS mentor, Mr. Scott.

Running their finest ever, Pacific's Cross-country harriers captured 4th in the Citrus Belt League Championship Tournament held at Ramona. Pirate Craig Lee strided in for a sixth-place finish in the Varsity division. Frank Turtle Miller was the second Pirate to finish, just 34 seconds off Lee's time and only ten seconds ahead of challenging Joseph Charez. Dark-horse finisher and captain Tom Hirsch sprinted in ahead of Richard Lasky and his speedy brother, Ron Hirsch. Tim Bindner, the 7th Pirate runner, also finished the difficult two-mile course. The final results of the tournament were: Ramona 30, Redlands 33, Chaffey 85, Pacific 110, SBHS 146, and Fontana 157. Coach Farr's Pirate's lacking in depth, possessed good strength, endurance, and quality.

Completing perhaps the greatest basketball season in our ten-year school history, Coach Jim Hackleman's senior-dominated Varsity Basketball team finished with a near-perfect 23-4 record. Our Pirates gained second-place honors in the Huntington Beach Tournament, first-place in the annual Kiwanis Tournament, and climaxed their season's tournament competition with another Championship in the Ramona Tournament. Our Pirate varsity also compiled an impressive 8-0 won-lost record during the summer in the Chaffey League as they romped over opposing teams from South Hills, Victorville, Chaffey, Montclair, and San Bernardino. Hackleman's Bucs, ninth-ranked in the CIF poll, finished second in the Citrus Belt League only one game behind Ramona High with an 8-2 record; thus, gaining a berth as the number two representative from the CBL in "do-or-die" CIF competition.

Classy senior guard, Doug Wealch, finds open shot against Ramona cagers Vanderpool (50), Masi (42).

Racing toward the championship, Pacific thwarted favored Antelope Valley before screaming crowds in the first of four games to be played in the San Bernardino Kiwanis Basketball Tournament, 99-43. Pacific's unrelenting attack left the Antelopes breathless, as all five of the Pirate starters hit in double figures. After sending the San Diego Cavemen back to the Ice Age in the second game, 82-60, Pacific continued its winning streak in the third game by crushing a wild Centennial Apache quintet, 80-56. Coming from behind for an amazing 63-62 victory in the final game with previously unbeaten Long Beach Poly, our pirates became the first San Bernardino County cage team to win the Kiwanis Basketball Tournament in its eight-year history. In the final 36 seconds of the game, All-CIF guard R. Mosier potted a fantastic 15-foot bank shot to hand Poly its first loss in 32 games over a two-year period. All-tourney honors were gained by pirates T. Beck, who was fourth in tournament scoring with 82, D. Wealch, and R. Mosier, who was voted most valuable player of the tournament.

Leaping Mark VanKirk tips in another two points.

BUCS ROMP RAMONA

Leading all the way, our unrelenting Pirates swept three straight victories in the Ramona Basketball Tournament for their second tourney championship in two weeks. Our champion Bucs gained their independence in the opening game by musketing the Anaheim Colonists, 55-48. In the second game, a challenging Monrovia High School team met its eventual destruction as our torrid Pirate offense stuffed a decisive 73-47 victory through the hoop. In the finals, the Ramona Rams suffered the final blow of Pacific's "1-2-3 Punch" and lost, 59-48. Coach Jim Hackleman's slick varsity cagers placed three teammates on the All-tournament squad. Flashy center Terry Beck, elusive forward Steve Carter, and long-shot guard Doug Wealch gained All-tourney positions while Coach Hackleman won outstanding coaching trophy.

BUCS BOMB BERDOO

Granting no mercy, our fantastic Pirate team forced cross-town rival SBHS to walk the plank of defeat three consecutive times this season and clinched the Sun-Telegram trophy and the City Championship. Led by classy guards, Doug Wealch and All-CIF Roger Mosier, our Pirate quintet butchered the candy cardinals 72-53, 76-56, and 83-55. In the final game, All-CIF grid star Ken Bailey gathered in 24 rebounds to spark Pacific's control of the game and come to within 8 of breaking the school record for rebounding set in 1956 by Lloyd Lewis. A school record was broken, however, by speedy Roger Mosier for total season scoring as he ended up with 449, erasing the old mark of 427.

PIRATES CHALLENGE C.I.F.

Reaching the CIF quarter-finals, farther than any other Pirate team in the school's history, Coach Jim Hackleman's fast-breaking 1966 Varsity basketball team ended a brilliant 25-5 season record. With four All-CBL team members—Roger Mosier, Terry Beck, Doug Wealch, and Ken Bailey—leading the way, our Pirates taught the Arroyo Knights a lesson in chivalry and jousted their CIF hopes, 87-75. Advancing to the second round of CIF competition, our potent Pirates faced-off with Covina High and outdrew their Colts, emerging victorious, 72-61. Long Beach Poly got its revenge against Pacific by subduing our Pirates, 85-59. Senior guard and team leader, Roger Mosier, scored a school record of 35 points against Arroyo, and became the first Pirate in history to make the CIF first team.

Highlighting a truly successful season, Coach George Hall's Junior Varsity Cagers walked away with a decisive Championship in the Riverside Elks Tournament. A Rubidoux quintet was easily defeated in the first game of the tourney, 66-48; a Pomona team succumbed to a smashing Pirate offense in the second tip-off, 76-46; and in the semifinals our Pirates bombed the visiting Redlands team, 67-62. Pulling away in the finals, our undefeated JV five beat SBHS, 65-48. The team ended with a 16-5 record as Mark Levin scored 274 points in 21 games.

For most of us the Christmas vacation was a time for just relaxation and freedom away from school studies, but for our athletic teams it was the time for "VICTORY." Our Bee Basketball team was no exception, however. Led by high-scoring senior forward, Dennis Carlock, our Bees played their finest ever and captured the Championship of the Aquinas Tournament. Without the decisive coaching by Mr. Arvil Hale many Pirate victories could have fallen the other way. But good coaching, fine sportsmanship, and excellent scoring ability proved to be deciding factors for Pirate supremacy. Our Bees ended with a fine 15-6 season record, ending 6-4 in CBL.

Fighting valiantly, Pirate Bee star Uribes pots in another basket for Coach Arvil Hale's explosive team in important clash with Redlands.

Sprinting in for a valuable two points in the final seconds, Don Roberts lays in a bucket to spark Pirate Bees over Ramona, 71-68.

Coach Patterson's Cees compile 10-5 Season Record

Not wanting to be left out of the shining spotlight of one of Pacific's greatest years in athletics, our lowly Cee Basketball team fought its way through a rough CBL season and ended with an excellent 10-5 won lost record. Led by the expert coaching of Mr. Chuck Patterson, our "C" cagers worked hard daily to improve their basketball skills on the court. The few people who did attend their games soon came to realize that they were, on their own level of course, really just as good as any of our other more popular JV or Varsity teams. Outstanding performances by ever-improving John Shaffer helped to gain our Cees the equal status they most certainly deserve.

Speeding away from all outside competition, "C" cage star Rubin Chavez appears to be all alone as he lays up easy basket for Pacific.

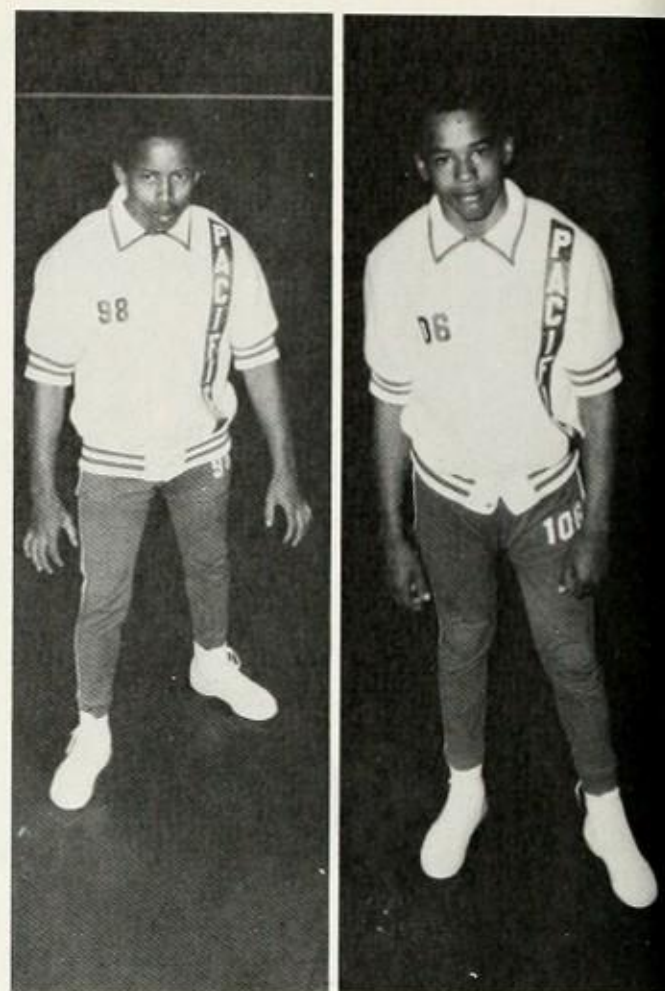

Although they received very little school support, our Cee cagers, led by high-scoring John Shaffer (34), continued to upset cage teams.

Pirate wrestlers take second in CIF . . .

Clinching another CBL Tournament Championship, Coach Al Liles' Varsity wrestlers challenged CIF competitors and walked off the mat in the finals with a hard-won second place. Our Pirates tallied up 37 points with outstanding performances by John Clay, Charles Newman, and George Tribble. In the 98-pound class Clay finished second, in the 186-pound class Tribble grabbed another second, and in the 136-pound class Newman won the CIF championship. During the CBL season, our Pirates proved their supremacy in the league by defeating everyone except SBHS, ending in a three-way tie for the CBL Championship. Compiling 97 points in the CBL Tournament, our Pirates again dominated the other competing teams as CBL titlists were John Clay 98; Joe Kinnard, 126; Chuck Newman, 136; Cy Christos, 157; Scott Dyer, 194.

Buc Spikers sweep third in Annual Steeler Relays...

Starting their work-outs in early February, Coach John Grenfell's trackmen prepared themselves for a long, hard season which lasted until the summer days of June. Stiff competition, national records, and powerful opponents encountered our Pirate cindermen. Faced with the fact that more national records come from our area of the country than any other place in the world, an athlete at Pacific quickly learned that it was necessary to work that much harder than the next guy in order to compete in further tracks for the ultimate goal, Championship. Aided by distance coach Tom Farr and field coach Bill Neel, Coach Grenfell led his Track team against mean opposition to slate a third-place finish out of about 25 schools in the annual Steeler Relays witnessed by many fans on the red clay track of Fontana High School.

Pirates rally to crush cross-town Cardinals, 10-2...

Maintaining first position in the rugged Citrus Belt League, Coach Wayne Elton's Varsity Baseball Team enjoyed a hard-earned 8-4 early season record. With clutch hitting, superb pitching, and speedy base-running our Pirate Batmen established themselves as rough competitors in the CBL. Assisted by Coach Arvil Hale, Coach Elton piloted the Varsity squad to victories against league opponents. In the first league game, our Pirates upset defending CBL champion Chaffey 5-4. Rival SBHS was thoroughly crushed, 10-2.

Coach Weiny's swimmers "Splash-down" for 10-2 Season

Despite the fact they received little school support and encouragement, the swimming teams, nevertheless, worked hard before and after regular school hours to complete a grueling season with near-perfect marks. Sparked by the expert leadership of Coach George Weiny, the Varsity and "B" Team each finished the season with 10-2 won/lost records. Even the lowly Cee Team, although lacking somewhat in number, managed to keep up with the torrid pace with their excellent 6-6 record after much effort put out on their part. The unrelenting and fast-improving Varsity Swimming Team scored major upsets and decisive victories during the wet Citrus Belt League season. Among the upsets was the drowning of a powerful Fontana team, 74-21. For those Pirates who were good enough to make Coach Weiny's Swimming Squad, swimming proved to be not just another minor sport. It not only required intensive practice, but a will to win, determination, and ability.

GIRLS' SPORTS

Striving for all-around sportswomen, Pacific's Physical Education Department had a varied sports program last year. Beginning in the fall with volleyball and finishing in the spring with archery, this ambition was fulfilled adequately. Physical fitness tests measured the abilities acquired by the girls during the year. Pacific's girls were tested in the fall and in the spring in five different categories: sit-ups, push-ups, broad jump, shuttle run, and the 600 yard run. Sophomores and juniors excelled in the tests, netting the majority of the top scores.

Enjoying the various sitting and kneeling positions that were taught to juniors in modern dance are Coye James, Cathy Cook, Rita Cofrancesco, Judy Paris, Susan Mapes.

We work as a team regardless of who has the ball.

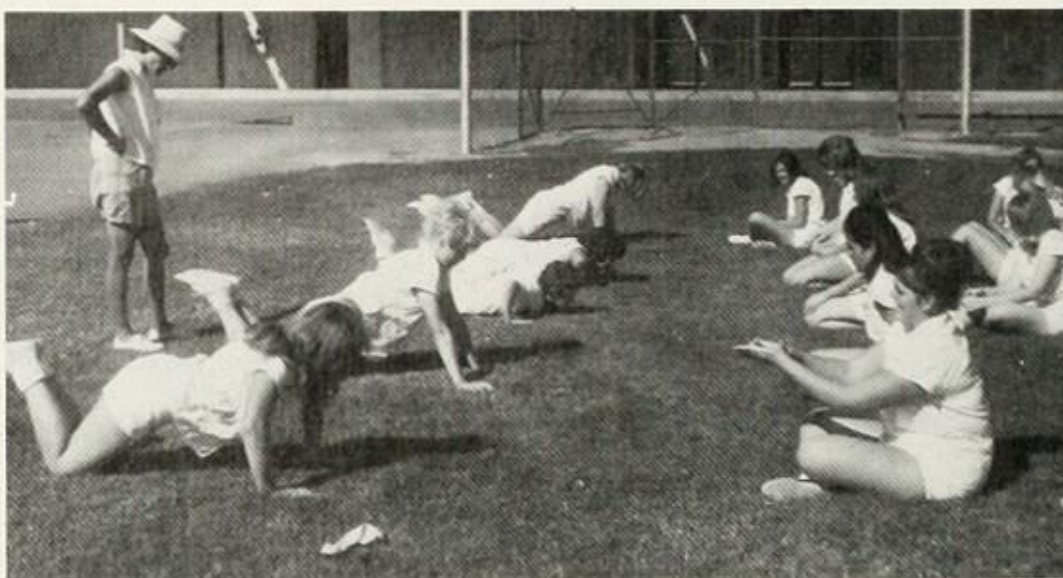

Sandy Smith and Charlene Thomas were enthusiastically involved in a stirring game of tennis.

"Should I or shouldn't I?" This mischievous thought plagued many of the girls taking golf at Pacific High.

"Keep those backs straight, girls!" cried Miss Wyss as the push-up test came to an extremely exhausting end.

Nearing the finish line, these girls had huffed and puffed their way around the track for the six hundred yard run.

Striving to achieve a high score, these girls crowded as many sit-ups as possible into the one-minute time limit.

Stroking into its thirteenth season, Pacific's Varsity Golf Team, guided by an experienced Coach Dan Young, established itself as the leading Citrus Belt League title contender by surging ahead with an early 6-0 season record. After 13 completed golf seasons, Pacific has now become the proud owner of an amazing 166-33 won/lost record. Two to three hours of daily practice are required for excellence in the "glamor sport." Coach Dan Young's swingers proved to be just as good, if not better, than previous Pirate Golf teams which have combined their annual skills to win the CBL CROWN ever since the formation of the league. Upsets, smashing victories, and close calls were not too common during the golf season which began in the early days of April and ended late in June. In Golf the low score wins. For example, our Pirates snubbed a team from Glendora by a score of 212 to 219.

Swinging gayly with the breeze, returning letterman Barry Gold tees-off for Pacific. Notice his unusual technique as he attempted to display the winning golf form characteristic of a CBL champion.

ORIENTATION DAY

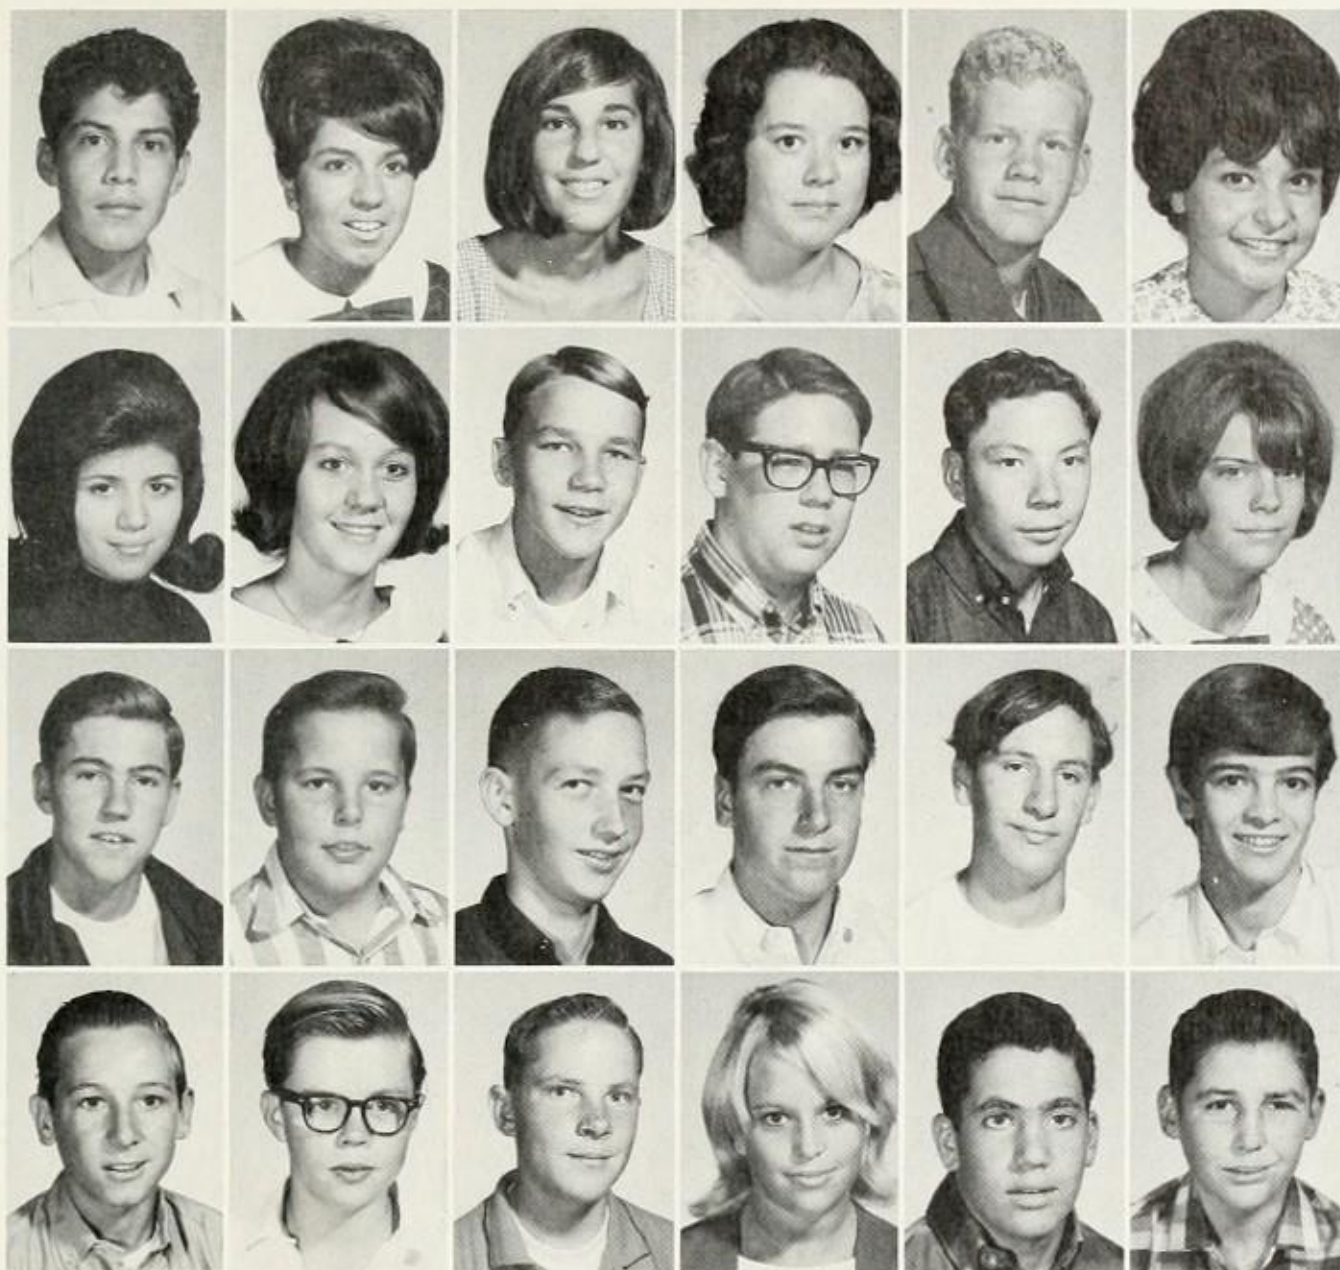

Exuberant sophomores met on September 14, which marked the day when the "Sophs" became orientated with Pacific. From 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m., new students roamed the campus dazed at what high school life would be like. Many were assigned to specific rooms where they were introduced to their counselors. They then had their class pictures taken, attended a pep rally in the auditorium, and were introduced to the varsity cheerleaders. Club displays were next on the agenda, followed by the purchase of ASB cards and handbooks. Lockers and library cards were also distributed at that time. Tired and weary, the new classmates were officially welcomed to Pacific High School.

Bewilderment and amazement went

SOPHOMORE CAMPOUT

Launching their lives as Pacific Pirates, over 200 sophomores attended the annual sophomore campout held this year at Round Meadow YMCA Camp. Buses, laden with sleeping bags, traveled up the winding mountain roads as the enthusiastic sophomores learned the traditional cheers from the varsity leadership girls. Upon arrival, buses were unloaded and the sophomores were assigned to cabins. Friday night, a roaring campfire provided the scene for a skit and the introduction of the student council and faculty. A watermelon feed followed and the sophomores successfully gorged themselves before viewing the movie "Bachelor in Paradise." Saturday morning after a sleepless night, the sophomores were free to enjoy the facilities of the camp, including volleyball, hiking, and swimming, before returning to Pacific's campus.

Two days of excitement filled the lives of 200 sophomores.

ELECTIONS

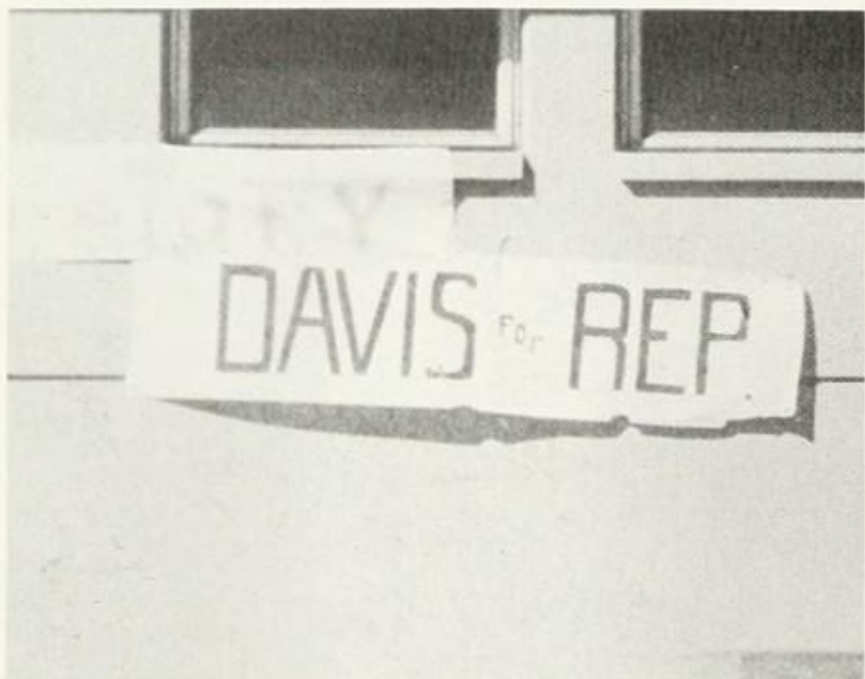

Speeding to the student council room, eager candidates flocked to see the outcome of last year's sophomore election. "I can't believe it" was the response of both winners and losers.

Voters went to the polls to cast their ballots for their favorite candidates on October 5. Campaigning for a sophomore office was both adventurous and rewarding as many of the new students found out. Many hung posters, gave speeches, and handed out ribbons with anticipation of winning one of the sought after offices on the sophomore council. After the votes had been tallied, they were posted in the main office where students viewed the results. The officers for 1966 were Dave Brewer, President; Debi Shane, Vice-president; Wendy Shane, Secretary; Mary Crawford, Treasurer; Jan Dixon, Roger Cooper, and Sandy Davis, Representatives.

Fun and anticipation was Attractive posters of all sizes, shapes and colors hung about Pacific during the two weeks of campaigning, to draw attention to the candidates who were running for an office on Sophomore Council.

New Girls. . . old routines

Rushing out to the quad every day after school in their gym clothes, sophomore girls took the four weeks of leadership training given in November. Varsity Cheerleaders, Poms, Flags, and Batons instructed the hopeful trainees while Mrs. Olson gave advice on style and appearance. New leadership girls, Marilyn Martin, Barbara Nitteberg, Cherie Moore, Trudy Earls, Cheryl Fricke, Jo Cline, Michele Bindner, Wendy Shane, and Darlene Cripps, demonstrated their various abilities.

FAVORITE CLASSES

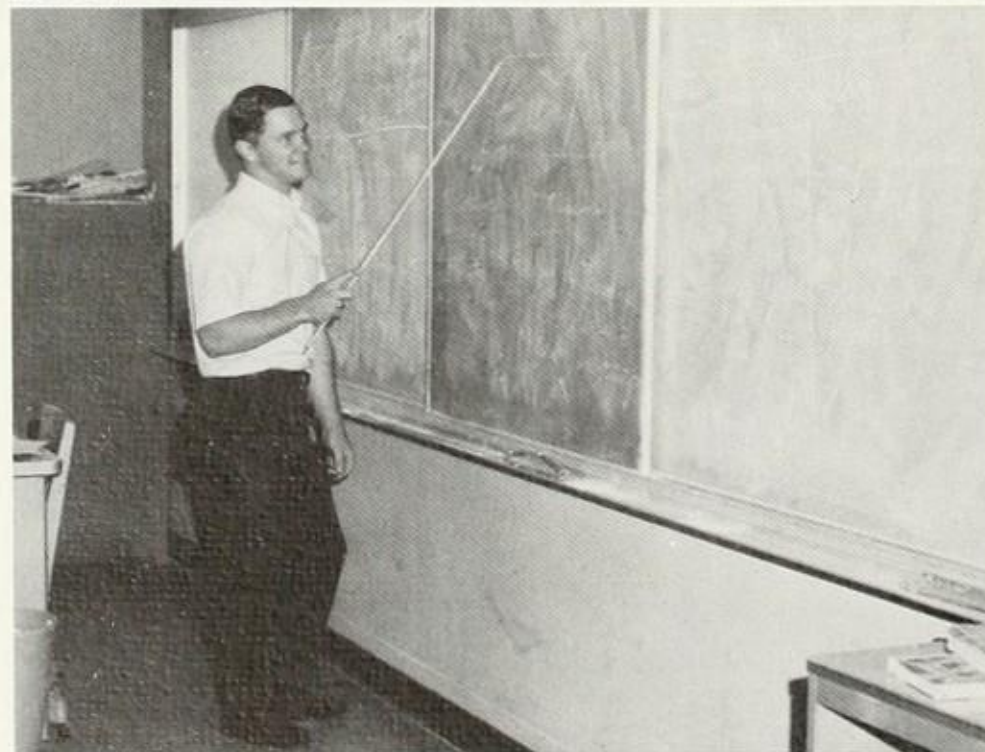

English

Improving on his already fast reading speed of 1800 words per minute, sophomore Tim Williams struggled through the daily tests given to most sophomores in reading lab.

Typing

Speed and accuracy were some of the most important skills that Tim perfected while under the pressures of frequent timed writings in his beginning typing class.

Geometry

Indicating the correct proof of the geometry problem, Tim demonstrated his thorough understanding of the subject. Although math wasn't required, many found it helpful.

History

Attentively listening to one of Mr. Kirk's fascinating world history lectures, Tim absorbed an overwhelming amount of vital lore concerning the development of our world.

SOPHOMORE DARLING

A Dream, Then A Reality . . .

Crowned during the annual Basketball Homecoming game between Pacific and Ramona, Jan Dixon elegantly received the title of 1966 Sophomore Darling. Amid tears of joy, Jan presented with a nosegay of white carnations and red roses, regally received her honor along with Senior Homecoming queen Evi Yarnell, and Junior Princess Julie Cline. Gracefully dressed in a pink and forest green ensemble, Jan was escorted by Paul Gillespie. Other candidates who were nominated for the 1966 Sophomore Princesses were Cindie Wofford, Sandy Davis, and Kitty Gill.

SOPHOMORES JOIN ANNUAL STAFF

Putting out Pacific's yearbook, Pacificana, was a job that required ambition, initiative, and hours of hard work. Time was spent during school, after school, and on weekends preparing this year's annual. Experiencing their first year on the Pacificana were sophomores Debbie Caldwell and John Horton. Having comprised the sophomore members of annual staff during the past year, John and Debbie learned the basic fundamentals of producing a yearbook. Working on various staffs under different editors, John and Debbie learned to organize, layout, and finish annual pages.

The first step toward joining the Pacificana staff was filling out an application. Grades and character were only two of the many points considered for selection. Learning how to write copy and picture captions was one of the many jobs each staff member had to know. Working on the advertising section, Debbie made numerous phone calls to various business establishments. Mr. Nielsen instructed newcomers on how to lay out sections of copy and pictures on each page.

OUTSTANDING SOPHOMORES

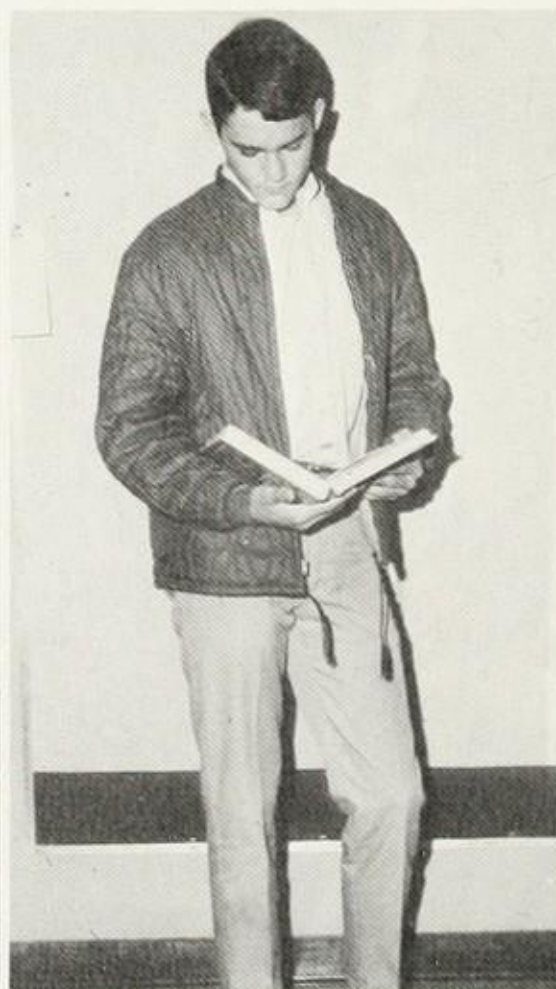

"Sophs" Excelled in many Areas

To become an outstanding student took hours of studying, tons of books carried to and from school, term papers, tests, and the willpower to become exceptional in a certain field of education. Some of the students shown here: Arliss Rest, for her remarkable ability in the area of Geometry; Bob U'Ren for his knowledge of foreign affairs; and Sandy Davis, Ron Goldie, and Don Davidson, for their understanding of American Literature, proved to have that initiative.

Shari, Barbara, and Nancy demonstrated their musical capability while practicing for solo ensemble festival.

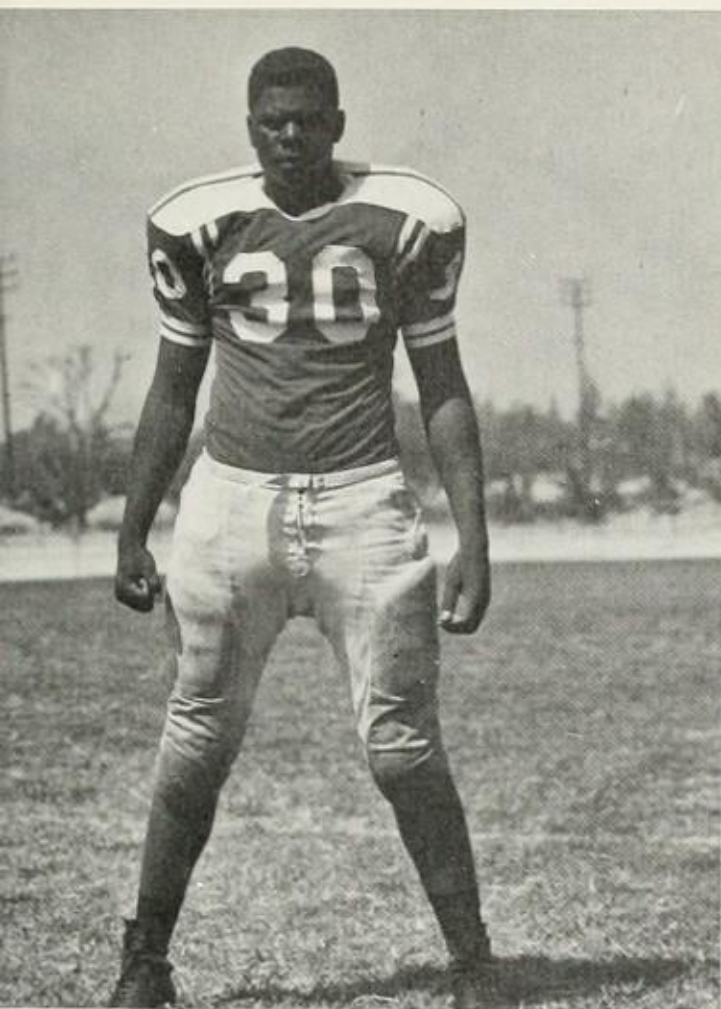

Under the constant supervision of Mr. Mayo, Bob U'Ren learned new, exciting aspects of world history.

Inspiration and talent made up Linda Peterson, outstanding sophomore in the field of art.

Cliff Culbreath was an excellent example of athletic ability.

An excellent student in Geometry Arliss Rest found the theory of mathematics to be amazingly easy.

Working earnestly with advisor Mrs. Grace E. Peterson on Inter-Club Council constitutional revisions are Ellery Sorkin, ICC president, Joanne Barbuto, ICC secretary, and Tom Hirsch, ICC vice-president.

ICC, Pacific's backbone to all club activities, met for breakfast on the last Friday of each month. Honor, social service, and special interest clubs were members of ICC as well as band, the various singing groups, Pacificana, and Hi Tide. This comprised a total of sixty campus clubs. President Ellery Sorkin worked with advisor Mrs. Grace Peterson to reorganize the ICC constitution. Clubs were compelled to turn in membership lists, officers lists, and constitutions in order to become recognized as an on-campus club. New rules were presented and approved concerning officers, and patents were redistributed. Due to the revision of the ICC constitution, club functions ran smoothly and efficiently throughout the school year.

Interest Aids Learning

Special interest clubs contributed greatly to campus life. Each club offered valuable opportunities for students to broaden their particular interest. AFS encouraged world understanding. Radio Production provided entertainment with broadcasts over KVCR radio. The language, science, medical, and sports clubs increased students' knowledge of their specific field. Thespians produced three excellent plays, and Laughs Unlimited presented humorous skits during lunch periods. Other special interest clubs equally contributed to school activities.

These groups accepted new members at the beginning of each semester. The applicants were required to have high qualifications in the fields of academic achievement and school and community service. Service projects performed included K.D.'s service at the Kiwanis Basketball Tournament, Debuts help at county hospital, and Key Club and Pagettes' service at Civic Light Opera. Social activities also added to success of the clubs. Examples are the Lehis' prom fashion show, Dantes' Golden Ball, Hi Tri's Night in Vegas Dance, and numerous Key Club banquets. Social service clubs proved worthwhile for those students who participated.

HOMECOMING FLOATS

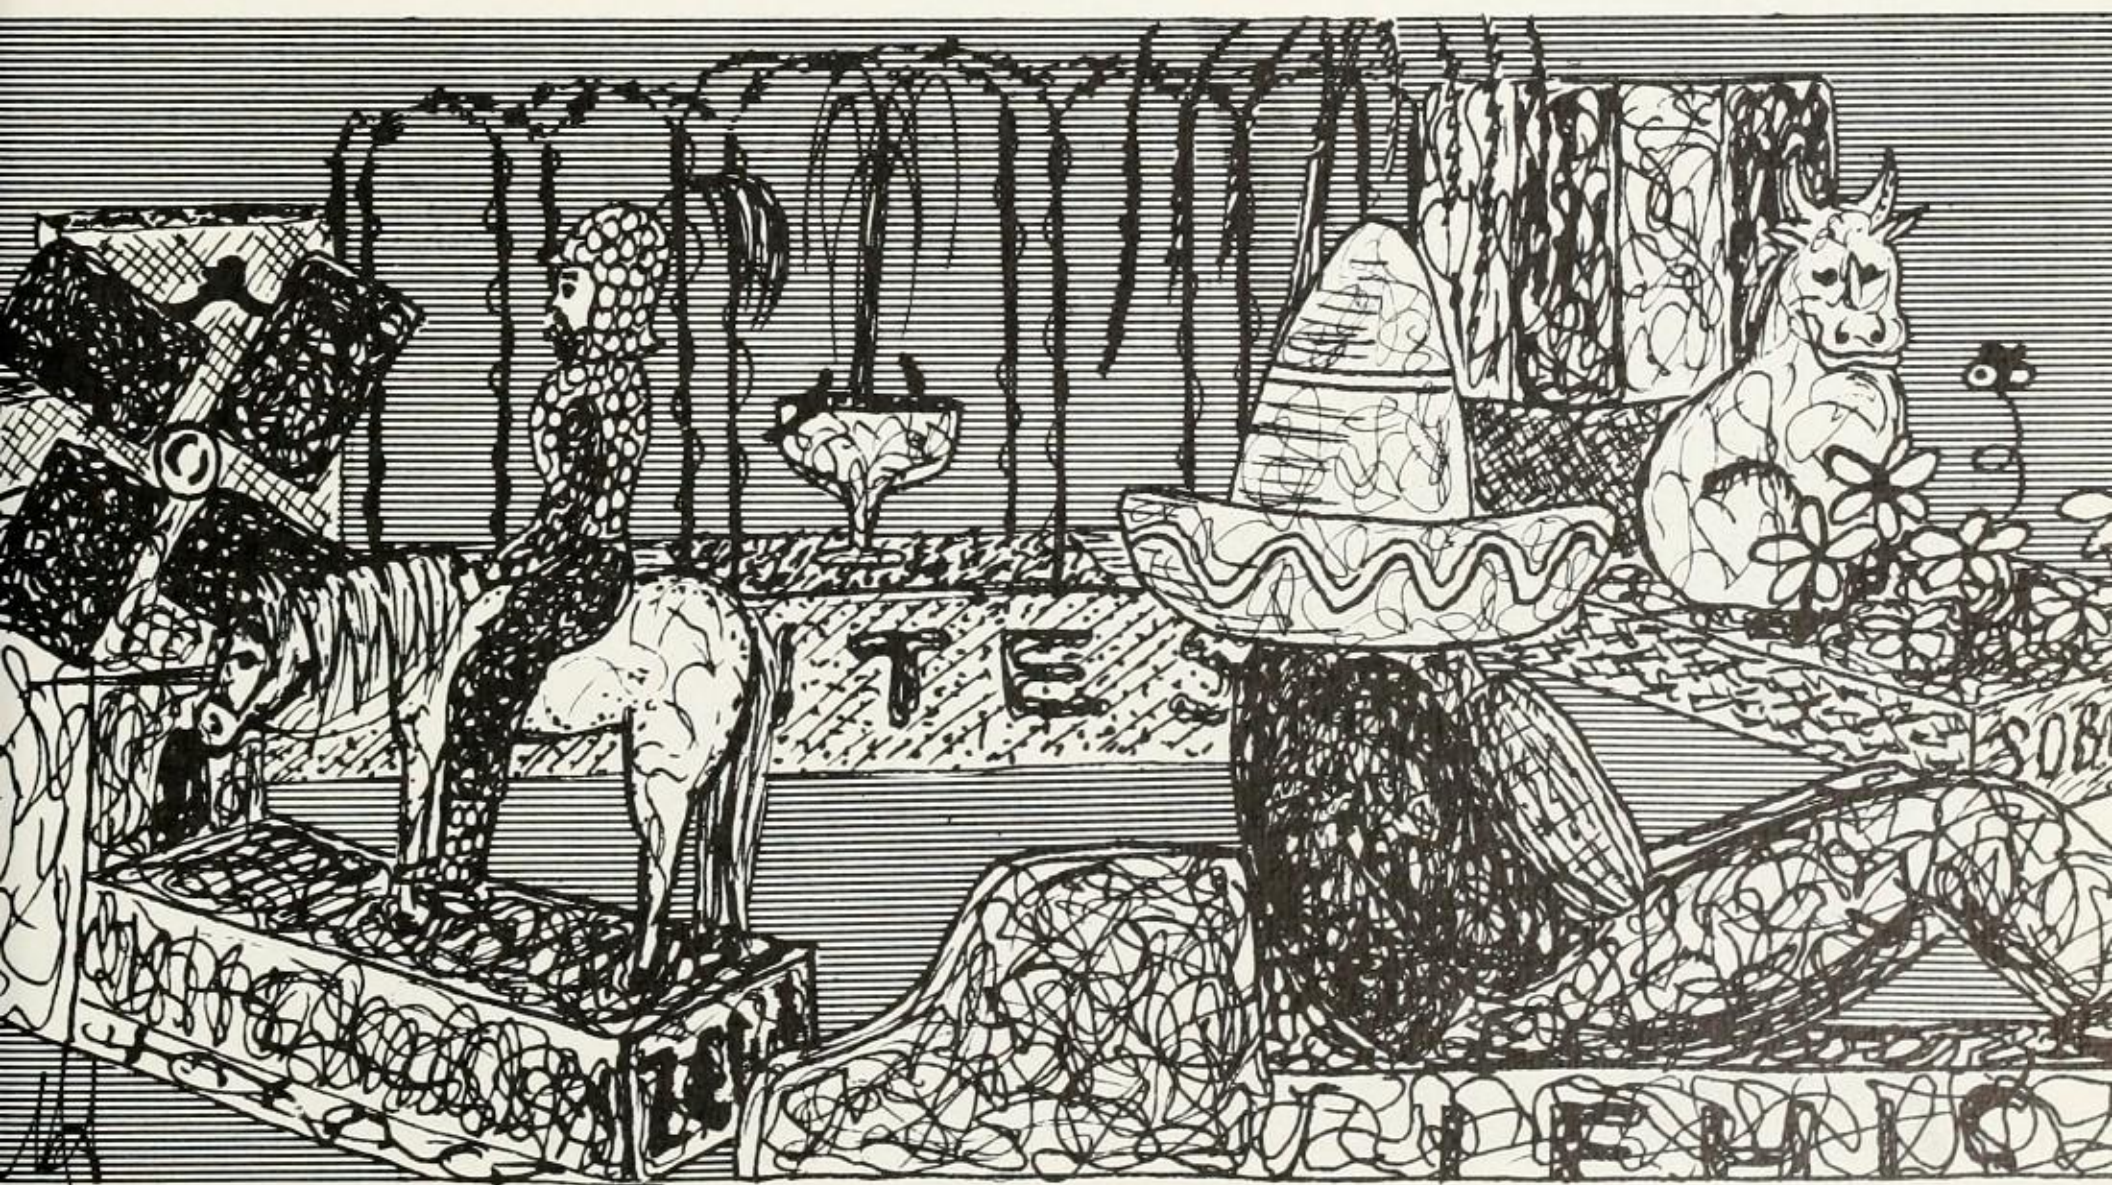

Girls' clubs surpassed Boys' clubs in originality and talent in the 1965 Football Homecoming float competition. In conjunction with the theme, Spanish Splendor, Lehis, the Sweepstakes winner for the fourth consecutive year, produced a large "hombre" relaxing under a huge sombrero with his guitar. "Z" club attained first place in the competition. They entered a depiction of Don Quixote charging a moving windmill. Dantes captured the second place trophy with their portrayal of a lovely Spanish garden. Sobobans with "Ferdinand the Bull", whose head bobbed up and down, won the third place trophy. Thousands and thousands of napkins and hours of work produced these beautiful floats to add to the enjoyment of the spectators for 1965 Football Homecoming ceremonies. At left, three Lehis display sweepstakes trophy.

Many hours
 Many troubles Without powers
 Only bubbles
 Working often
 Free time never Always coughing Health we sever
 Typing,
 Writing,
 Drawing,
 pictures
 Have bad lighting
 We give lectures(?)
 On the evils
 Of poor copy
 Eating weevils
 Food's so sloppy
 Hail to thee
 Annual
 (to hail!)
